-Jenny-

It has been great fun knowing you the past 3 years. Even though we weren't able to be together the second semester of the 9th grade and all year during the 10th grade we can still and always be the best friends. Maybe we can be together during the last of Senior High School, but if not we will always be good friends and always be close. Best of Luck in the near and far future.

Your friend always,
David (65')

Jerry -

You're a winner. Had a lot of fun with you in English this year. Good luck in your junior year.

Danny Hill

Dear Jerry,
I have enjoyed knowing you this year. Next year I hope that we can become better friends. I enjoy talking to you, you're a very interesting person. I hope you have a real nice summer.
Good luck,

ROUND TABLE

Northwest Classen High School
Oklahoma City, Oklahoma
Volume X

Published by the Yearbook
Staff of Northwest Classen

ROUND TABLE

Carefully charted,
from its conception to culmination,
this plan for a "dream school"
became a reality.
Ahead lay incalculable forces viewed with acute anticipation
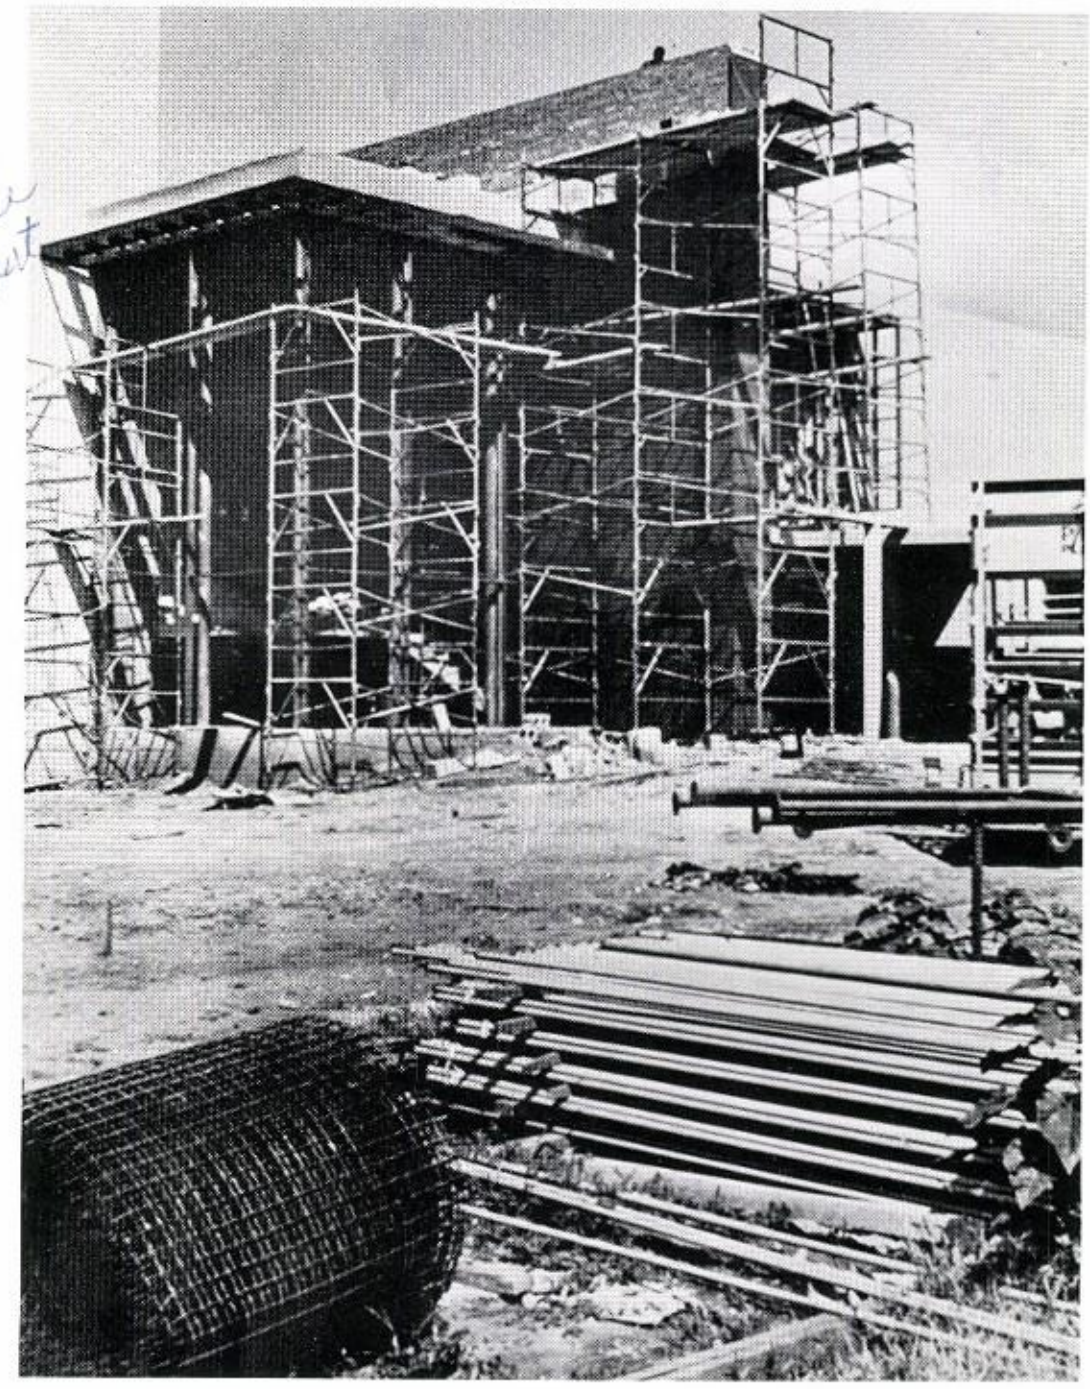
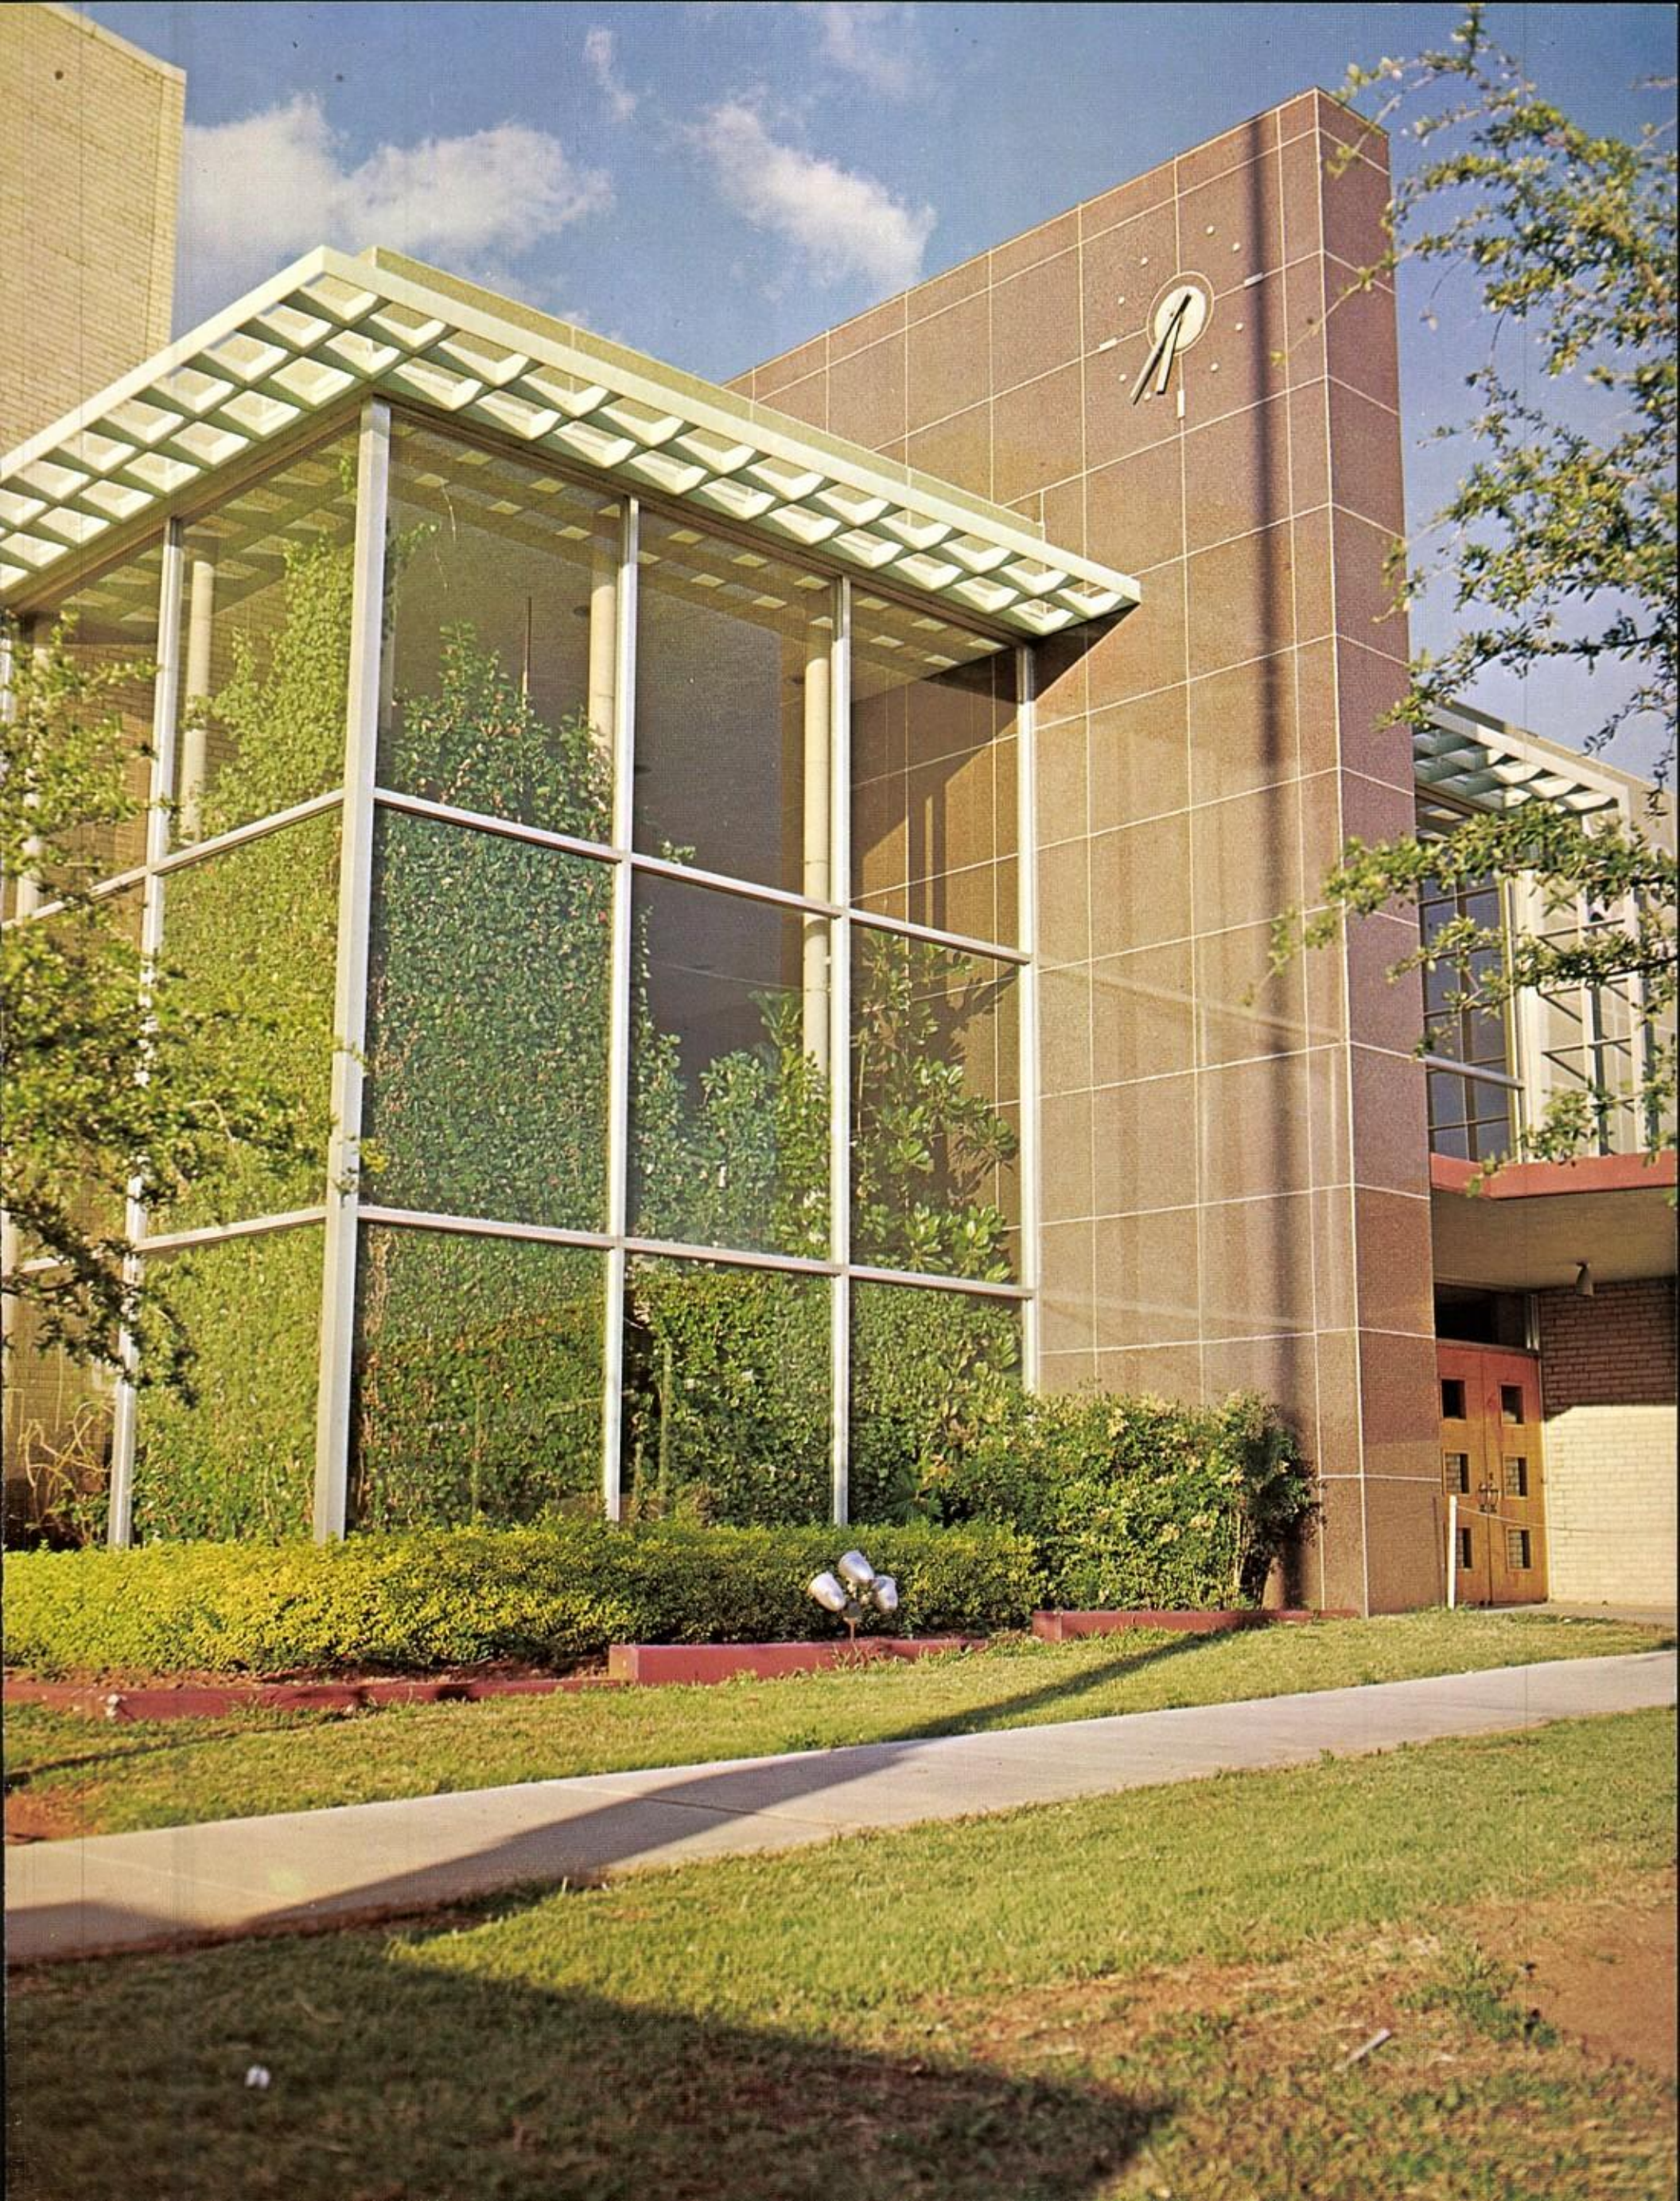
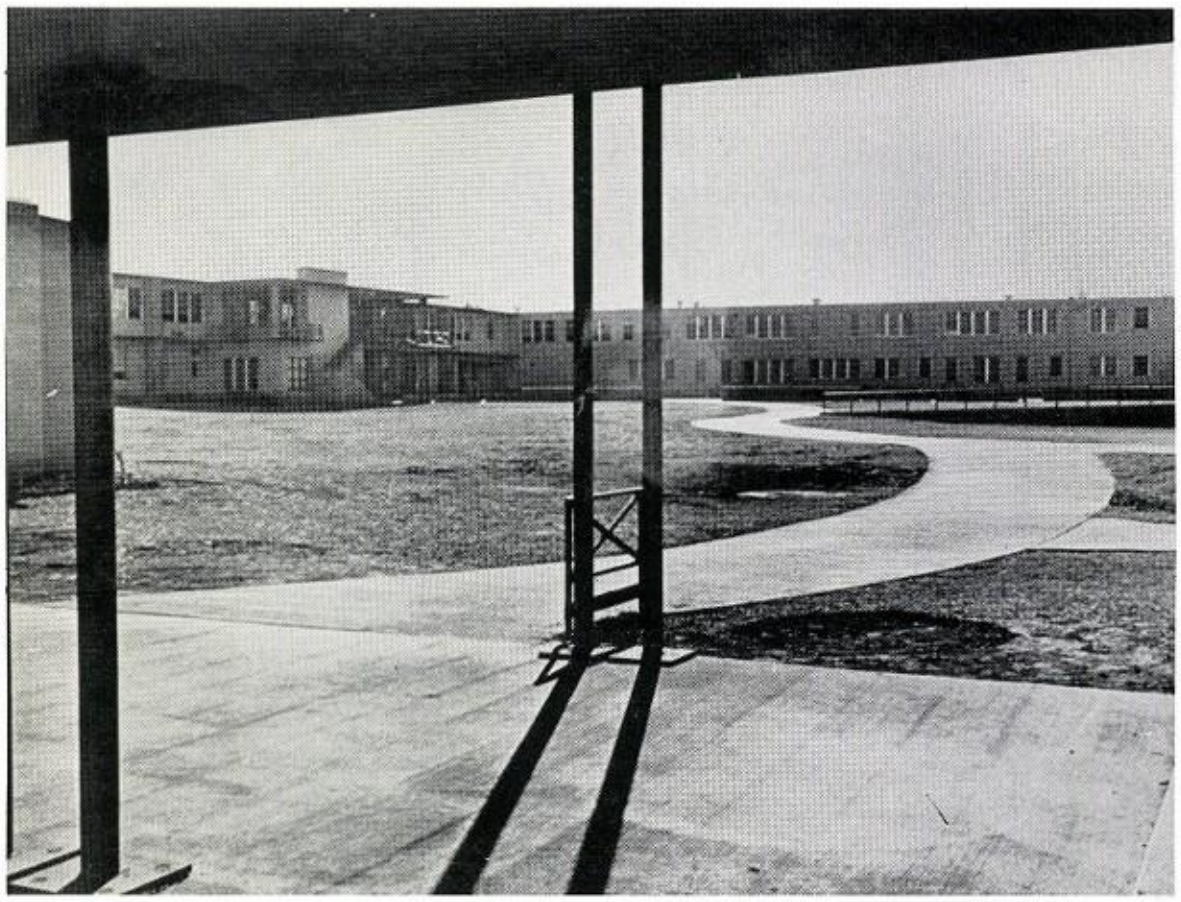
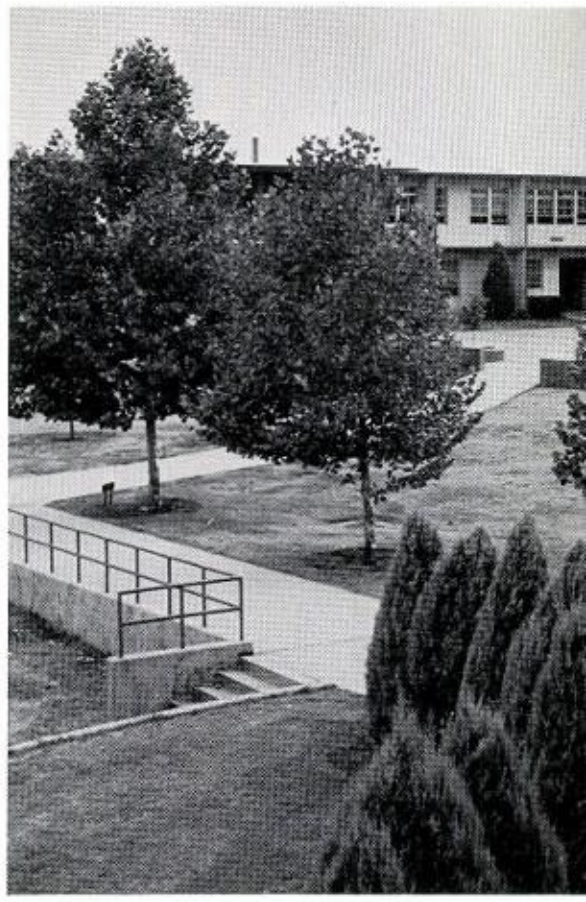
— and a school was born.



SUMMER 1953: Stark, steel frames rose relentlessly, revealing no hint of the splendor which now surrounds the front entrance.







IN ITS FIRST YEAR, Northwest's patio looks bleak and barren compared with today's beautifully landscaped campus.

Dream High School Still Showplace

NOTED FOR taking pride in their school grounds, Knights are reminded to keep off the grass by David Capron, Student Council building and grounds chairman.

IN SEPTEMBER 1955, Oklahoma City's "dream high school"—the new Classen—opened its doors to 1,820 students and 73 teachers. Covering a 40-acre tract, cost of the original plant approached $4,000,000.

Following the letting of bids on December 3, 1953, months of study of outstanding buildings throughout the country preceded actual construction. No effort was spared in incorporating unique architecture, combined with modern, utilitarian design. The result was a school plant that has remained a showplace for a constant stream of visitors for ten years.

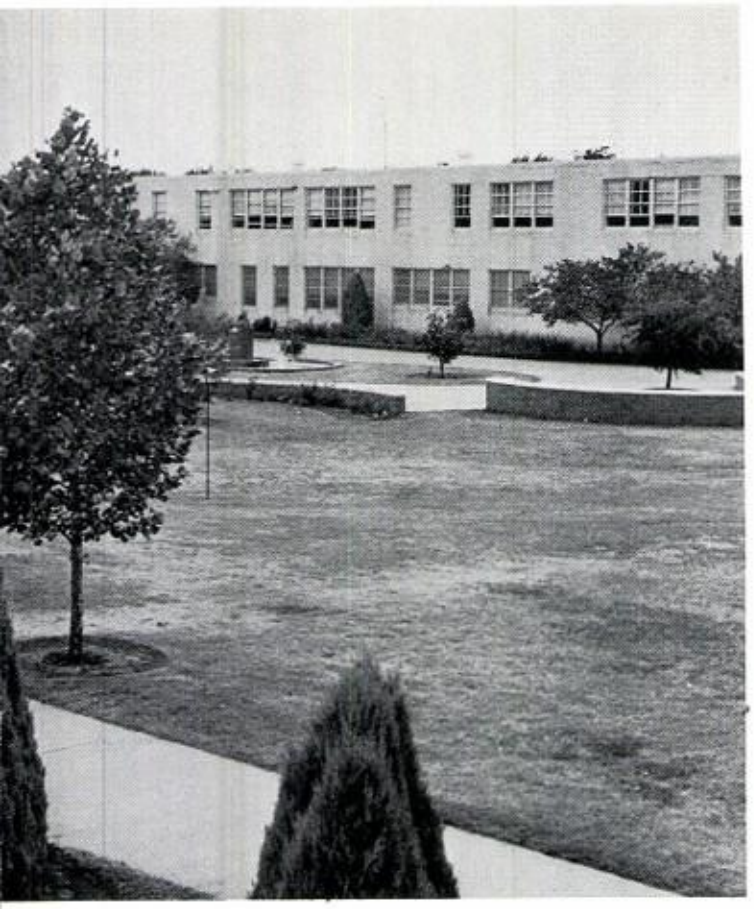
The name "Northwest" was not added to the building until 1960. Many patrons had attended the original Classen; they were eager to retain its name for the famous new school. Some opposition was voiced before the name was changed to avoid constant confusion with what was then referred to as "Old Classen".

Enrollment increased beyond expectations and physical facilities were constantly improved in an effort to meet the needs of Knightland's growing population. In 1964 a $350,000 addition, containing 12 badly needed classrooms, was occupied.

Today Northwest Classen, with its 3,200 students and 105 teachers, stands majestically on a gently sloping hill, surrounded by a beautifully landscaped campus. It is considered an important landmark in this growing metropolis.

But the building is much more than stone and mortar. In ten short years, this educational institution has achieved tremendous state and national recognition. The name "Northwest Classen" is spoken with pride and heard with respect.

In one decade, significant traditions have been established, high academic standards have been set and the record of accomplishment has propelled NWC forward to its present status.

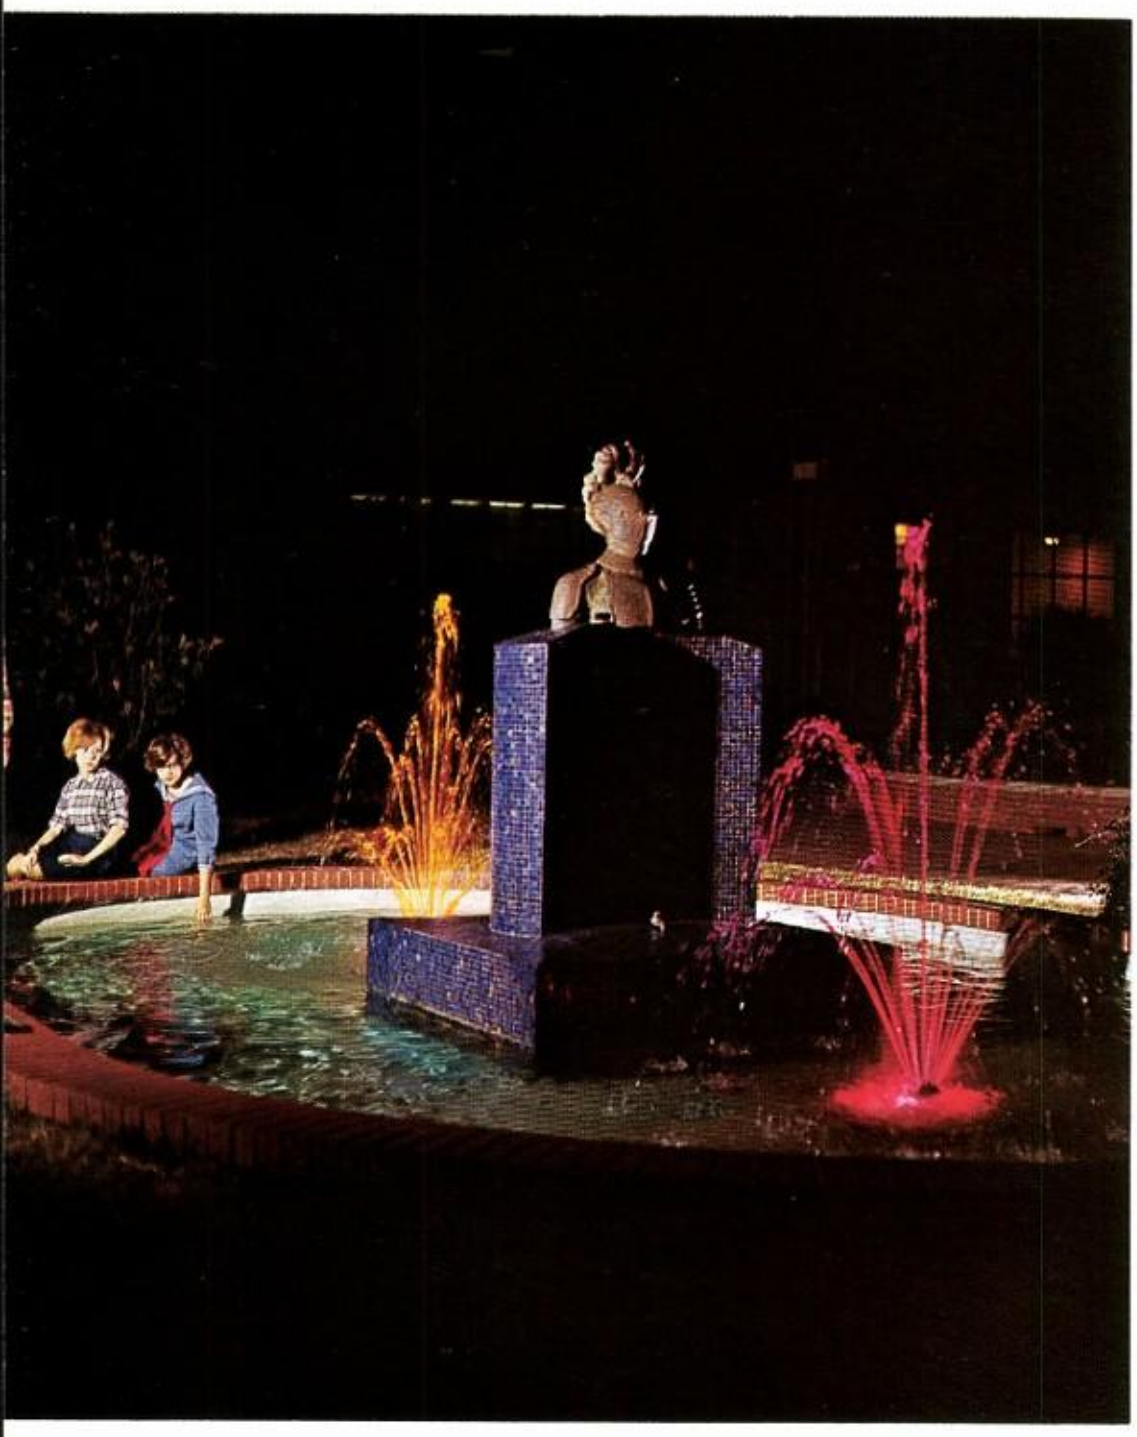


CROSSING the picturesque patio between classes is a refreshing, pleasant experience for hundreds of Knights each day.

in Tenth Year

SINCE Pat Robinson and Johnny Harris entered the newly-completed Northwest Classen that first day in 1955 a wealth of traditions has been established.

CONCEPTION of the new high school followed by all the phases of construction covered a two-year period.



RESPLENDENT with color, the fountain in the patio is the most beautiful spot on the campus at night.

A NEW school motto, reflecting the philosophy of the student body, was adopted and placed in the front hall in May 1963.

Knightland Proud of Traditions

DEDICATION ceremonies were held in May 1963 for Sir Bedivere, Knight's armor, purchased with the combined funds of Classes 1962 and 1964.

A STRONG TRADITION based on the theme of "Knighthood"—this is the product of the sincere pride that we students of Northwest Classen have felt since our school opened in September 1955.

Just as the code of chivalry was revered in Medieval times, we, too, regard our traditions with the highest respect and honor.

This theme of Knighthood is appropriately reflected in every tradition signifying Northwest Classen.

A member of the first graduating class, Miss Jo Ann Garrison, designed the emblem adapted from the order of St. George, one of the most honorable orders of Knighthood. Purple and gold, colors symbolic of Nobility, Achievement, and Victory, were designated school colors.

During the first year school publications, pep clubs, and classes chose names corresponding with the theme.

Other traditions have been added in this first decade. Band director Arthur Johnson composed the "Fight Song" in 1956. The "Alma Mater" was composed by the music theory class in 1957.

Just last year "You-Knighted by Pride and Loyalty" was unanimously voted as the school motto. Parking areas and drives were officially titled this year in a school-wide election.

Rich in tradition, this ten-year old school reflects the strong bond that has united all Knights and Ladies since its beginning.

EMBLEM of proud Knighthood—the most cherished school symbol—serves as a fitting background as Dave Elder, Student Council president, presides at assembly.

Established in Its First Decade

FUNDS from The Million Penny Roundup campaign, in memory of a cancer victim who had anticipated attending NWC, provided shrubbery and trees for the patio.

ADDING to the festivities at football games are the Knight and Lady on horseback. Diana Simpson and Mike Robertson carried Knightland's colors on the track this year.

"AND WHAT may I do for you?" Something new was added in the main office this year when Mr. Leon Crowley, administrative intern, greeted students each morning with a friendly smile.

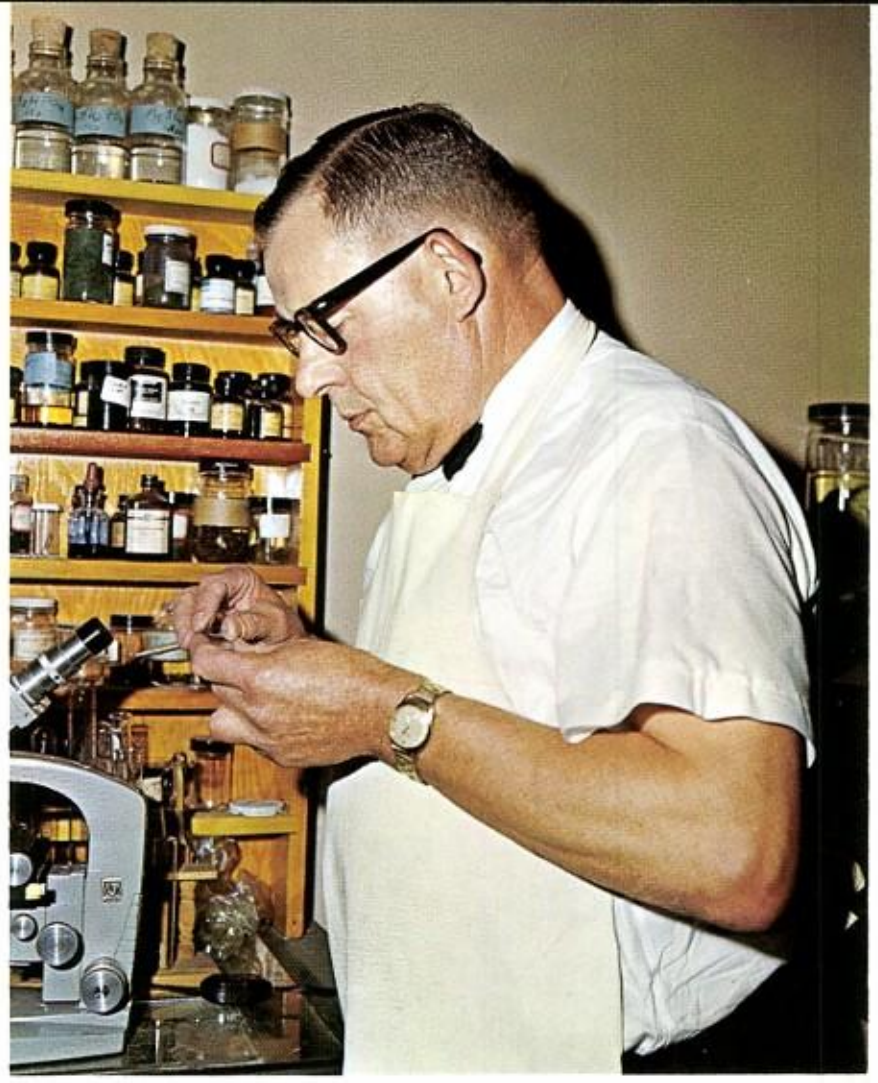
Personalities, Classes, Activities Create

CLUBS AND CLASSES take advantage of fall and spring weather for outings. Key and Courtesy club members held their annual weiner roast at Lincoln Park.

PAUSING in the hall during advisory devotional, students display the dignity and deportment characteristic of Knights.

PTSA OPEN HOUSES found hundreds of bewildered parents hunting for rooms as they followed students' schedules.

Image of NWC



TEACHER OF THE YEAR in Oklahoma City for 1964 was NWC's biology instructor, Mr. John Paden. He was selected by the Northwest faculty before winning the city title in competition with a teacher-nominee from each school.

FOLK MUSIC proved to be a mutual interest of AFS student Bernd Hagenberg, from Hanover, Germany, and Dick Padberg, his American brother.

SPIRIT was fueled by a bonfire built in the new pit before the Douglass game. Kanda Kirkwood is illuminated by the firelight.

TRYING OUT the monorail, the State Fair's new, novel attraction, are Shirin Sadigh-Ershdi, exchange student from Iran, and Marcy Eagin, her American sister.

SUPPORT of community projects has always been given by Knights. Key clubber Jim Cheatham and Courtesy club member Helen Reinheimer receive a United Appeal contribution from Mrs. Jack Moses.

Expressions of Devotion Found Throughout NWC

LOVE of our school has been shown in many ways. Gifts have been presented by individuals, groups, graduating classes, and memorial projects.

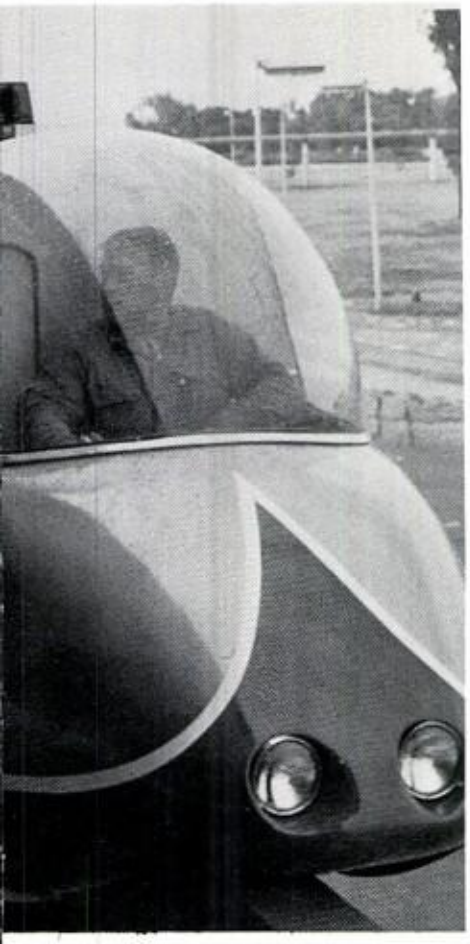
From the memorial flagpole and library room, to furniture, book carts, draperies, shrubbery, fountain, and trees, expressions of devotion to NWC are found throughout the building and grounds.

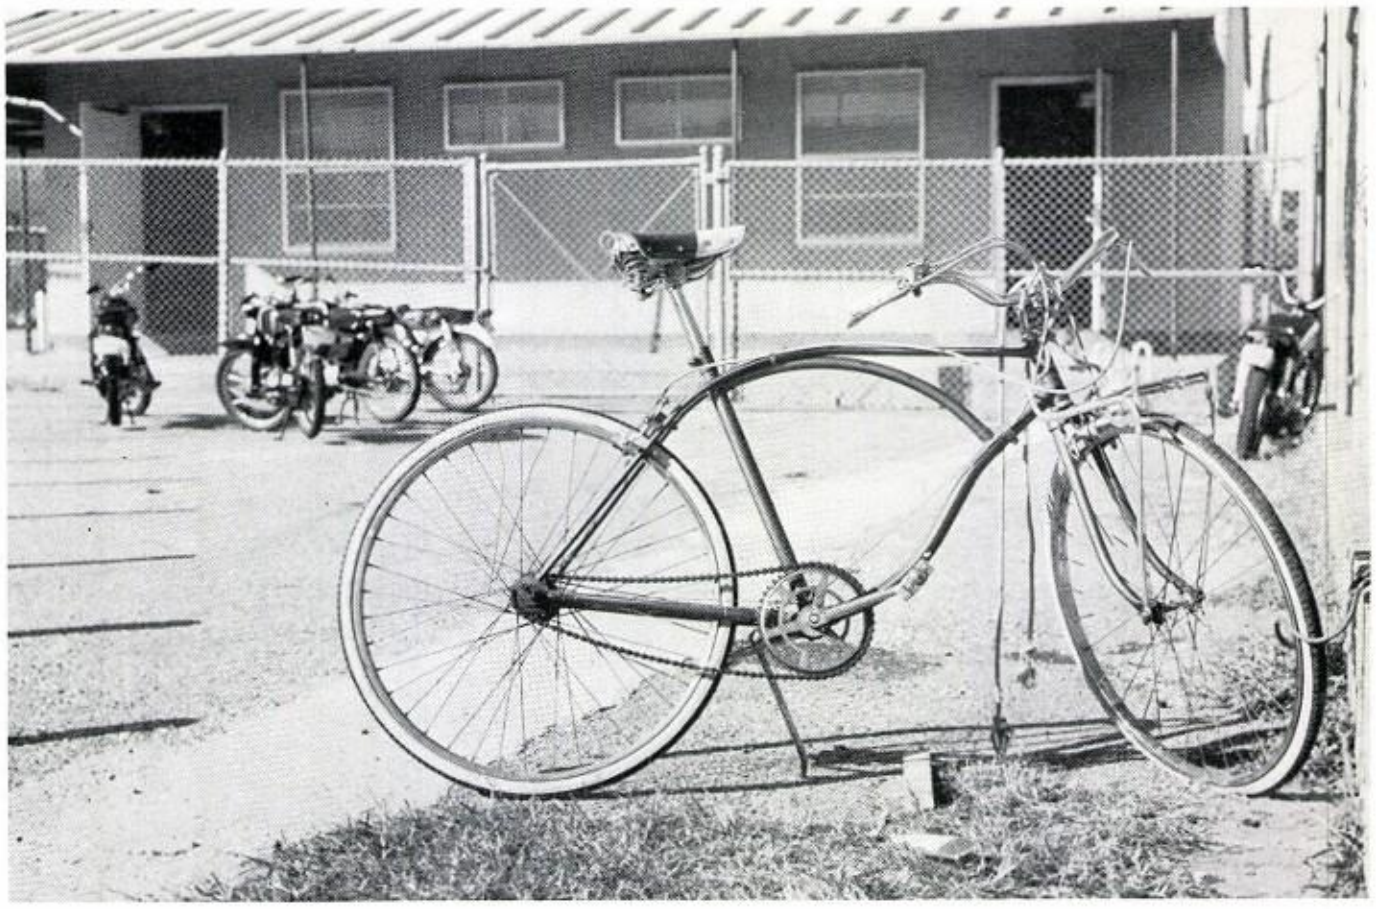
The American Field Service program has contributed a great deal to the cultural growth of the school. Parents and students have strongly supported this rewarding project.

A spirit of unity has always been the motivating force for NWC students, whether it be in the enthusiastic furor of a cheering section, or the quiet pride of reading "Northwest Classen" in the newspaper.

Northwest boasts the nation's largest PTSA membership; the highest number of publication packets in state high schools are sold here each year.

Never satisfied with the easily attainable, Knights have always reached out for that "something better," only achieved by the persevering. The state and national honors received each year by NWC students surprises none of us; we do no less than our best, and we expect the same of others.





BICYCLE RACKS by the tennis courts once received heavy patronage. Now one lone bicycle contrasts with the hundreds of cars in the crowded parking lots.

EVERYONE gets into the act at the PTSA mixer in the patio celebrating the end of a highly successful membership drive.

The image of Northwest Classen is created and molded
by its administration and faculty.
Tremendous strides have been made in curriculum development in the school's first decade.

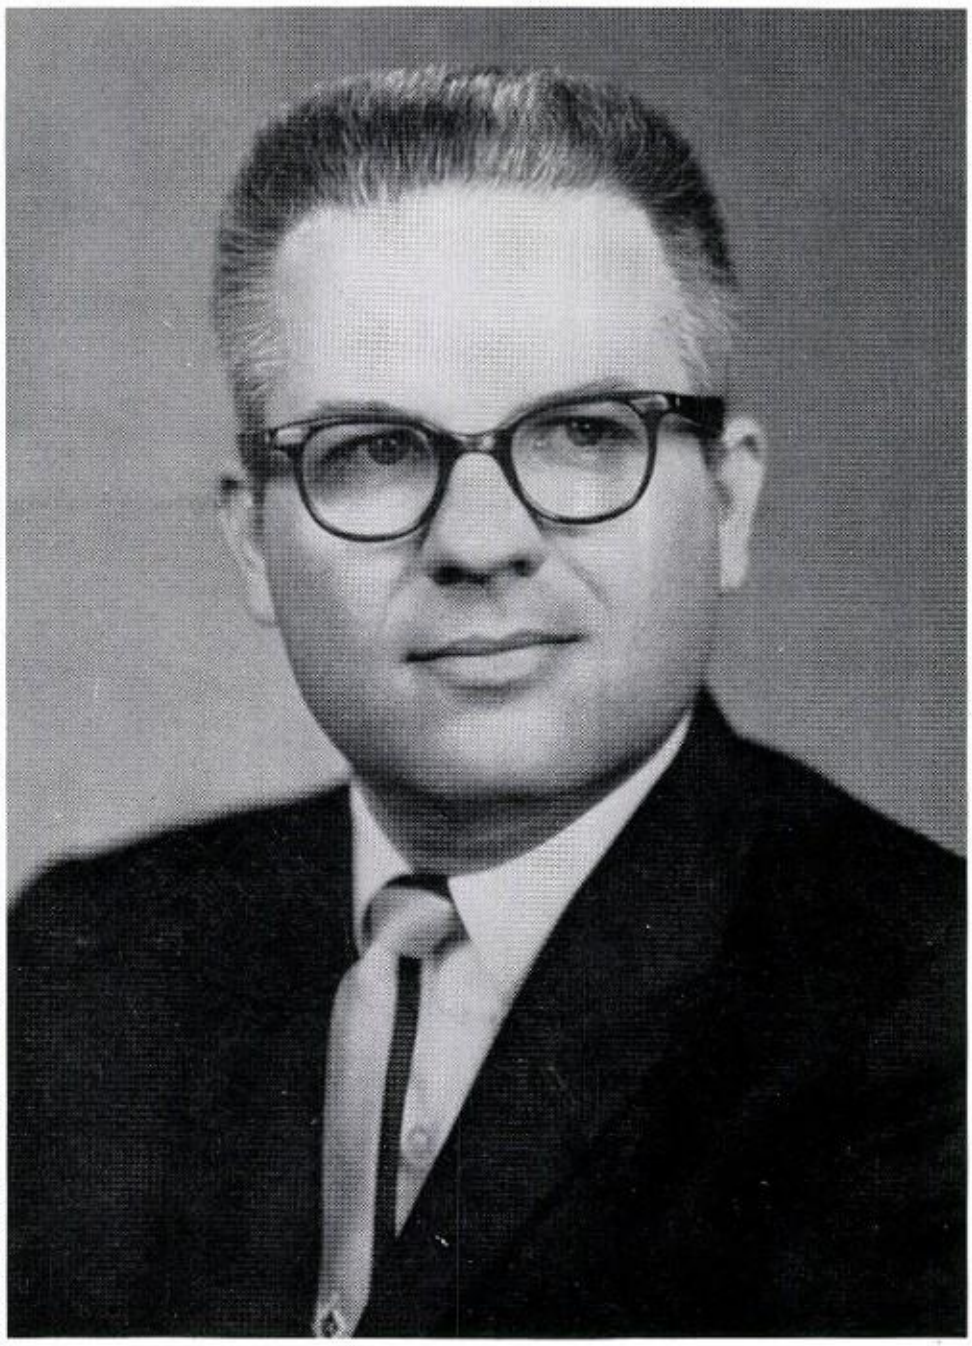
OKLAHOMA CITY'S MUSHROOMING school system means added responsibilities for Dr. Parker, now in his fourth year as school superintendent.



DR. JACK F. PARKER
Superintendent of Schools

Superintendent Directs Vast School Program

PROOF that Oklahoma City's schools are big business is evidenced in the fact that the fast-growing school system serves over 74,000 students in 107 schools. These schools are staffed by some 2,774 certified personnel and 291 secretaries. Total budget for the school district is $22,767,000, an increase of almost $800,000 over last year's amount.

Under Dr. Parker's direction, tremendous progress and expansion have transpired in all phases of the schools' program: construction, curriculum, teacher evaluation and training, educational TV, installation of modern facilities, and development of the entire instructional program.

BOARD OF EDUCATION members make final decisions on all matters affecting the schools.

This governing body includes a housewife, oil company attorney, industrialist, experimental farm superintendent and banker. Four of the members are elected for four-year terms; the other one is a member-at-large, who serves two years.

Administrative Team Keeps Pace With Growth

COMPETENT AND ABREAST of the times, NWC's principal, along with the administrative and counseling staff, worked diligently to keep pace with the ever-growing needs of 3,200 students.

A portion of this staff remained on duty 12 months of the year and continued working on enrollment and scheduling from June to September. Thus, the numerous details of closing one year and opening another gave round-the-calendar duties to the "front office" personnel.

Mr. Malone gained recognition for himself, Northwest Classen, and Oklahoma when he was elected to the seven-member national executive committee of the National Secondary School Principals Association at the Chicago convention last year. The only Oklahoman ever selected for this office, Mr. Malone served this year as a consultant for overseas schools for dependents.

THE ASSISTANT PRINCIPALS have special responsibilities in school administration; however, they function as a team, working with the principal to help formulate school policies, develop new procedures, and help teachers and students with individual problems. All administrators were involved in the teacher-evaluation program.

Counselors too, had special assignments. In addition to providing individual counseling, they maintained a strong testing program and supplied college bound students with scholarships and entrance requirement information.

Big, Progressive Staff Provides Rich Program

THE SMOOTH OPERATION of Northwest Classen depended heavily upon the leadership of the 132-member staff. Consisting of three administrators, one administrative intern, six counselors, activities director, nurse, two librarians, vocational rehabilitation director, 104 classroom teachers and 13 secretaries, the school personnel was completed by 24 cafeteria and 19 custodial workers.

It is the philosophy of this staff that learning is a two-way street. Faculty members and students exchange ideas and experiences. Advanced and special courses to fit a wide range of individual needs are offered here.

Constant attention is directed toward revitalizing the curriculum. Teachers participate in workships and seminars in their effort to improve teaching techniques.

New devices have been used and equipment installed to implement modern methods of instruction.

Demands of All Types Keep Teachers on Toes

INVOLVED in all Knightland projects is Miss Kathleen Owen, activities director, who confers with Bill Patterson, SC chairman of the Book Fair.

"JOINERS" in the best sense of the word, NWC's faculty boasted 100% membership in OEA, 90% in NEA, and 91% in Oklahoma City Classroom Teachers Association.

Top professional posts were held by staff members. Mr. Marcotte was elected president of the Foreign Language Division of District OEA; Mrs. Miller was chosen vice president of the state OEA Home Economics section. Mrs. Allred served on the Executive Council of the state Speech Association, while Mrs. Davidson was a director for the state board of OEA mathematics.

State textbook committee memberships were held by Miss Truax and Mrs. Burdette.

Because of outstanding achievements in their field, several members of the faculty received grants and scholarships for advanced study last summer. Six teachers traveled abroad.

In addition to the duties of teaching subject matter, faculty members enjoyed family responsibilities and participated in church and community activities. They crowded into their busy lives advanced courses to complete higher degrees; and they took time out for travel, relaxation, and hobbies.

Hospitality Traditional by NW Service Staffs

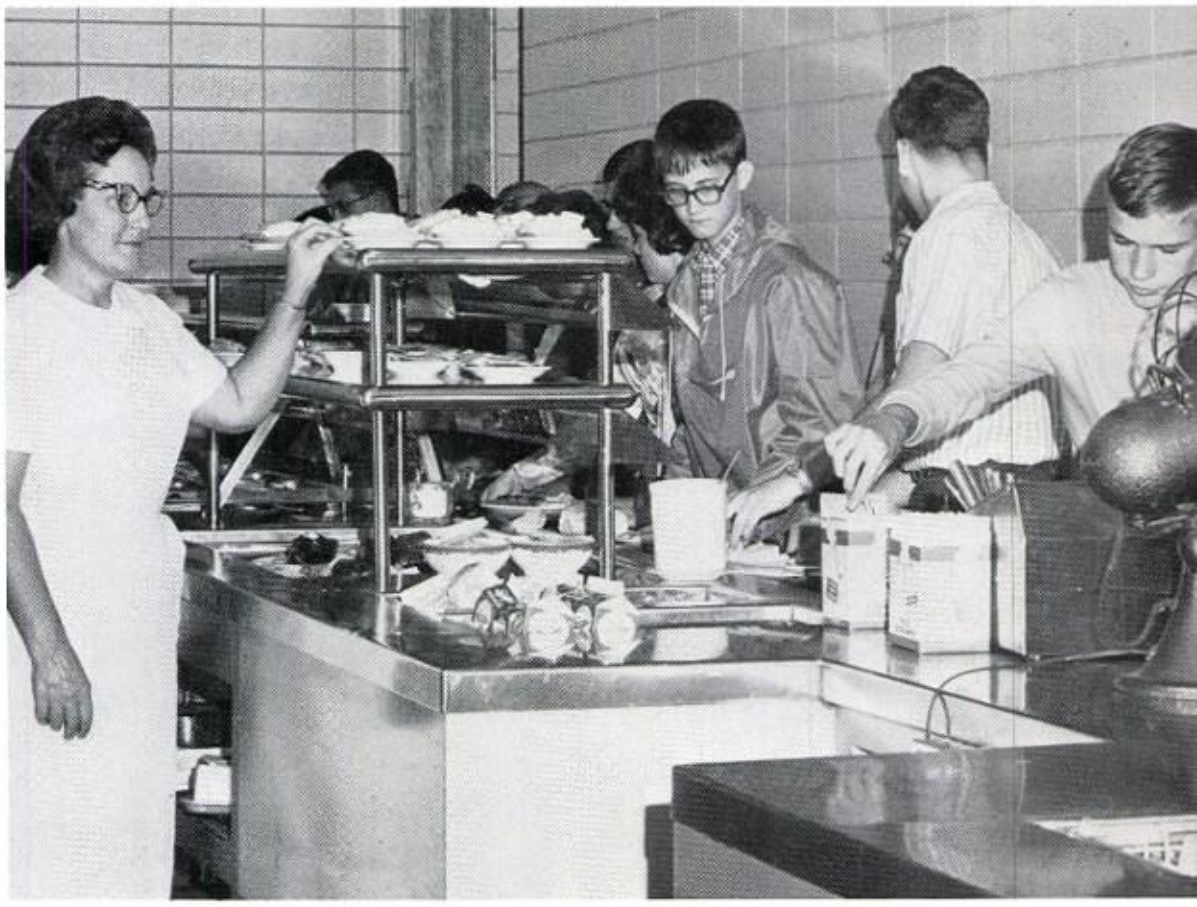
BECAUSE NWC has been a showplace for visitors since its opening ten years ago, special emphasis has been placed on keeping the building and campus in tip-top shape, ready for official inspection at all times. The Knights' hospitality has been commended by numerous guests.

Pride in maintaining a beautiful building and grounds soon became a tradition as Knights have continually enhanced the school by adding attractive accessories. Each graduating class has contributed to this progress.

The problem of heating and maintenance has increased with the opening of the new addition. Crews must work around the clock to keep Knightland clean and warm.

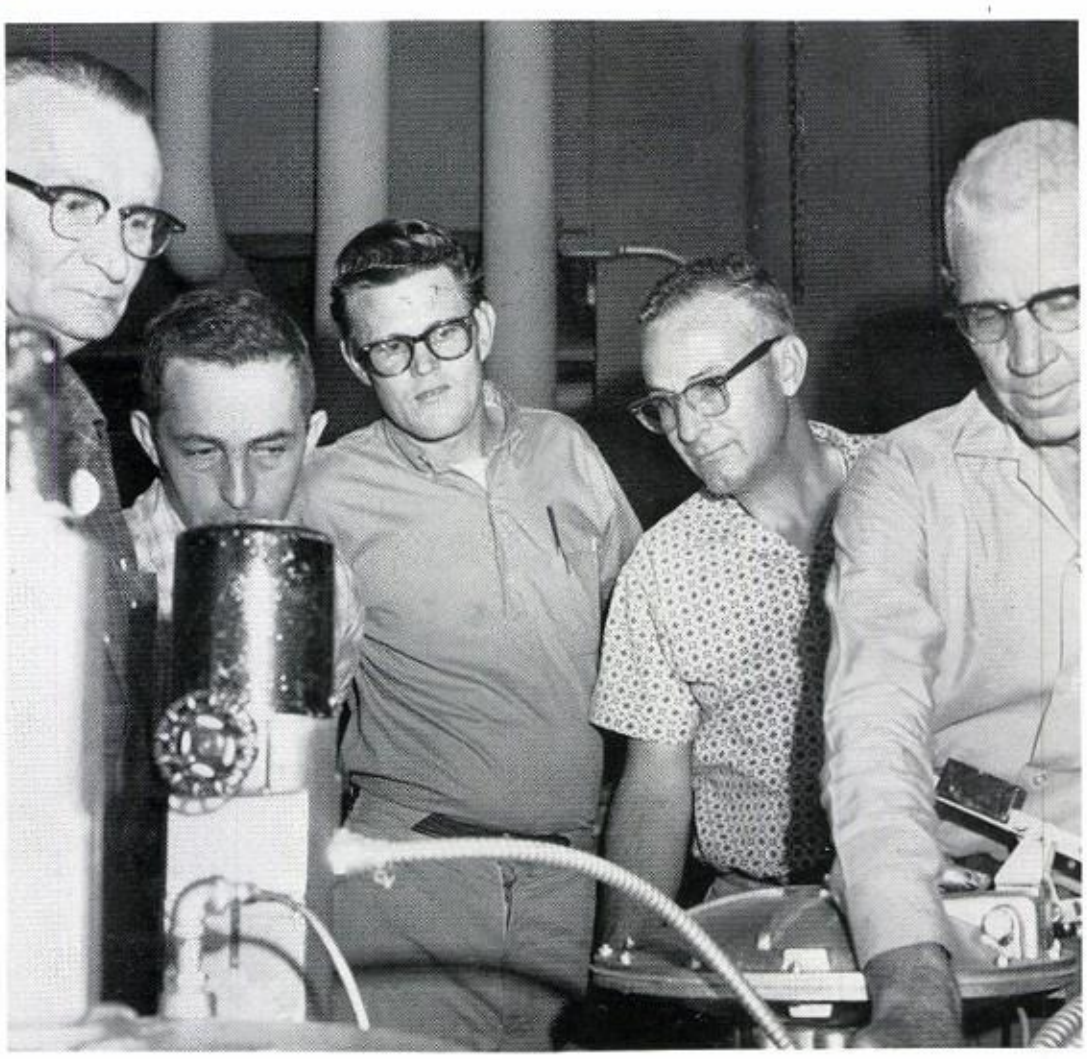
Increased enrollment has put added burdens on the cafeteria staff as seven lunch periods, in staggered order, keep the cafeteria lines long.

Special meetings and dinners are held at Northwest frequently since it is the largest school plant in this area. Although this necessitates extra work hours for the custodial and cafeteria staffs, they cooperate whole-heartedly in providing service for guests.

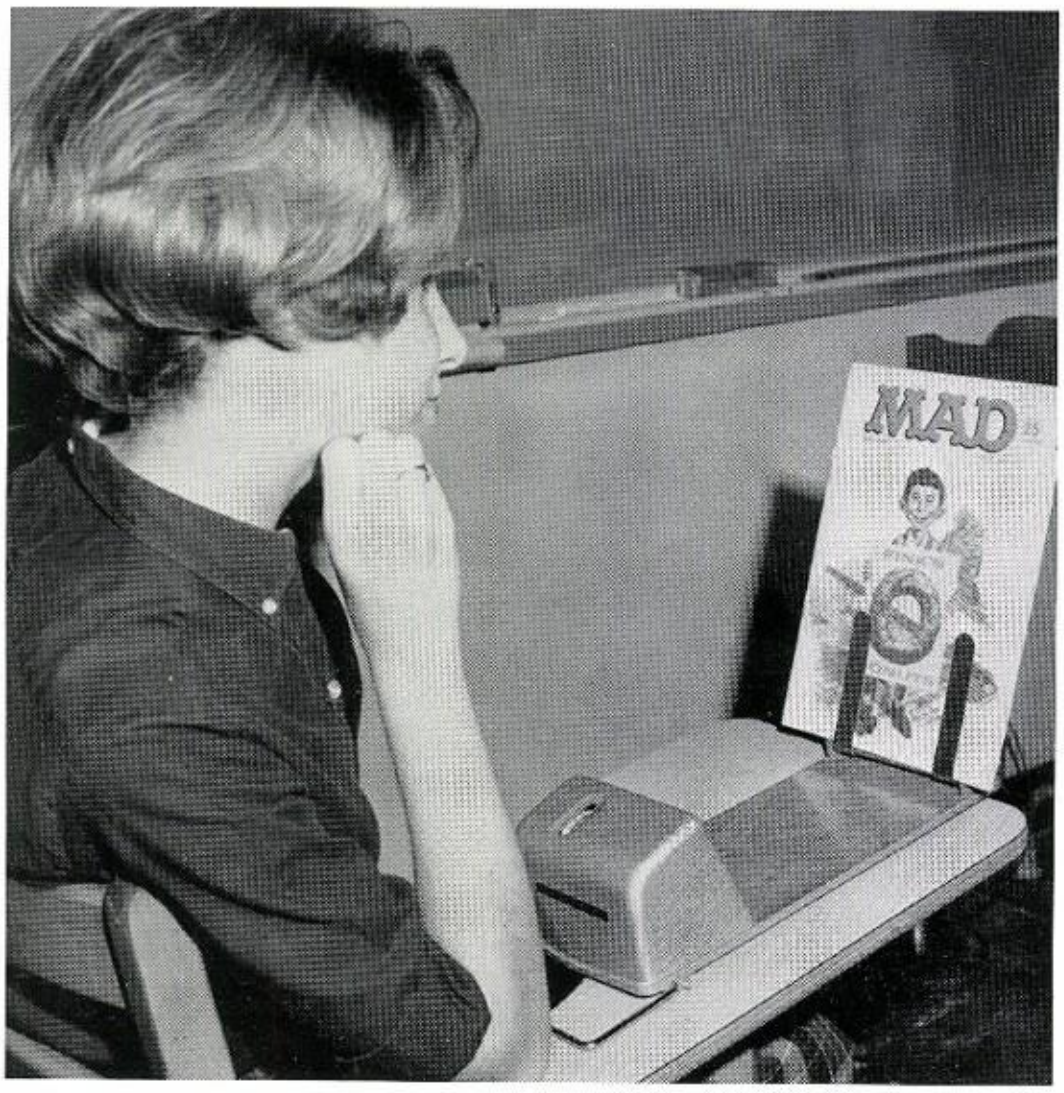


HUNGRY students swarm into the cafeteria at lunchtime where they are served by 24 cafeteria workers, directed by Mrs. Iva Bentley, manager.

TOPS on the list of students' favorite foods are hot rolls and cinammon rolls. Mrs. Jessie Dorst and Mrs. Margie Mayfield prepare for lunch lines.



CHECKING and maintaining equipment is just one of the many responsibilities of the custodial staff. Five of the 19-man crew are Wayne O'Donley, Doug Roden, floormen; Glen Johnson, engineer; Raymond Tarter, asst. head custodian and Sam Teague, head of the staff.



FINDING new interest in her reading assignment is junior Vivian Vahlberg, member of Mrs. Lanier's new experimental English class. Students used machines devised to increase reading rate and comprehension.

TEAM classes were effective because specialties of teachers could be utilized to better advantage. Mrs. Williamson and Mr. Ohmart instructed a freshman English team class.

"THERE MUST be inspiration here somewhere." Having exhausted conventional subject matter, Jo Brown, Connie Hill, Greg Lowry, and Mike Mahan, members of Miss Martha Truax's Creative Writing class, search for unique topics to fulfill assignments.

Concentrated Efforts Stress National Trend

THAT NOTHING should supersede the teaching of the language arts was the basic intent of the faculty of this vital department. A balanced program emphasized grammar and rhetoric on the one hand and literary highlights on the other.

Following the prescribed freshman, sophomore and junior courses, seniors were permitted the choice of reviewing technical English, surveying the world's literature in Great Books, or exploring Creative Writing.

Alert to the national trend of stressing communication skills, teachers participated in workshops concerning remedial reading, structural linguistics and team teaching.

After careful evaluation, students were channeled into basic, average, or honors English classes.

Leaders in professional organizations were Mr. Don Gardner, vice president of Oklahoma City Council of Teachers of English; Miss Martha Truax, board of director for the third year of the State English Council; and Miss Doris Taylor, who served as consultant for workshops at Central State College and Phillips University. Miss Taylor and Mrs. Vivian Lanier authored articles which appeared in professional publications.

Journalists Produce Portrait of School

PUSHING to beat deadlines becomes second nature to publication staffs, enrolled in Journalism II and III, for the purpose of publishing the school paper and yearbook, respectively.

Two Journalism I classes received training in the fundamentals of newswriting. In the spring, these auxiliary classes produced one issue of The Shield.

Representatives from all journalism classes attended Oklahoma City and Oklahoma Interscholastic Press Association meetings. Twelve scribes journeyed to Chicago Thanksgiving for the National Scholastic Press Association convention.

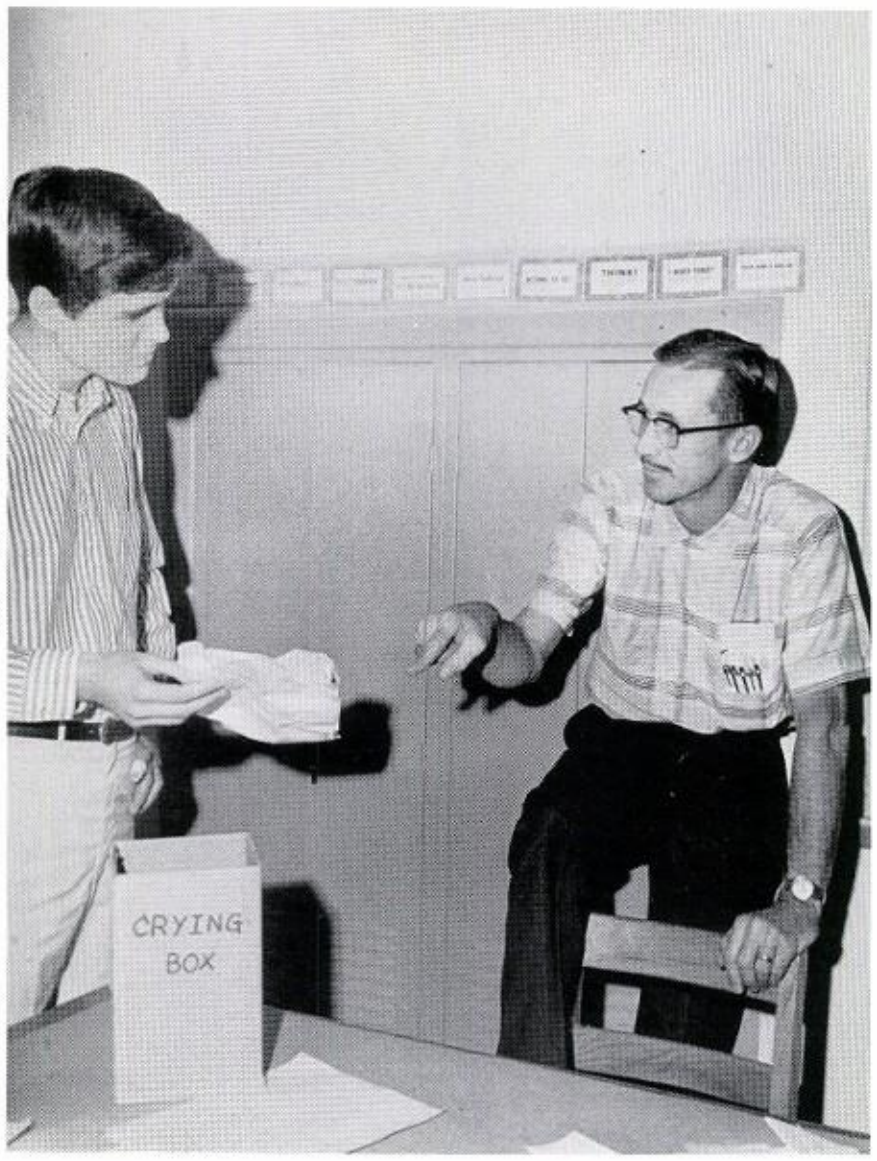
One of the most important goals of the department is to supply press releases and strive to achieve good public relations for the school and community.

"I DON'T care if you do have a by-line on page one. Get busy and start folding," Co-editor Sammie Vinson reprimands her preoccupied crew; Vivian Vahlberg, Ann Taylor, and Lynn MacDonald.

COMMEMORATING National Newspaper Week, school journalists Lynn McDonald, Diana Moses, and Gary Mahagan decorate a showcase window. Diana served as art editor for both publications.

A BIG MOMENT for Round Table editor Della Filson was the October 16 OIPA luncheon at OU when she accepted "Highest Honors" for the '64 Round Table. Dr. Joe Holland, head of OU's journalism department, made the presentation.

"SOMETHING seems to be missing." Claudia Medley puzzles over pieces of a geometric figure as Sterling Kueffer tries to help.



"OKAY, bud, drop it there." Math analysis instructor, Mr. St. Dizier, points out to Andy Mason his new crying box for disgruntled students. Andy wants to complain about his test grade.

MATH TEACHERS Bennie Heinrich and Jane Darrough "don't mind a bit" their job of stamping and numbering some 2,300 new math books. For the first time in school history, all new books were issued to math students.

'Depth' Appreciation Accented in Math

SYSTEMATIC methods of reasoning and the necessity of "depth" comprehension were accented in both the general and advanced courses from basic math through algebra, geometry and math analysis. Students were made aware of the values of the subject in its everyday applications as well as being stimulated to investigate other scientific fields.

Concerned with the stronger demands of colleges for stepped-up programs on the secondary level, the mathematics faculty completed detailed courses of study for each level.

One hundred nineteen students were enrolled in advanced courses in analytic geometry. Mrs. Chesher and Mrs. Ecton were two of the seventeen teachers in the state teaching this course under the direction of the Oklahoma State University Experimental Center.

Updated Methods Clue Language Students

PULLING down the language barrier has become a top concern in recent nationwide studies. Northwest's nine language teachers placed special emphasis on clear communication in the knowledge of its importance in international understanding.

First year French, Spanish, German, and Latin students accomplished a basic comprehension of structure and vocabulary to be followed in the second and third years by increased reading skills, intense conversational practice, and comprehensive cultural study of the peoples involved.

Recording booths gave students the opportunity to hear their language spoken properly. Lessons were recorded and speech difficulties ironed out in updated laboratory methods. In addition, all courses of study sought a level of conversational "ease" and a wide acquaintance with the history, peoples, attitudes, problems, and literature of the French, Spanish, German, and Latin countries.

"ALTOGETHER NOW, 1, 2, 3 . . ." French classes, directed by Mr. Marcotte, celebrated the holiday season by singing French Christmas carols in the halls.

LANGUAGE LABS greatly aid students by giving them the opportunity of hearing the language as spoken by the natives and of speaking without being self-conscious. David Gibbs takes advantage of the modern facilities.

STORIES about gendarmes particularly fascinate freshman French students as they listen to their teacher, Mrs. Sandra Glomset, tell about her summer travels. Beth Hendry, Carol Sharpley, and Don Tidholm dream of foreign adventure.

"THIS ONE reminds me of a purple dragon." Dan Pope and Susan Crudup examine ink blots, psychologist Rorschach's method of analyzing personality. School psychology classes studied scientific theories of human behavior.

Broader Views Sought Through Social Studies

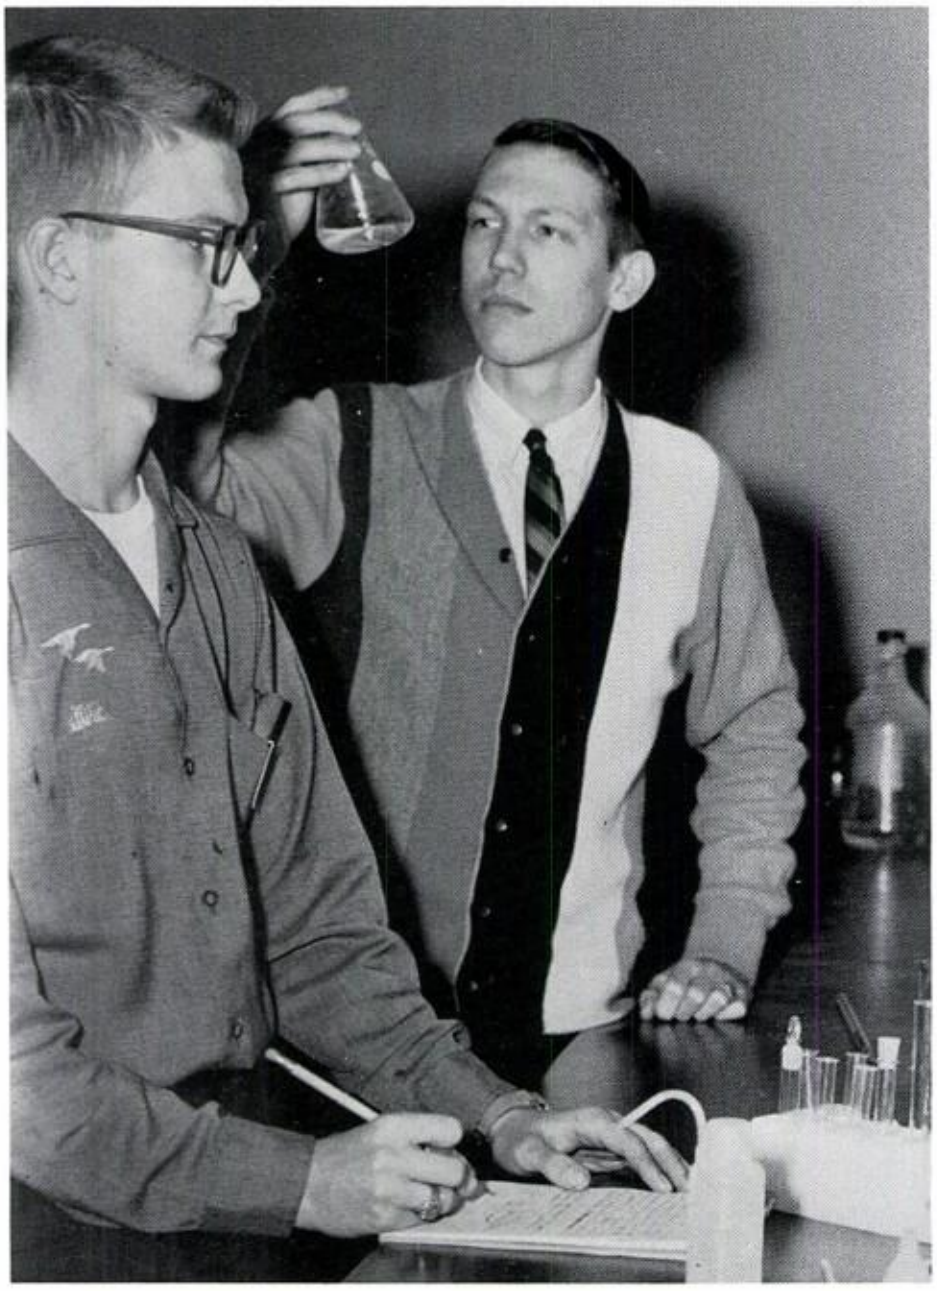
BY BECOMING more aware of the fundamental principles of democracy and the steps the American people took in choosing this form of government, students of social studies were better able to interpret the political and economic struggles of the day.

Ninth graders took Oklahoma history; sophomores were required to take U.S. history, and juniors, world history. Other courses offered were world problems, government, and psychology.

Team and television for social studies classes challenged students and teachers alike, requiring expert listening and note taking.

Stress was also placed on preparing citizens of tomorrow for the many problems they will encounter. Filmstrips, slides, maps, and current publications were utilized by teachers in their presentation of the cultural and historical background of the countries studied. Several teachers who have traveled abroad showed their slides to classes.

HIGHLIGHTING Mr. Blackburn's government class's excursion to the State Capitol was their meeting Sen. Cleeta John Rogers and witnessing "government in action" while the legislature was in session.



MEMBERS OF KNI-SEM, Roger Thornton and Pat Campbell, compare notes on data for their project. Mr. Brown's science seminar class adopted the 'Kni-Sem' label this year.

Science Classes Turn to Inquiry, Research

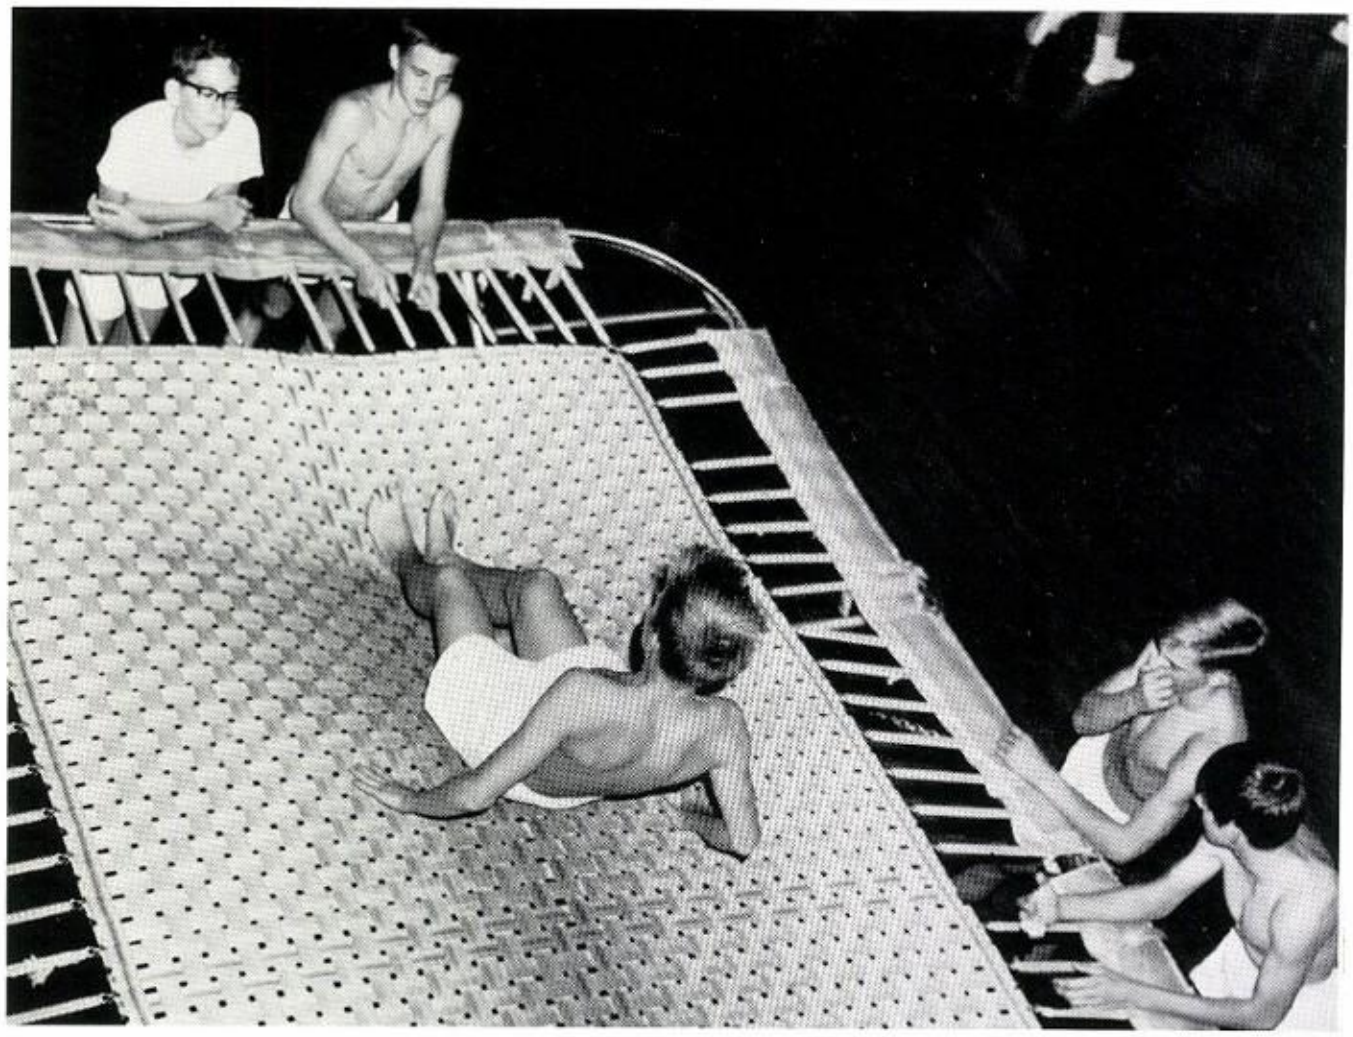
WHAT MAKES it tick? Where'd it come from? What's it made of? are questions that confront mankind from the cradle to the grave.

Northwest's forty-five classes of general science, biology, physics, chemistry, and science seminar were crowded with students eager to understand the present day's emphasis on both the physical and natural sciences.

Especially on lab days, there was excitement in the air. In a laboratory a student could discover and prove, by himself and for his own satisfaction, that the laws in the book actually work. And there, abstract ideas became clear through practical graphic demonstrations.

Science students took advantage of facilities outside of school, often taking tours of local installations having scientific interest. The annual Science Fair stimulated out-of-class experimentation and research.

NO PLACE for squeamish stomachs is the biology lab where Cliff Nigh, Sue Smith, and Mike Finucane examine the circulatory system of a beef heart.



TRAMPOLINE antics are studied by members of the Boys Gym classes as a regular part of the physical education program.

Phys Ed Program Offers Well-Rounded Agenda

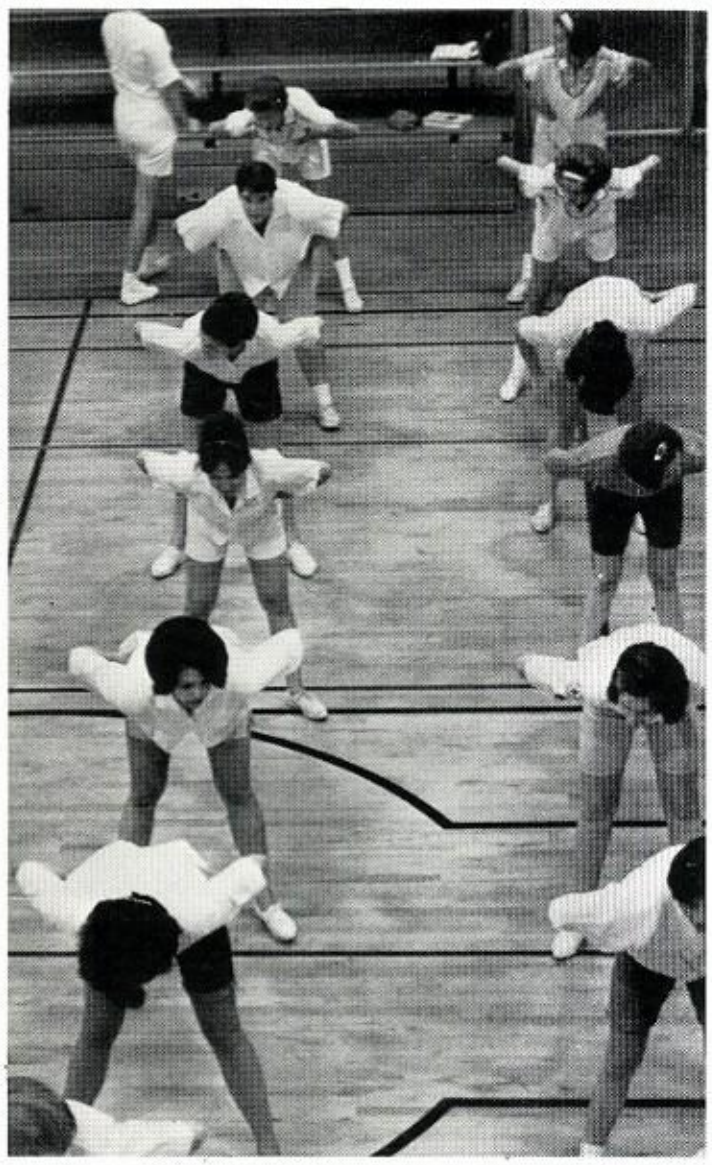
DEVELOPMENT of muscles, personalities, coordination, together with an appreciation of good sportsmanship, were the objectives clearly outlined in the training programs of NWC's Phys Ed department.

Personal health, nutrition, and hygiene are among classes taught. Intramurals and competitive sports stress teamwork.

Depending largely on the weather, students pursued their particular interests in team sports. Softball, volleyball, table tennis, modern dance, swimming, and tennis were included on the girls sports class' agenda.

Physical fitness tests, under the direction of the Oklahoma City physical education supervisor, were administered to all students in the department.

Teachers gave instruction in the fundamentals of the various popular sports which are so much a part of the American way of life.



"BOUNCE, 1, 2, 3 . . ." Girls Sports Classes learn that supervised exercise is beneficial to muscle tone.

GIRLS develop grace and poise in Modern Dance Class. The course fulfills the requirement for physical education.

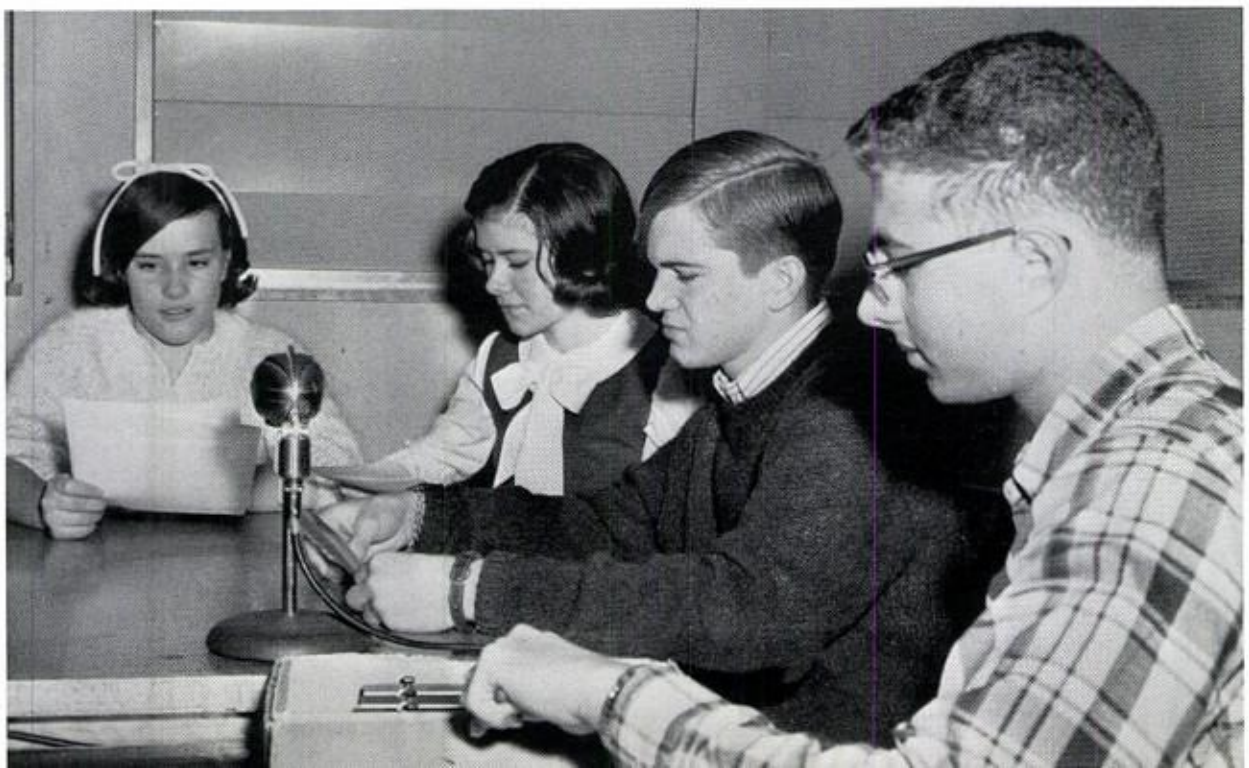
Speakers, Sweepstakes Synonymous at NWC

WITH BRIEFCASES packed and mental notes organized, Knight debaters and drama students were a constant asset to the school and community in the field of good public relations as well as specific capabilities.

As defending Oklahoma State and National Forensic League Champions, NWC participated in nine speech tournaments this school year. In addition to tournament work, members of the Play Production class produced two all-school plays, "Time Out For Ginger," and "Cheaper by the Dozen."

The stage crew, composed of stagecraft classes, contributed to all school plays as well as to all school productions by constructing scenery and creating special lighting and sound effects.



"GOOD MORNING, Knights and Ladies. This is the Northwest Classen Announcers Club . . ." Northwest students were greeted thusly every morning with the news of the day. Jeanette Steele, Ginger Ridgeway, Monty Lewis, and Jim Shoot represent the club.

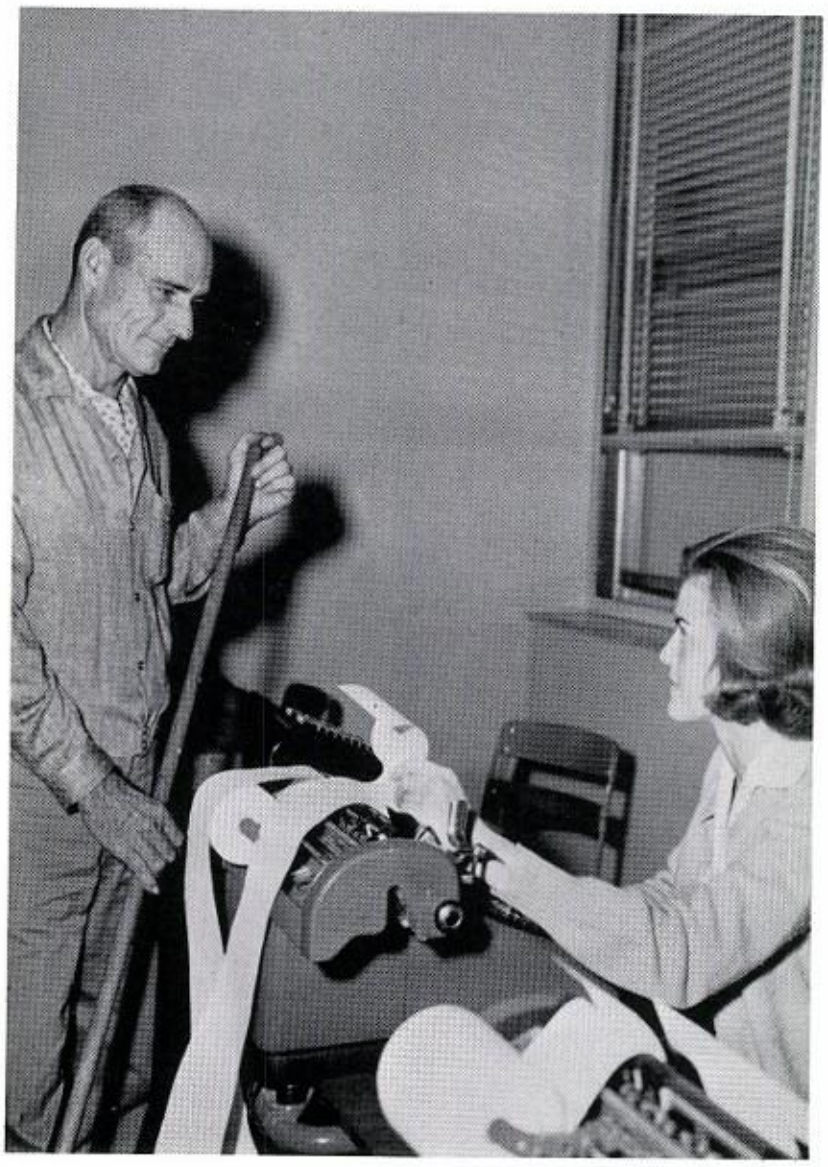
DICTATION rates were improved by use of overhead projectors in shorthand classes. Kathy Neal utilizes lab equipment.

Business Department Offers Wide Coverage

WIDE COVERAGE and adequate preparation were provided 1,559 business students enrolled in business education. Training was intended to improve their clerical skills and prepare them for the conditions, needs, and possibilities of openings in their chosen career fields.

Typing, shorthand, transcription, and business machines courses emphasized basic methods and perfected speed and accuracy. General clerical procedures covered as broad a field as its name implied, while such specific courses as bookkeeping, business law, English, and mathematics combined theory with practice.

"DON'T LOOK at the keys, students; keep your eyes on the copy." This phrase becomes familiar to all typing students as it is repeated daily.



"I KNOW it's late, but I must finish this assignment!" Business machines student Judi Dugan's calculations are time consuming.

INFINITE PATIENCE is required by Drivers Education teacher Mr. Ogle as Dal McKinney contemplates his predicament.

Homemakers, Drivers Develop New Skills

WHAT MAKES a house a home? Girls in Home Economic classes found the answer by learning the fundamentals of nutrition, clothing, textiles, home management, interior decoration, child care, and social living.

That being a good homemaker is a rewarding and highly skilled achievement is an accepted fact today. No longer do the duties of a mother and housewife seem unimportant and monotonous.

Northwest's homemaking classes are designed to prepare girls to safeguard the health and happiness of the family. Problems of adequate food, clothing, housing, safety, recreation, rest, and social adjustment are considered. The all-important family budget, household economics, and professional careers are studied.

Each year NWC homemakers participate in national and local contests. Glenda Bray served as special correspondent to Co-ed magazine; she reported projects, such as holiday decorations, which concerned homemaking classes.

DRIVERS EDUCATION students drove three hours behind the wheel, took thirty hours of class work, and twelve hours in the Drivo-trainers.

The popular one-semester course covered driving laws, cause and prevention of accidents, and proper attitude towards other drivers.

Since last year NWC has had two full time instructors and driver training cars.

Police records show that teenage drivers who have taken this course have fewer accidents and pay fewer fines for traffic infractions than the youthful driver without such training.

AT CHRISTMAS TIME imaginative homemaking students create colorful holiday decorations for the school and their homes. Pam Smock and Donna Nix add touches to a centerpiece.

WHAT GIRL doesn't long for new clothes? Practical use of clothing class time is made by Janice McDonald, Connie Tolle, and Lenora Austin.

RECORDED MUSIC gives Mr. Platt's music theory class a chance to direct a symphony.

Artists, Musicians Reflect Creativity

HAUNTED HOUSES and Halloween centerpieces are "fun projects" for artists Bill Murphy, Gary Adair, and Jeanne Mason.

ORIGINALITY, imagination, and interpretation were the keystones of NWC's music and art departments.

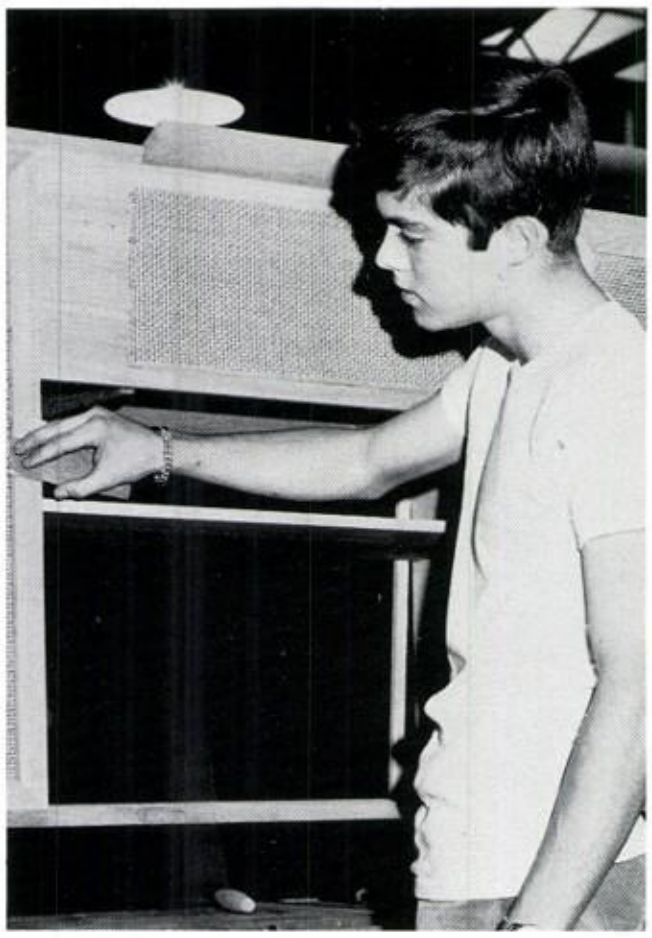
Art students developed techniques along with pleasing results in the fields of painting, design, illustrating, lettering, layout work, weaving, leather tooling, wood carving, ceramics, mosaics, costume designing, and metal smithing.

Increased enrollment in commercial art required the formation of an additional class this year.

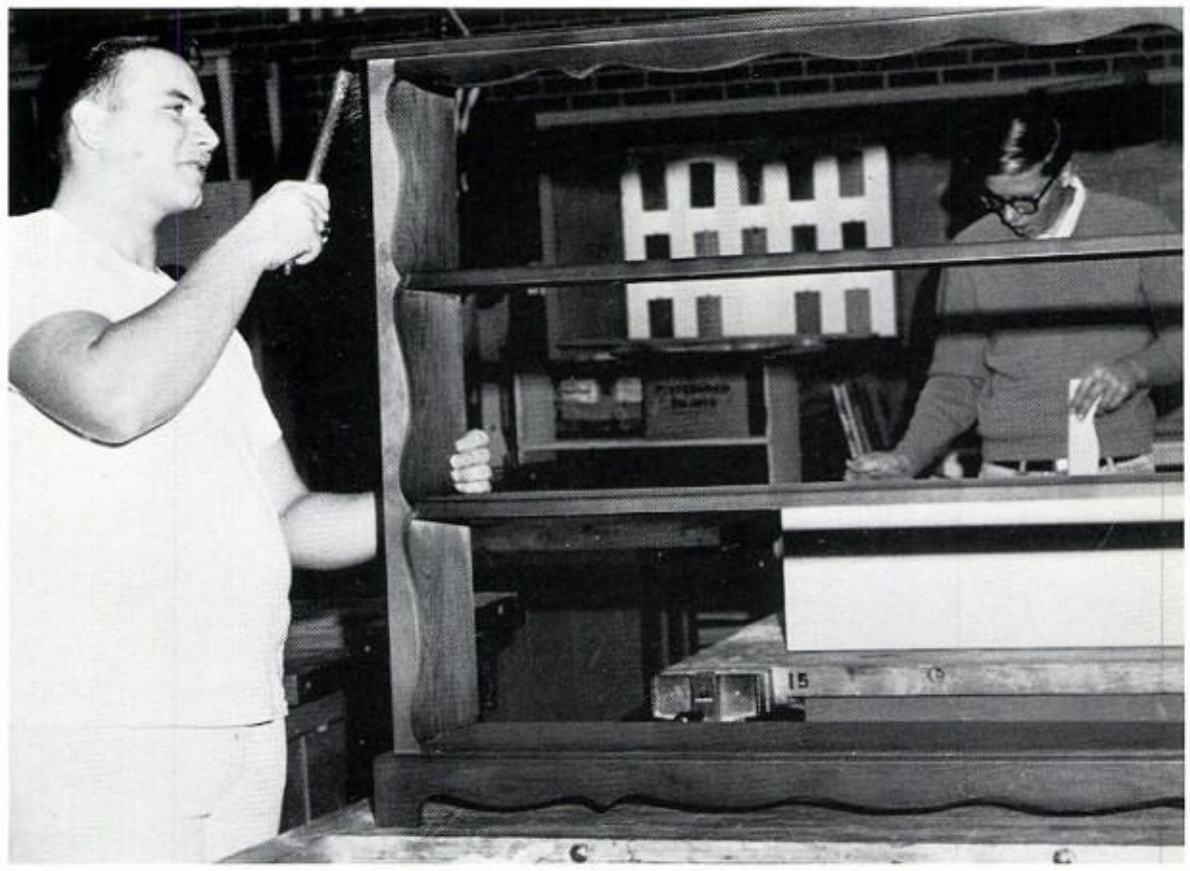
NWC's art department was involved in practically all school projects. In addition to providing decorations for activities, and special occasions, artists were responsible for approving all posters displayed in the building.

The music department also was involved in school activities throughout the year. Musicians performed at football and basketball games. They entertained for civic functions and gave concerts at various places.

School musicians made a concerted effort to elevate the music appreciation level of NWC students, aided by the Hi-Notes club.



SANDING the stereo which he designed and built himself is Grant Lord. The stereo was displayed in a showcase.



FINDING PLEASURE in creating a perfect finished product are Larry Keys and Darrell Lawson, members of one of the Industrial Arts classes. Boys learn skills and use them on a project of their choice.

DESIGNING attractive showcases is one of the skills taught by retail merchandising classes. Ben Nance, Donna Kasparek, and Chuck Pierson experiment in creating an eye-catching display.

Aptitudes, Skills Developed, Utilized

STUDENTS ENROLLED in Distributive Education, Vocational Education, and Industrial Arts have many opportunities to get "on-the-job-training" and experiment with "tools of the trade."

Courses in these departments demand imagination, whether it be creating, building, or repairing.

Classes in woodwork, printing, photography, auto mechanics, mechanical drawing, and architectural drawing involve learning mechanical skills in addition to carefully planned lessons in theory.

Distributive Education students spend half of each day on a job in an apprenticeship capacity; the other half is spent in the classroom.

Besides the required courses, enrollees, in concentrated courses taught by trained technical personnel, study economics, health, and safety. Units of study are included in the principles of income tax problems and public relations.

Vocational Education classes receive a comprehensive course selection as well as special vocational training. Proper employee attitudes, techniques of selling, and store organization are given through classroom study and supervised work experience.

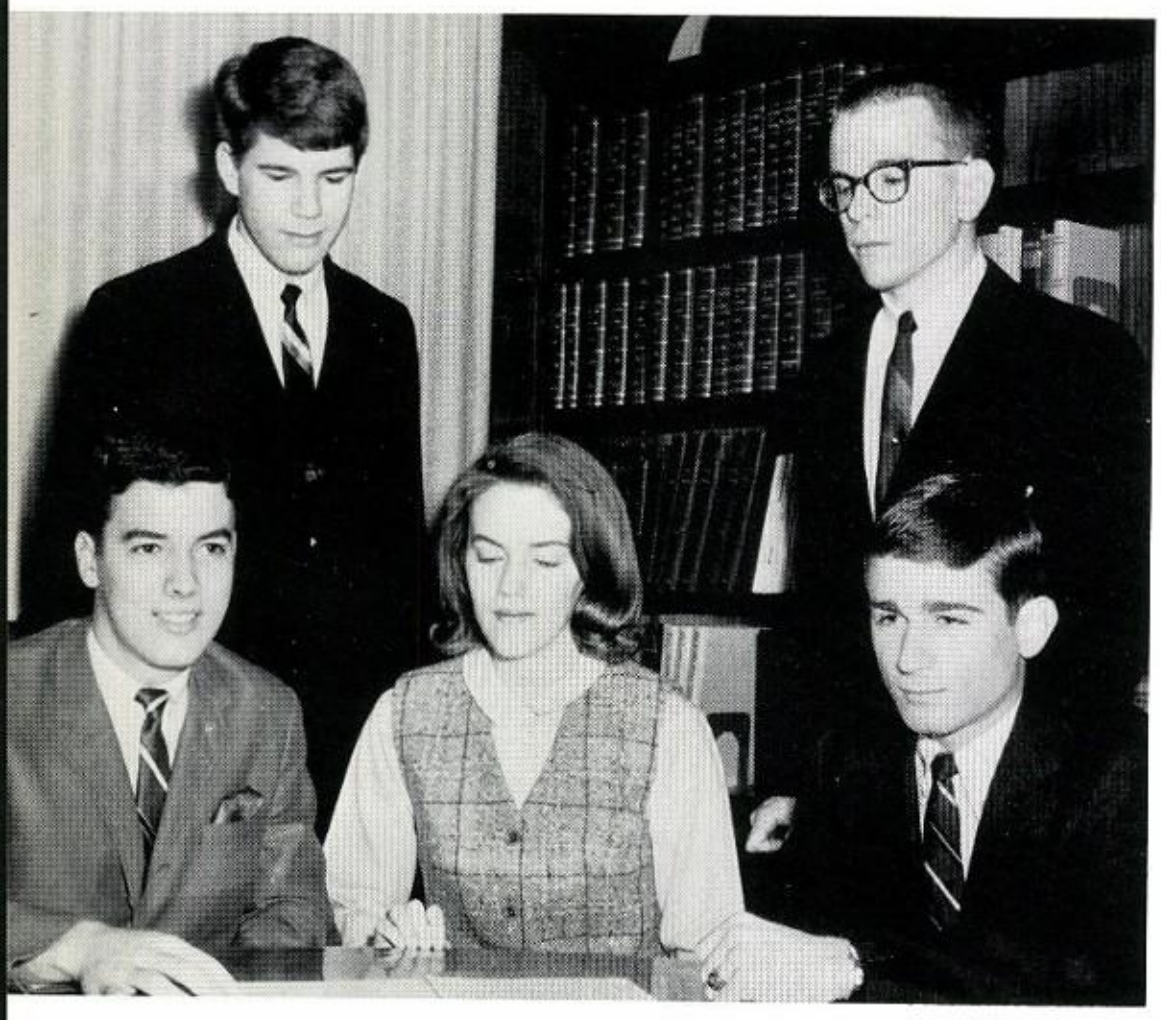
ORGANIZATIONS

Council Mirrors Will of School Advisories

A STUDENT COUNCIL representative soon learns that his duties include more than reading announcements to his advisory twice a week. He is assigned to one of fourteen committees which are responsible for all phases of the school's activities. After a few weeks he realizes who plans mixers, assemblies and intramural contests, conducts elections, makes all the posters, and works on Cupid Express and Echoes of the Knights.

Despite its tremendous size the council was able to legislate smoothly and effectively. Among the many strides made was the much needed revision of the point system approved by the student body in an all-school election. Legislation was also passed to insure all students an equal vote in school elections. An inter-club council was organized the first semester.

As the president school of the Oklahoma Association of Student Councils, Northwest Classen was represented by thirteen delegates at its annual convention held in Lawton. NWC designed a new seal for the association and amended the OASC constitution.



TRYING to reach a decision during a closed meeting are Judicial Board members Paul Field, John Anderson, Earle Haggard, Olivia Maupin, and Bryan Maurer. Not pictured are alternates Stan Davis and Kenny Phelps, and recording secretary, Mary DeWolfe.

ADMIRING the new OASC seal proposed by Northwest Classen at the Lawton convention are Student Council officers: Kathy McCandless, treasurer; Dave Elder, president; Susie Meister, secretary; and Johnny Foster, vice president.

FOR the third consecutive year, NWC's PTSA un boasted the state's largest membership, 4,267. Th state PTA magazine editor asserted that most likely was the largest membership in the nation.

"Inspire Individual Initiative" was the theme of th year's programs.

The year's activities were launched with the annu "teacher appreciation" luncheon at O'Mealey's cafeter August 27. Next, parents assisted with the freshma orientation program.

Climaxing the membership drive was a mixer fo students in the school patio. Other highlights of th year's activities included Career Day, College Nigh and the formation of special study groups.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY membership is one o the highest honors one can obtain at NWC. In additio to scholarship, a member must rate high in leadershi service, and loyalty.

First of the year's two initiation ceremonies wa held October 15, when 41 seniors were initiated traditional ceremonies. The second semester initiatio took place March 16. It included the induction of th third five per cent of the senior class and the first fiv per cent of the junior class. The spring initiation grou along with those who were initiated last spring an fall, comprise the top fifteen per cent of the senio class.

Initiates pledged to continue their study of mathematics for a fourth year before they could be initiated.

Thirty-five members were inducted into the club October 26 in the first semester initiation. Second semester initiation was held February 22; forty-two initiates were accepted.

Initiates wore pledge ribbons of two shades of blue, light and dark, which are the club's colors.

FULFILLING their purpose of service to the school, Courtesy Club members served as hostesses for Freshman Orientation, PTSA Open Houses, and OEA meetings. Girls also provided and served refreshments at all faculty meetings.

Once again, Courtesy Club worked closely with the Key Club in community projects and combined for social events. The two groups joined efforts on the United Appeal Drive and the March of Dimes. October 17 the two clubs entertained guests at a picnic at Lincoln Park. The annual Courtesy Club dance was held in January.

At Christmas time, club members made scrapbooks for the Crippled Children's Hospital and addressed 5,000 envelopes for the March of Dimes. In January, representatives from the club presented a variety show at the Lahoma Rest Home. School life was portrayed in a humorous skit.

The new Emerson project, designed to enlist the help of high school students in promoting activities for underprivileged children, was enthusiastically supported by Courtesy Club members.

Supervising club activities were sponsors Mrs. Mollie Mae Davidson, head sponsor; Mrs. Janie Calhoun, Mrs. Gwendolyn Hanger, and Mrs. Lois Clark.

Key Club Provides School Leadership

KEY CLUB, an international organization composed of boys who have distinguished themselves as leaders as well as in academic excellence, consisted of outstanding sophomore, junior, and senior boys.

This year the number of service projects was doubled from that of previous years. Members collected almost $700 in the United Appeal campaign, participated in four Christmas projects, raised money for the Y.M.C.A. by selling theater tickets, and ushered for PTSA Open House.

The boys combined with Courtesy Club girls for a fall picnic. Cooperating with Key Club chapters from Northeast and Classen, members sponsored an inter-city club mixer.

Mr. Gaylen Wallace, school counselor, served as head sponsor.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION affords students the opportunity to learn marketing, sales, and services. Between classroom work and on-the-job training, students are able to prepare for the responsibilities of employment.

The DE club presented its annual talent show December 17. The Employer-Employee dinner dance was held January 22 at Lakeview Country Club.

Members attended the state conference in Oklahoma City in March. Northwest's chapter received an award for outstanding achievement.

TOP BOOSTERS of the annual Red Cross doughnut sale were members of Mrs. Peale's advisory who ordered fifty dozen doughnuts. Connie Meacham and Bobby Samara help with sales.

Services Performed by School Red Cross

EACH of NWC's 96 advisories is represented in the two monthly meetings of the High School Red Cross. With proceeds from the two doughnut sales held during the school year, enrollment cards for all students are secured and a contribution is made to the International Red Cross Children's Fund.

This year 250 pairs of socks were obtained from the Christmas sock tree for distribution to needy children. Located in the library, this sock tree has become a traditional Red Cross project at Northwest.

Paintings by school artists, as well as the customary gift chest, were sent overseas at Christmas time. Judy Vandennieuwenhof served as this year's gift chest chairman.

Several representatives from NWC's Red Cross chapter donated time to the Motor Service Corps, where they drove Red Cross vehicles.

Hi-Y, Tri-Hi-Y Join Forces for Projects

UNDER THE DIRECTION of the YMCA, Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y cooperated in promoting local and state projects. Weekly meetings were sometimes held jointly.

Five bills were submitted by NWC's delegates to the State Youth in Government legislature held in Oklahoma City in March.

November 7-8, eighteen boys and fifteen girls attended the state conference at Western Hills Lodge.

Tri-Hi-Y pledged $100 to World Service and raised the money through a candy sale in January.

In February, NWC's Hi-Y chapter, along with other city school groups, sponsored a mixer under the direction of the City Hi-Y Council. For the third straight year, club members formed a basketball team and competed in the city Hi-Y basketball tournament.

Speech Club Members Carefully Screened

EXCELLENCE in speech and drama was recognized by acceptance in the National Forensic League and National Thespians, honorary organizations. The Announcers Club was composed of students who provided announcements over the Central Sound System.

National Thespians, honorary dramatics organization, was created to promote a better understanding of the theatrical world. To qualify for membership, one must participate in some capacity in the theater, receiving ten points for working with the stage crew, serving as ticket seller, or performing an acting role.

The National Forensic League was an honorary organization which required members to earn at least twenty-five points by speaking at competitive speech tournaments and for local groups. Candidates must also be in the upper two-thirds of their speech class and accepted by a majority of the Forensic members.

Before being accepted into the Announcers Club, prospective members must audition before a club committee at the beginning of each semester. Finalists are selected and additional screening is necessary. Applicants are judged on the basis of personality, diction, emphasis, and voice control.

Culture Is Fostered by Clubs' Activities

MEMBERSHIP in the German Club is open to all student enrolled in a German class or to those who speak the language. To promote understanding of the culture of the German peoples is the purpose of the club.

Members were given an opportunity to use the German language during discussion groups where only German was spoken. Films and pictures were shown at meetings by people who have traveled in Germany.

Club members made gifts at Christmas time that were typical German gifts. Two station wagon loads of toys were taken to Memorial Hospital by club members to be distributed among the children.

GREAT BOOKS CLUB was formed to stimulate active interest in the world's great literature.

The club calendar included one group activity each month. Students attended theatrical performances by local drama groups. Mrs. Ball hosted the club at a Christmas Open House. A skating party and spring picnic were held.

Journalists Captives of Hectic Deadlines

LAST MINUTE deadlines, busy, clicking typewriters, the whirl of news gathering—all were of vital importance if THE SHIELD were to appear on alternate Tuesdays.

This bi-weekly publication, serving as a link between students and school activities, carried pertinent editorials, sports stories, and up-to-the-minute articles which answered Who? What? Where? When? Why? How?

The twenty-two staff members designed pages, sold ads, took pictures, wrote copy, and were always alert for the possible "scoop".

For the second straight year the Shield staff produced a paper for distribution the first day of school.

QUILL AND SCROLL, an international honor society for top ranking journalists, welcomed twelve new members at the spring initiation. The annual dinner meeting was held at Sussy's restaurant where Mr. Jim Paschal, state OIPA director, was guest speaker.

Yearbook Staff Aims at High Standards

WORKING under pressure to meet their four deadlines, Round Table staff members aimed constantly at maintaining their Highest Honor rating with Oklahoma Interscholastic Press Association. The '64 edition received Medalist rank with Columbia Press Association. Fewer than ten per cent of the books in the nation are given this award.

The Round Table's intent was to provide the students at Northwest Classen a record of important academic and extra-curricular events. Sentimentally, seniors should find it full of treasured memories as they finish their last year at NWC.

For the third year, publication packet sales have increased. A record number of 2,720 books was sold.

MANY LATE hours are spent by editors in compiling a yearbook. Judy Sherman and Della Filson, co-editors of the Round Table, find they are no exception to the rule.

Court Jesters Groom Cheerleaders

COURT JESTERS was organized by the cheerleaders to promote better cooperation between pep clubs and cheerleaders. Through extended practice, girls gained a thorough understanding of the school yells.

Members interested in becoming cheerleaders were schooled in techniques of crowd control, jumps, and personal grace. Three girls were chosen by Court Jesters every two months to lead cheers at B and C squad games.

Each year the group presents a Spirit Award to the student who did the most during the school year to promote sportsmanship and uphold school spirit.

Ancient Culture Is Absorbed by JCL

ORGANIZED to encourage interest in the language and culture of Ancient Greece and Rome was the Junior Classical League.

During August, eight JCL delegates, sponsored by Mrs. Janie Creekmore, attended the National Convention held on the campus of the University of Illinois in Champagne-Urbana.

A hootenanny led by Dan Young from Oklahoma City University and the initiation of new members in October marked the beginning of an active year.

At the state convention held at Oklahoma University, the NW chapter ran a candidate for office and conducted a singalong. The annual banquet in April featured typically Roman food and cuisine.

Master Mathematicians Study, Socialize

REQUIREMENTS for membership in the Math Analysis club included the applicant's having completed six semesters of mathematics with a B-plus average and a favorable recommendation from a math teacher.

Since most club members were planning a career in engineering or a profession demanding a strong background in math, calculus and analytics were thoroughly explored.

Three parties were held this year; math aides were inducted as honorary members of the club at the spring picnic.

Chartered just last year, the club had a membership of 43; only six girls were included. The club constitution was revised this year.

ASSEMBLY ENTERTAINMENT was provided by Debbie Reed, Linda Wade, Jerri Roberts, and Trina Harry, members of the GIRLS QUARTET.

Result in Perfection for Honor Chorus

INCREASED ENROLLMENT in music classes resulted in the strengthening of choral groups as well as the formation of new ensembles.

The sincere dedication of NWC musicians was exemplified by the 57 Cryslur members who reported at 7:30 each morning for rehearsals. Auditions are held each spring for this "honor chorus."

Cryslurs presented their annual fall assembly and evening concert November 20. For the first time instrumentalists from the band were featured in the program.

Cryslur and Band Boys football teams were organized this year to promote closer friendship between instrumental and vocal music departments. Band boys were victorious in the "Music Bowl" game November 21.

A new singing group, consisting of 16 Cryslurs, was formed this year to provide entertainment for banquets and clubs. Proceeds from their appearances were used to finance projects of the honor chorus.

For the fifth consecutive year Cryslurs officially opened the Christmas season at Penn Square.

ENTHUSIASTIC Cryslurs check signals for their football game with Band Boys. Musical gridmen are Dick Spann, Stan Davis, Greg Fine, and Warren Thompson, who compose the BOYS QUARTET.

President, Convention Welcomed by Bandsmen

ALTHOUGH band and orchestra classes convened during the school day, most of the musical activities required preparation and participation outside of school. Instrumental section rehearsals, contest practice sessions, and 7:30 a.m. drills for the marching band were a necessary part of every musician's daily routine.

The instrumental music department consisted of four bands: symphonic, marching, freshman, and intermediate, and the 50-member orchestra. The marching unit contained 125 bandsmen, while the pep band featured 40 musicians.

Two performances highlighted the year's activities. In October, the band helped to welcome President Lyndon Johnson when he spoke at the State Fair.

During the Christmas vacation the concert band played for the opening convocation of the American School Band Directors Association. Director Arthur Johnson served as chairman and official host for the convention.

The annual fall and spring concerts were presented in the school auditorium. The pep band, under student director, Mike McCormick, provided music at basketball games. A record number of 25 music students were qualified to play in the All-state band and orchestra.

Majorettes Give 'Command Performances'

SPECTACULAR fire baton routines presented by majorettes Karlene Alt, Marsha Kosted, Linda Voegelein, Carol Pickens, Lee Ann Welch, and Beverly Wilkison, highlighted the halftime show at homecoming. So impressive was this specialty that the girls received invitations to perform on the Gaylon Stacy T.V. Show and at the Mayor's Christmas Party.

"CORONET" was chosen for a pep club name in 1955 when the school opened because of its association with sovereignty in days of Knighthood. Coronets were small crowns worn to signify a mark of rank.

New members were entertained at their first meeting by a skit featuring club officers. Special refreshments were served at the first meeting and at Christmas time.

The bus trip to Enid in the fall and the banquet for basketball boys in the spring were the year's highlights. Basketball boys are annually feted by Coronets at a banquet where coaches award team letters.

Coronets won first place in the car decorations contest at the Homecoming parade.

Lancers Ignite Spirit

IN KNIGHT LORE, Lancers were recognized defenders, always ready to aid a Knight. In the ten-year life of Northwest, Lancers have been loyal supporters of all Knightland activities.

In keeping with tradition, Lancers launched the school year with "duc" season, which ended in the annual initiation party.

Lancer queen candidates were Marsha Daniels, Judy Kahler, Joyce Kosted, Carol Pickens, and Jane Stangeland. Candidates were hostesses at a party for club members and dates December 4. The queen was crowned after a surprise announcement at the annual Christmas formal in Municipal Auditorium's Mirror Room December 19.

Throughout the football and basketball seasons, club members sold programs, attended games, and presented "capers" for a pep assembly.

IN KNIGHTHOOD lore there is mention of young swans, or Cygnets, who graced castle moats adding beauty and serenity to the scene. This is the goal to which Northwest Classen Cygnet members aspire.

Service projects and civic drives received Cygnet support. Members ushered at concerts and the theater. New pledges were entertained at an ice cream social in the school patio the first week of school.

November 21 Cygnets entertained the football team with their annual dinner-dance in Val Gene's banquet hall in the new Shepherd Mall. Cygnets were the first group to rent the new entertainment spot. The banquet featured entertainment by club members entitled "What Makes Knights Great," a take-off on football. Sponsors, coaches, administrators, and their wives were special guests.

Falcon Goals High

FALCONS, hunting birds of Medieval times, were remarkable for their ability to soar high and always capture game. Falcon pep club members have always tried to live up to the high standards traditional in their heritage.

December 12 queen candidates entertained club members and guests at the traditional "Queen" party. Twenty new Falcon members were presented membership cards at the party.

Highlight of the year's social activities was the Christmas dance at Quail Creek Country Club December 21 when the club queen was crowned. She was presented a coat featuring the club insignia, a necklace, and a crown. Each of the princesses received a necklace with their names on the back.

STUDENT LIFE

Student activities have become a vital part of our traditions,
adding flavor to daily routine.
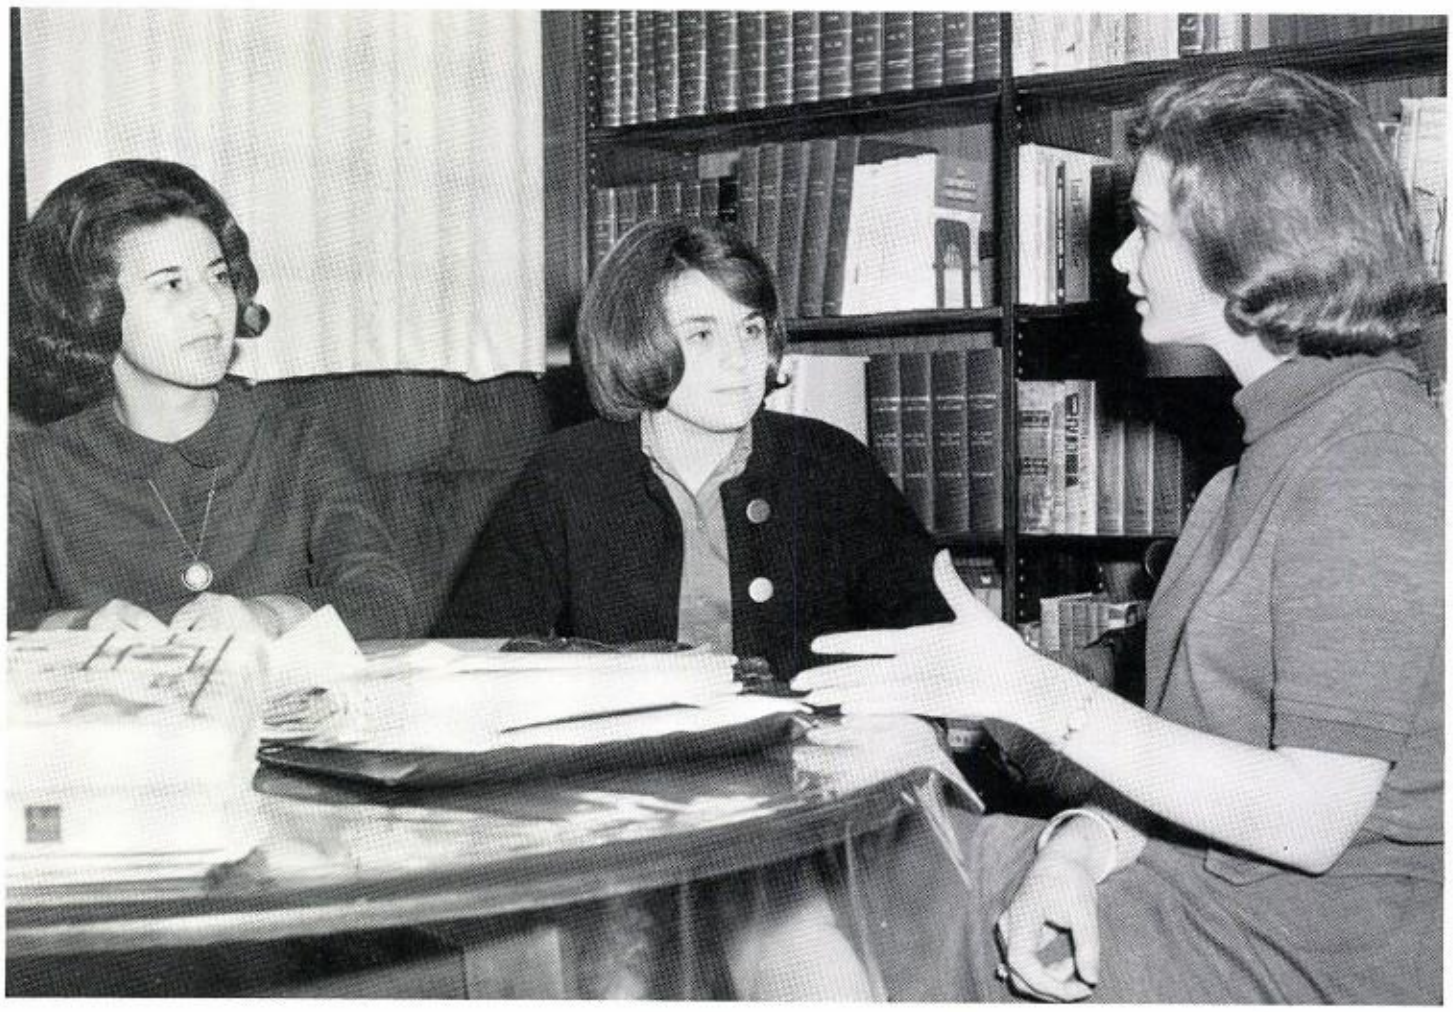
Each student found some spot for his talents and interests, making 1964-65 a memorable year in Knightland.

HUSKY

GINGER



AS EARLY as September students met with college representatives for briefing. Barbara Danzinger and Sandra Dorn consult with the Mount Holyoke representative.

September Briskly Sets the Stage,

TAKING ADVANTAGE of the last warm days of Indian Summer, Susie Meister and Jim Stacy enjoy an excursion to the park.

TYPICAL KNIGHT enthusiasm was exhibited for the new skateboard fad which was included in the intramural program. Karlene Alt, Tripp Fezler, Mark Geller, Keith Buchwald, Merle Taylor, and Jonny Foster participate.

SUMMER ebbed away and the life cycle of a student body revived itself. In the colorful kaleidoscope of high school activities, the blur of sweltering heat and madras cotton suddenly changed to football and knee socks.

The pieces of this puzzle were faces, personalities, and new experiences which were exciting to the freshmen and nostalgic for the upperclassmen. From the first chaotic day the pattern was shaped by those who call themselves Knights and Ladies.

Studying was at a low and spirit at a high while Student Council debated, the "O" Club elected, and the freshmen "joined."

September was "money month," Howdy Week, the football preview, the election of class officers and the skateboard intramural.

Shirin Ershadi and Bernd Hagenburg, the two foreign exchange students, were warmly received and given their first introduction to the American way of life. NWC's exchange student, Bob Greer, was welcomed back after a summer in Brazil.

The girls defeated the boys in the first paper drive and after long, heated discussions the drives and parking lots were given names in an all-school election.

September was a new beginning to an old tradition and an accepted way of life at Northwest Classen.

SEPTEMBER found spirit high as Knights prepared for the first football game. Sally Swigert and Dan Pope brave brisk winds to decorate the goal posts.

Forecasts Fast Pace

HOWDY was the magic word at the first mixer of the year held annually to welcome students back to school. Freshmen Jennifer Suchy and Roy Mote quickly caught the spirit of the September 11 event.

VICTORIOUS Cheerleaders, Barbara Sigmon, Cindy Patterson, Kanda Kirkwood, Janis Nowlin, Nancy Green, Cindy Williams, and Steva Fitz, proudly display the first place trophy they won at the State Cheerleader's Clinic at Norman. This is the fourth consecutive year the Northwest group has taken this honor.

NUMBER ONE KNIGHT and Lady, Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Malone, view the Eiffel Tower in Paris during their European tour. Mr. Malone inspected American schools on Army bases for the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

School Settles Down to Familiar Pattern

THE FIRST sign of autumn at Northwest was not brisk weather. In the midst of Indian summer the strangeness of blackboards and early morning risings soon disappeared, and students settled into the familiar pattern of life in a large high school.

October's calendar was crowded with projects which fused students into a united group. Student Council worked with the PTSA to push its membership over the top, and students celebrated with a patio mixer held during sixth hour.

Response to the Emerson Project for underprivileged children was strong, but the car decoration parade to the Putnam City football game proved that students still found time to play.

The girls gloated in their triumph over the boys in the first paper drive and the new bonfire pit turned out more successfully than the purple mache dragon who never let out a fiery breath before the fire department condemned it as a safety hazard.

Seniors rallied on the annual bus trip to Enid, and freshmen were surprised to learn that campaigning for class officers is definitely not "traditional". All students felt a setback in the "war on poverty" as AFS candy and publication packets went on sale simultaneously.

OCTOBER found spirit running high as Knights and Ladies turned out for the first bonfire of the year.

"BATTLE of the sexes . . . " Kerry Slack victoriously displays her contribution to the October paper drive. Randy Fitzgerald ponders his defeat.

COMMEMORATING American Education Week, students took over class instruction for one day. Mr. Vail's biology students, David Rose, Marcia Linn, and Dee Dee Day banished their teacher to the corner as they directed class work.

BEATLES, Barry, or L.B.J.? Knights and Ladies took an active part in the national presidential campaign. Jeff Webb, Diana Snyder, and Cynthia Hawkins campaign for their favorite candidates.

Heated Campaign Stirs Students

"A BIG football hero, and I knocked him down!" Randy Fitzpatrick wears a look of amazement in the first school play, "Time Out for Ginger." Looking on are Jill Morey, Ginger Ridgeway, Doug Chew, and Marty McPheeters.

Gala Events Spice Knight Life

THE EXCITEMENT and flurry of special events gave a gala effect to Knight Life in November.

Comedy at its best was presented in the first all-school play, Time Out For Ginger, starring a female footballer.

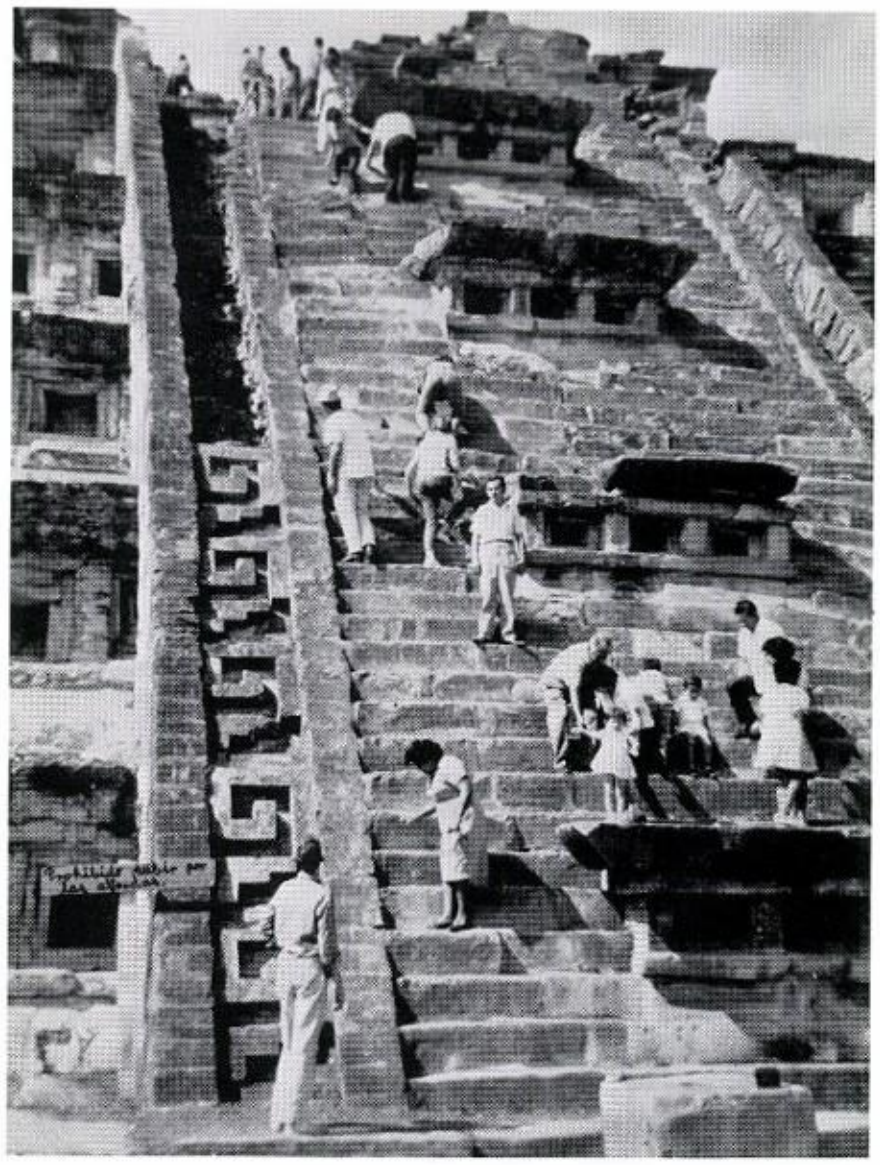
Friday the thirteenth brought a "Day Out Of The Past" for NWC grads at Homecoming '64. The crowning of the All-Sports Queen, Miss Janis Nowlin, and the homecoming mixer climaxed the annual festivities.

The football team celebrated the end of a hard season at the Cygnet Banquet held at the new ballroom in Shepherd Mall. Cygnets and their dates literally "shook the rafters" at the dinner dance which opened the whirl of holiday parties.

Seniors again grabbed the spotlight when a slate of ten candidates were elected as Round Table Royalty. The Knight and Lady of the Round Table is traditionally kept secret until the May coronation.

"YOU'VE GOTTA have spirit . . . " Cygnet Pep Club members vocalize in the shower room skit at the annual football banquet November 21.

" . . . A MUSTANG, a mohair sweater, and a hair dryer." Pam Lawson doesn't feel she's too old to sit on Santa's knee and tell him her Christmas list.



A NINE-DAY WHIRL through Mexico was a Christmas holiday treat for twenty-two NWC students and five teachers. While in El Tajin, travelers climbed to the top of the Aztec ruins.

Trips, Treats Mark Holiday Whirl

CHICAGO-BOUND journalists, Ann Taylor, Sandy Bacon, Diana Moses, Judy Noble, and Kevin Parrish, gave up their Thanksgiving turkey dinners in order to attend the National Scholastic Press Association convention.

"READY MAESTRO?" Students were royally entertained at the DE Style Show by acts such as this one presented by Judy Kahler and Randy James.

Entertainers Add to Christmas Spirit

KNIGHTS celebrated the holidays with a tradition and spirit that transformed the school to a winter wonderland decorated with the glow of Christmas. Club members busied themselves with service projects, the Crysslurs carolled at Penn Square, the art department decked the halls and even the faculty caught the holiday spirit, as they gathered at 7 a.m. December 17 for a breakfast. The homemaking department provided table centerpieces and decorations.

Seniors competed with the entire school during the annual Toys For Tots Drive climaxed by a mixer.

Talent, comedy, and fashions were combined in the DE Style Show during which the DE Queen finalists were presented.

The celebration of "Kiss-mass" was boosted by the Boys "O" Club Mistletoe sale when Santa himself delivered the greenery in a green Model A Ford after advisory parties.

Three queens were crowned at Christmas formals given by Key Club, Falcons, and Lancers.

Junior-Senior girls were hostesses at their annual holiday dance.

The Red Cross sock tree was loaded as never before with socks for needy children. Each advisory's goal was ten pair of socks.

Key Club boys distributed forty-eight baskets of food to families.

"MICHAEL, row the boat ashore, Hallelujah . . . " Students took time out of study halls during the Christmas season to add to holiday spirit.

THERE IS nothing that an athlete won't sacrifice for the 'O' Club . . . including his dignity. Members entertained Knights and Ladies with the 'O' Club capers at a December pep rally.

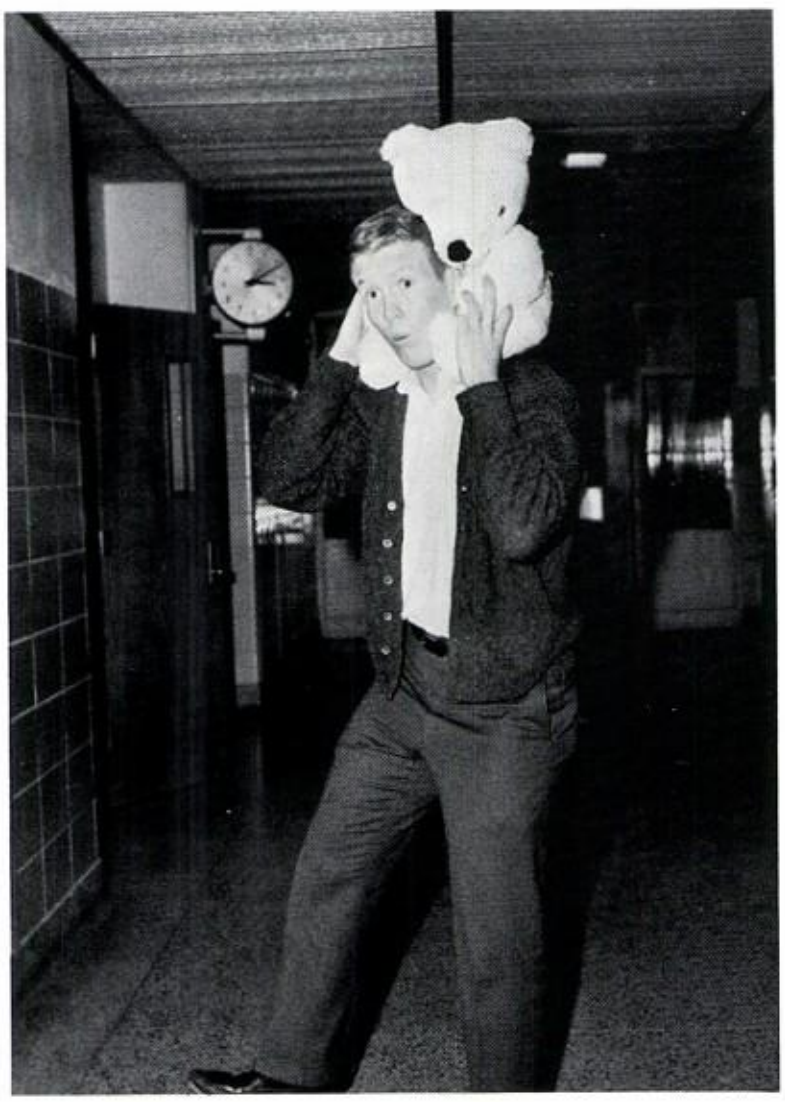
True Christmas Meaning Personified

EXCHANGE STUDENTS Bernd Hagenburg, Shirin Ershadi, and Birgit Schon were pleasantly surprised when Principal J. Frank Malone presented them their Christmas presents from the student body . . . phone calls to their parents.

IT WOULDN'T be Christmas at Northwest without advisory parties. Pizza, fried chicken, and French fries dominated party menus.

DELIVERING party mistletoe to Pam Lawson are Kent "Santa" Ackerman and 'O' Clubber Mike Holdridge.

by Generous, Enthusiastic Knights



"JUST like a kid again . . . " Mike Holdridge has one last romp with his teddy bear before handing him over to the Toys For Tots Drive.

"HO . . . HO . . . HO . . ." Joe Fallin stops to admire the hall decorations supplied by the art department.

SERVING AS Pages during the spring legislative session were Warren Morris, Tom Wolff, Tom Ragsdale, John Musgrave, Lynn McDonald, Terry Farmer, Steve Carter, and Bob Greer.

Snowfall Welcomed, New Fads Flourish

THE FIRST snowfall covered the building with a white shroud that reflected a new seriousness toward academic study. Holidays were over for three months and semester tests loomed ahead. But the increase of midnight oil did not dampen many spirits as students began the new year with a never-ending round of activities.

The school was stunned with disbelief at the first basketball loss of the season to top rival Midwest City. Soon after, Student Council passed a resolution to purchase a victory flag to be flown after all athletic achievements.

Seniors felt the first effects of graduation when they ordered announcements, attended rush parties, and did not receive enrollment blanks for the coming year.

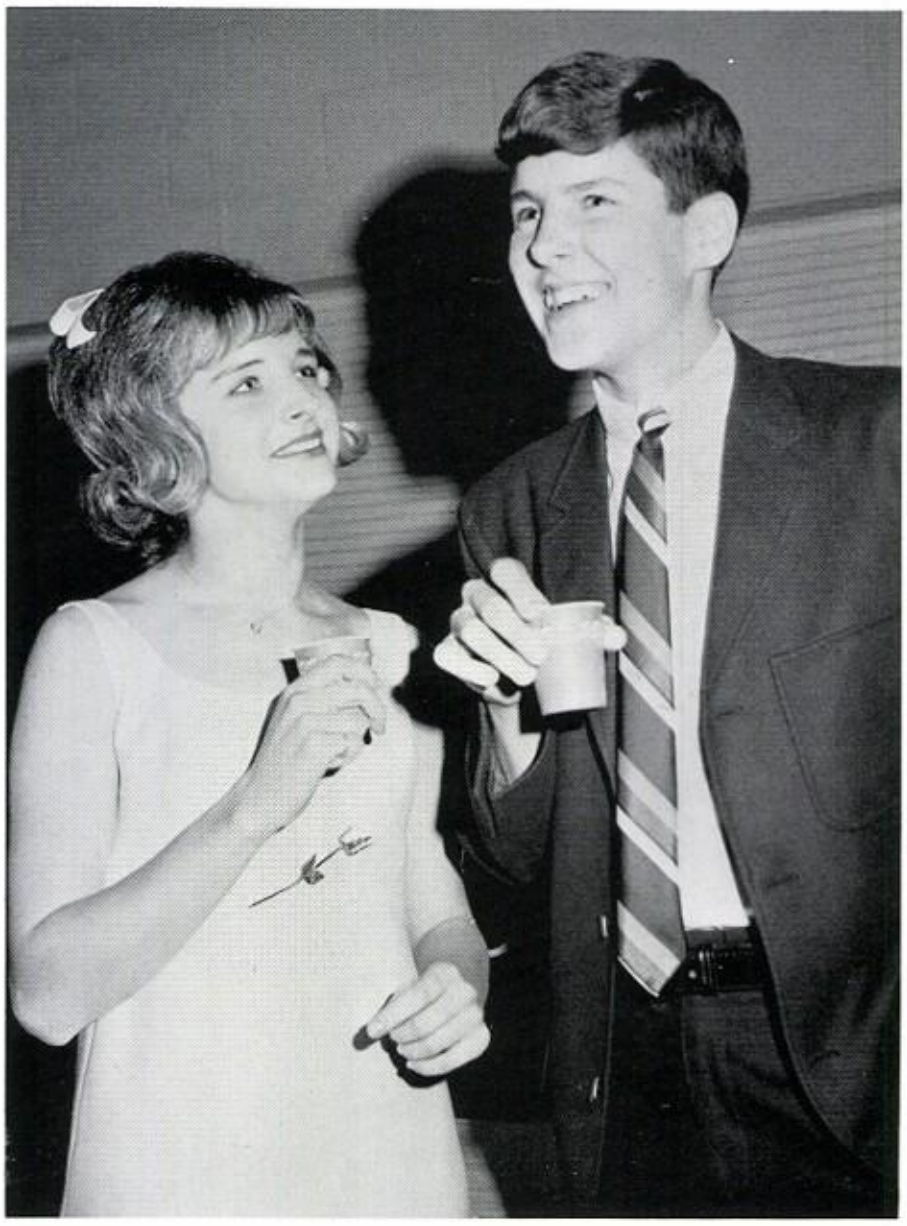
Cowboy boots and ten gallon hats increased in popularity after the western mixer following the Putnam City game, and western attire became the senior boys' trademark.

Comedy, pantomimes and dramatic cuttings gave students an insight to the world of the stage in a drama assembly presented by the speech department.

ALL RARIN' TO GO to the western mixer are Gene Smith, Bobbie Arentz, Jim Carreker, and Carol Pickens.

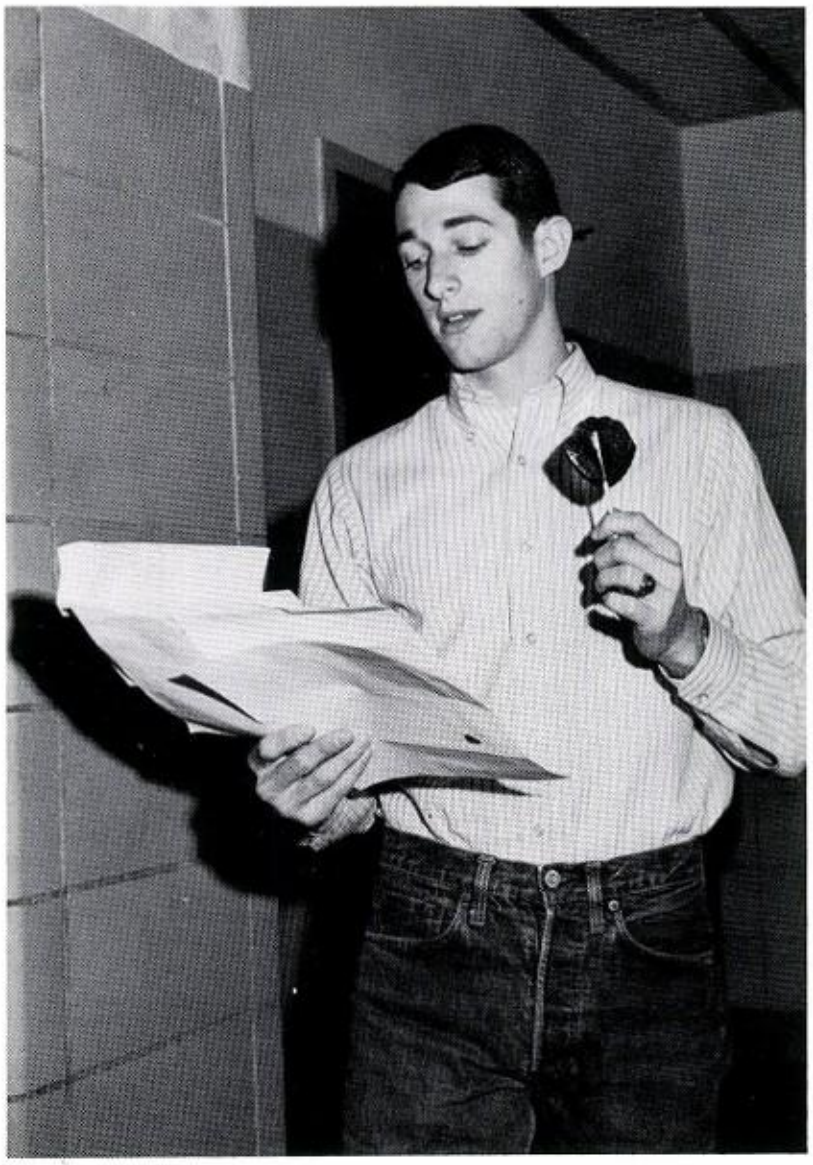
"YOU MEAN that rubber band runs the whole thing?" Fascinated by the engine of a Super Sport, Japanese grapplers Tomohiso Hawago and Hideaki Yanagida investigate the American car with hosts Gary Leascher and David Smith. The Japanese All-Stars wrestled at N W C January 23.

"ALL THIS in only five minutes?" Jeanne Jerlow tries to down a cupcake purchased before school at one of the many bake sales held during the year. Club projects were financed with proceeds from the sales.

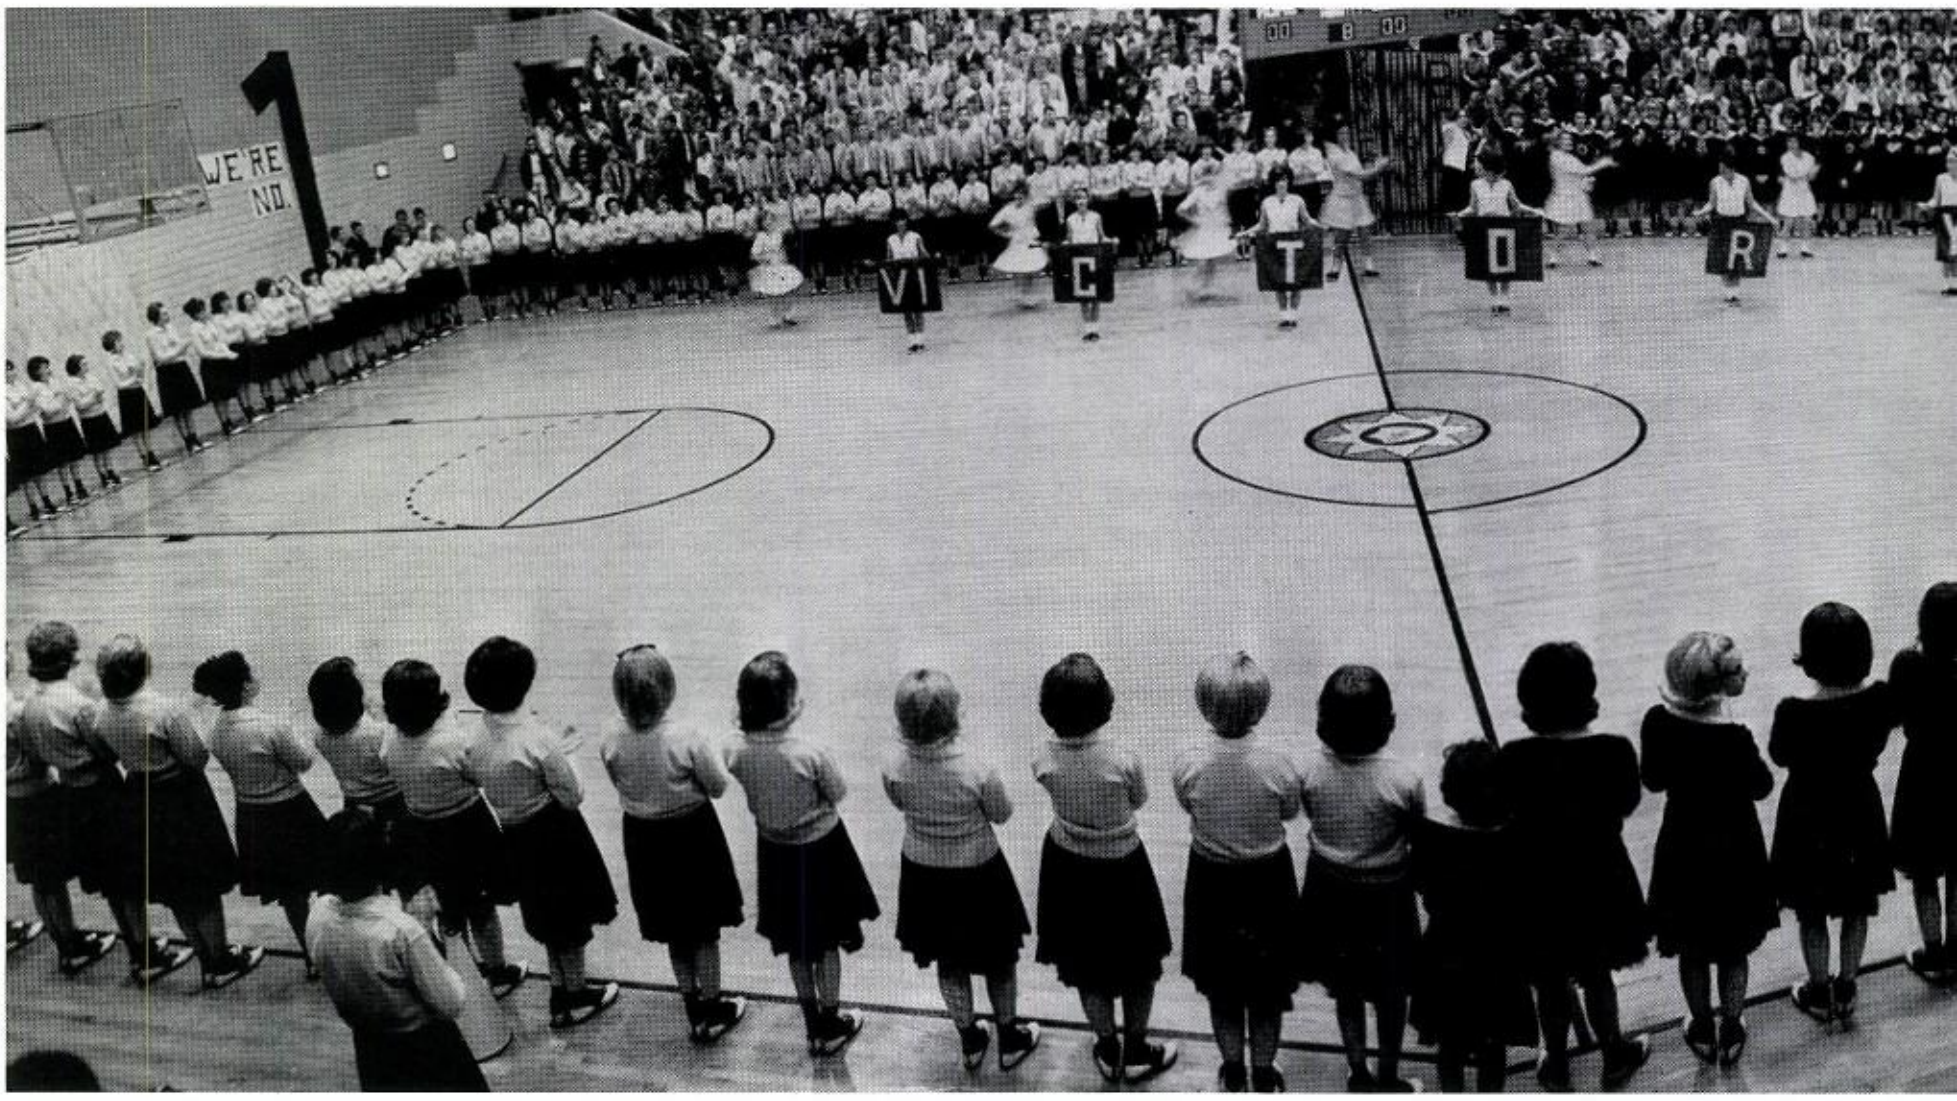


RELAXING during the Inkslingers' Ball held for city journalists at Putnam City High School are Northwest's candidates for Princess and Prince of Print, Judy Kahler and Joe Fallin. Judy won the city title.

HAPPINESS is being elected Lady of Friendship. Cindy Patterson, escorted by Dave Elder, registers happiness and surprise at being announced as the friendliest girl at Northwest.



"ROSES are red . . .". Kenny Womack scans his collection of Cupid Expresses. Proceeds from this unique tradition netted AFS over $500.



LOYAL Knights will long remember the night of February 12 when Midwest City upset the Number One Knights in the NWC gym. Pep clubs, majorettes, and cheerleaders enthusiastically brought their team onto the floor in traditional style.

Cagers, Cupid Express Create February Flurry

HEARTS AND FLOWERS and a resemblance of chivalry appeared on Valentine's Day in the form of Cupid Express. The romantic tradition of sending candy and messages to fellow students is an annual project to raise money for American Field Service.

The anxiously awaited announcement of the Knight and Lady of Friendship nominees began the final royalty election. The friendliest senior boy and girl were presented in a sixth hour coronation.

Valentine's was also celebrated with the annual Sweetheart Ball sponsored by the band and orchestra.

After much discussion in Student Council, the controversy over voting regulations for the Echoes of the Knights cover contest ended, and the entire student body voted for the record cover of their choice.

Knights and Ladies socialized and danced to the music of the Ho-Dads at a mixer in the gym after the Capitol Hill game.

The last home game was soon followed by the year's last all-school play, Cheaper By The Dozen. The uproarious comedy delighted audiences both nights it was presented in the school auditorium.

"ARE father's problems really 'Cheaper by the Dozen'?" asks Robert Holt. Cast members of the all-school play include Jan Wampler, Craig Busey, Robert Holt, and Karen Jenks.

PREPARING FOR the lead role in the Mummer's Theatre production of "The Diary of Anne Frank" Northwest junior, Judy Stewart, receives instructions from director Jack Jones.

SENIOR Top Teens Bill Grimes and Cindy Patterson enjoy a picnic in the park to celebrate their election. Bill was elected Top Teen for the second time; Cindy for a record-breaking fourth time.

SWINGING into spring Top Teens Diane Reynolds and Wayne Gary of the junior class relish the new season. Wayne was elected for the third straight year.

Top Teens Chosen in Class Election

TOP TEEN election, sponsored by the Shield, was initiated during the first year of the school's history in an effort to recognize the outstanding boy and girl in each class.

No publicity was given the election prior to the voting in an effort to minimize campaigning; no runoff election was held. Announcement of winners was made in a March Shield scoop.

TAKING time out from studies and activities are Kent Carnahan and Suzanne Martin, Freshman Top Teens.

REMINISCING about the year's events are Sophomore Top Teens Johnny Reeves and Gloria Lundien. Gloria is repeating as her class' outstanding teen.

Boys' 'O' Club Selects '65 All-Sports Queen

THE BOYS' "O" CLUB annually nominates five senior girls for All-Sports Queen. Competing for the 1964-65 title were Janis Nowlin, Cindy Patterson, Chris Reynolds, Barbara Sigmon, and Cindy Williams.

Nominated by active members, candidates were presented at the Homecoming Assembly November 13 where the queen was crowned.

Queen Janis Nowlin and her attendants were then honored at the Homecoming game with U.S. Grant.

Grid Games Feature Close Finishes

KNIGHT GRIDIRON play for 1964 was a mixture of thrilling finishes along with some heartbreakers. Four of the games were not decided until the fourth quarter.

Spotting Del City a first quarter touchdown, the Knights came back with 14 points in the next two quarters, defeating the Eagles 14-0. This marked the second straight year NW had defeated the Eagles in the season's opener. Bill Grimes and halfback Baxter Case were leading ground gainers with 98 and 66 yards on 15 carries apiece.

Played before a crowd of 7500, the Knights and Bombers fought to a standoff until three minutes and 35 seconds were left in the fourth quarter when Rip Van Winkle skirted right end for 15 yards and the only touchdown of the game. Freeman added the extra point, and the score was 7-0, Midwest City. The game was almost even in statistics, 174-173; the Bombers gained one more yard than Northwest.

For the first time in five years, Northwest triumphed over the Harding Eagles 23-6. Led offensively by quarterbacks Craig Busey and Terry O'Toole, both scored one touchdown and O'Toole passed for another to end Dennis Keim. With the score 16-0, Harding's Bill Roark returned a fourth quarter kick off 90 yards for the Eagles' only offensive threat.

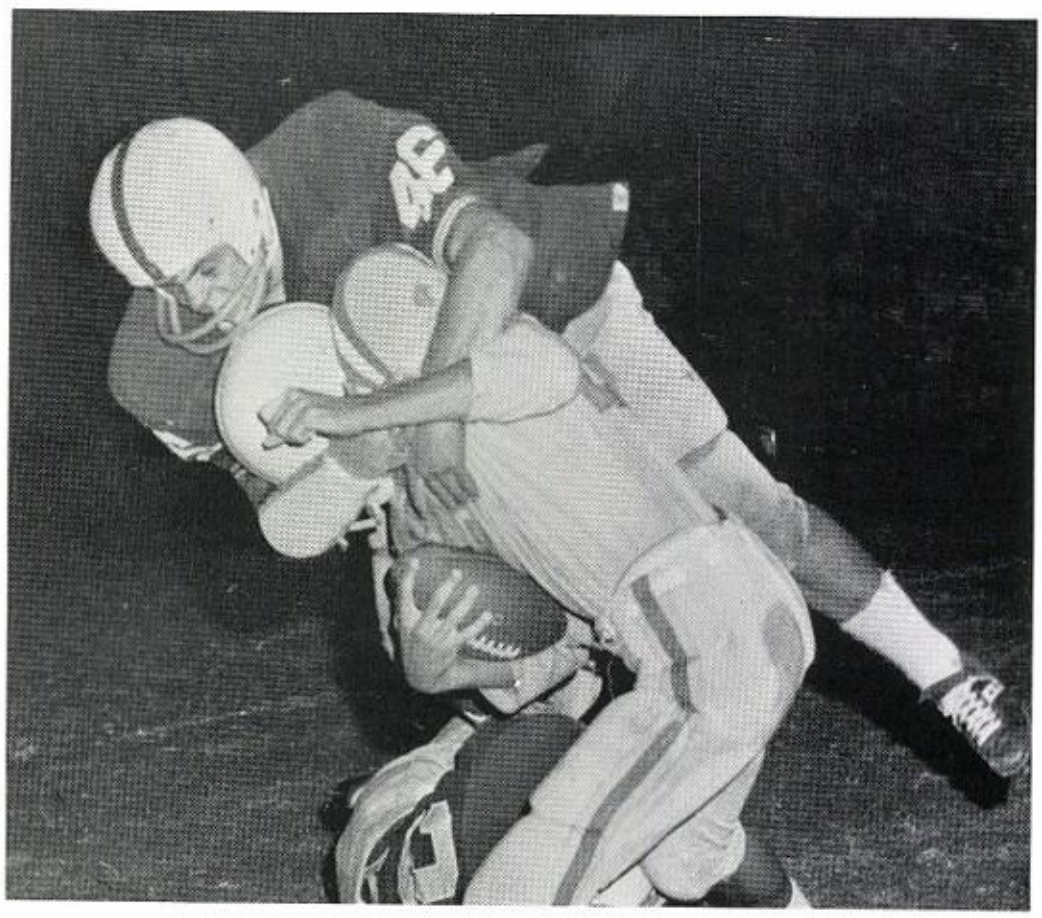
Victory Over Redskins Highlights Season



STOPPED by two Eagle defenders, Dan Blaschke is halted for short yardage in the 23-6 defeat over Harding.

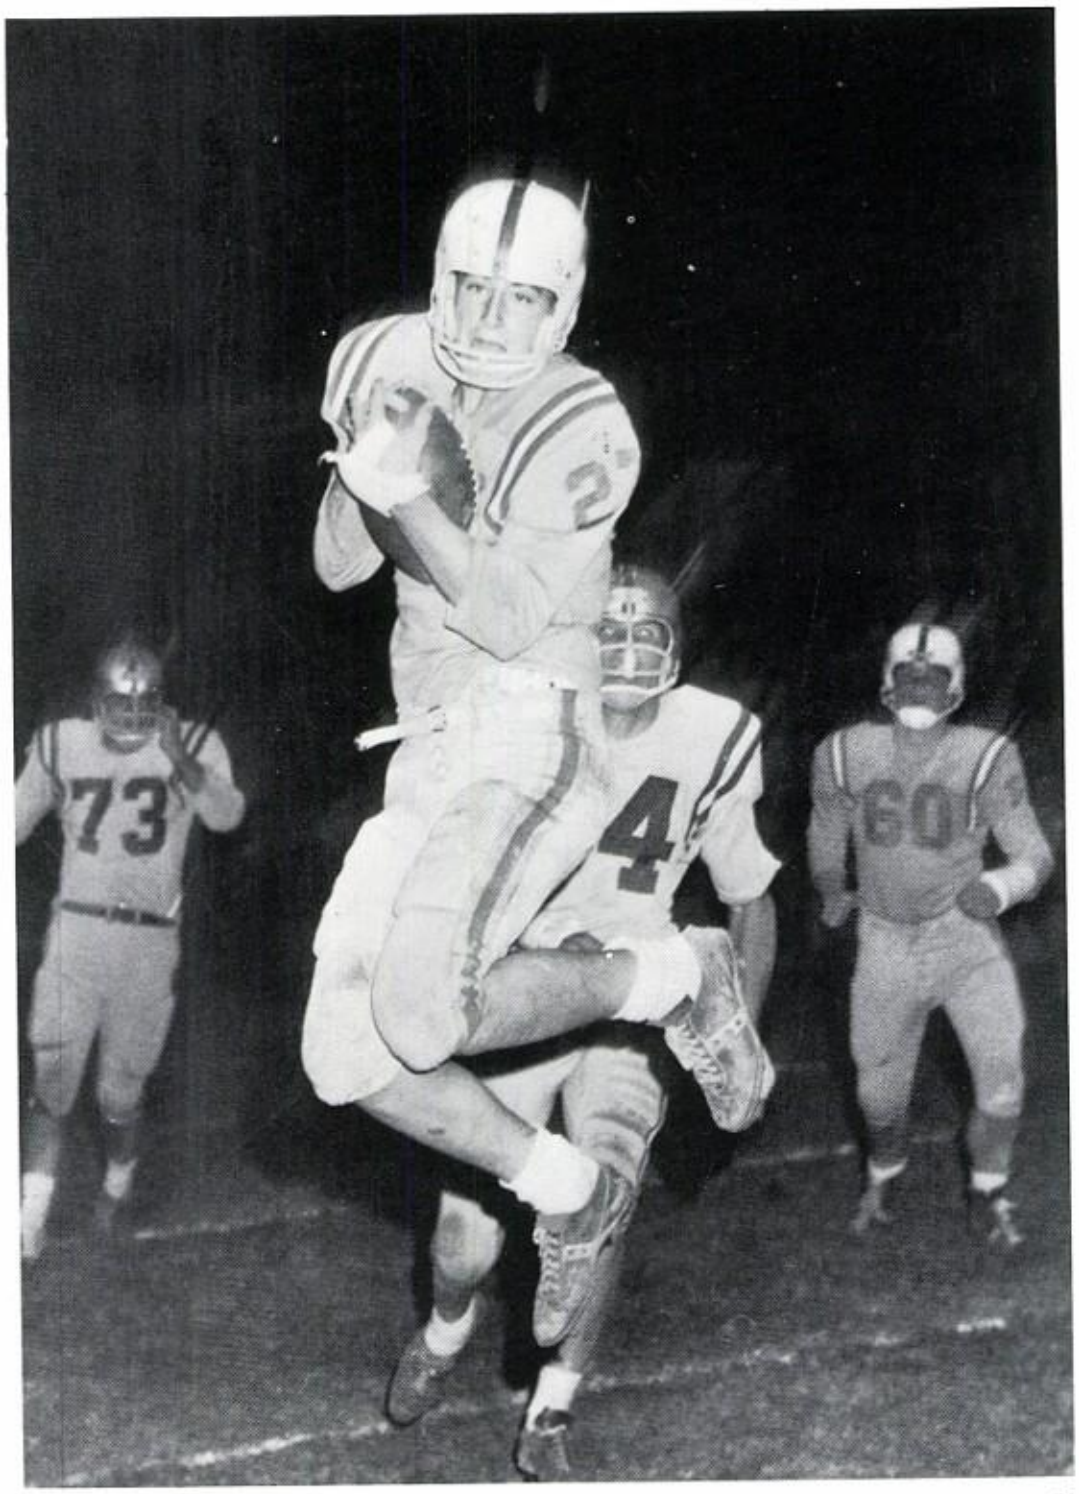
FOR only the second time in 11 years, the Knights stunned the Redskins from Capitol Hill 19-14. Led by fullback Grimes, who rushed for 226 yards in 17 carries, a touchdown of 87 yards in the third quarter was the deciding factor.

Keim hauled in a 13-yard pass from Busey, and Wayne Austin went five yards up the middle for the Knights' two previous scores.

In their first district contest of the year, Northwest and inspired Putnam City fought to a 0-0 standoff. As the clock ran out, the Knights were on the Pirates' one-foot line; this penetration resulted in the Knights' being declared technical winners. NW outgained the Pirates 179-117 yards.

A come-from-behind victory of 22-14 was handed John Marshall before 5,000 Taft Stadium fans, marking the ninth straight triumph of the year for the Bears. NW went ahead in the second quarter, only to have the Bears tie the score in the last play of the first half and score three more touchdowns in the second half.

Losing to the Trojans the next week 14-18 pushed the Knights to the bottom of the district race with a 0-2-1 record.



A LOOK of amazement is worn by Billy Allen as he catches a pass for a 16-yard gain in the Grant skirmish.

Injuries Plague Knights

TRAVELING to Enid, the Knights were defeated 19-0 by the Class Triple A State Champion Plainsmen who rolled up 344 yards rushing to the Knights' 184. Northwest managed only 19 yards in the second half. Grimes' leg was broken in the closing seconds of the first half and his services were lost for the season.

Austin led the Knights past the Shawnee Wolves 7-6 on a rain-soaked field in a game marred by intermittent downpours. Austin gained 147 yards in 47 carries, which was 17 more yards than accounted for by the entire Shawnee team.

In the season's finale, Grant guard Robert Mills booted a 15-yard field goal with two minutes left in the final quarter to spoil Northwest's homecoming 10-8. It was only the third victory all year for the Generals. The Knights outdistanced the Generals in total yardage 213 to 164.

Avenging the A-squad's earlier loss, the B-squad whipped Midwest City 18-0. For the second straight year Dunjee fell 14-12. In their first appearance at Taft Stadium, the Junior Varsity trounced Edmond 44-0.

Leading the Knights offensively were Jim Ellis and Ferrell Bussing in the Knights' backfield. Anchoring the line were Mike Davis, Larry Govin, Steve Grimes, Joe Mallonee, and John Green.

The Knights totaled 120 points to their opponents' 78.

Little Knights Win Seven Straight Games

THE LITTLE KNIGHTS finished their campaign with seven straight wins and one tie after dropping their opener to Jarman 24-0. Jarman was also the only team to score more than six points against them.

The C-squad held six of their nine opponents to no score and trounced three of their foes by more than 33 points. They piled up 175 points to their opponents' 36.

The biggest victory came when they defeated previously unbeaten Capitol Hill 12-0. Mark Keim and Phil Hudson were standouts on the team all year.

Intramurals Keep Pace With the Latest Trends

TO KEEP PACE with the changing interest of students, the intramural committee of Student Council added two new sports, skateboard and wrestling, to the intramural program.

Tennis coach David Hoke served as faculty director; Tom Stacy and Glen Booher were Student Council committee chairmen, directing the fourteen activities on the year's agenda.

All events were scheduled after school and on Saturdays. Athletes participating in the school athletic program were eligible to compete only in intramural sports in which they were not otherwise involved.

First and second semester winners were listed on plaques hanging near the student store.

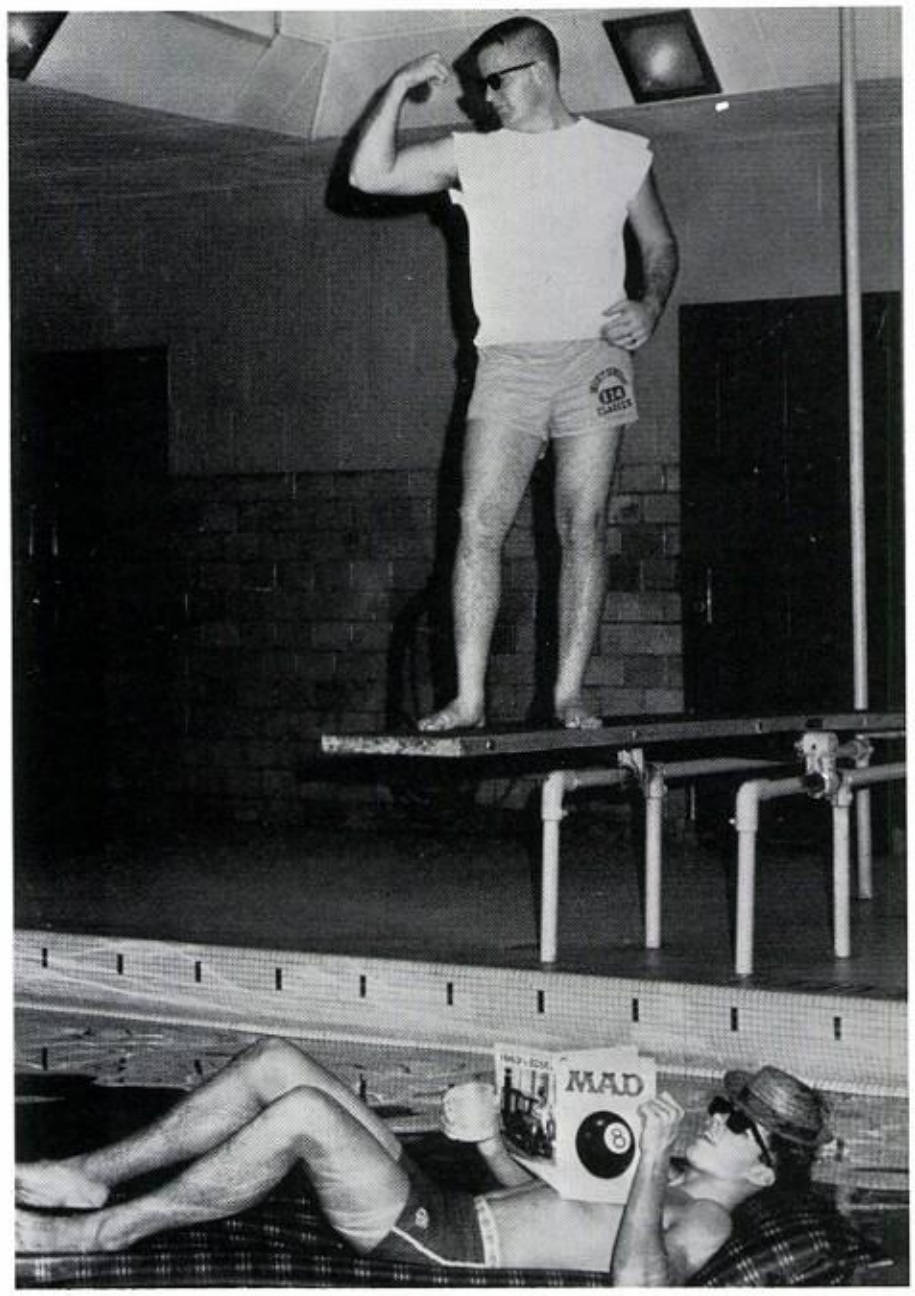
Competition began in September with football, followed by the new popular fad, skateboard. Next came bowling, volleyball, and chess.

The new skateboard contest drew 125 entries for the all-day tourney which was held on the hill south of Baptist Hospital.

Jonny Foster captained teams which won basketball and volleyball events. Team members were Jim Cheatham, John Burrus, Richard Pate, Ken Harper, and Jim Ikard. Ikard, a varsity basketball player, participated only in volleyball.

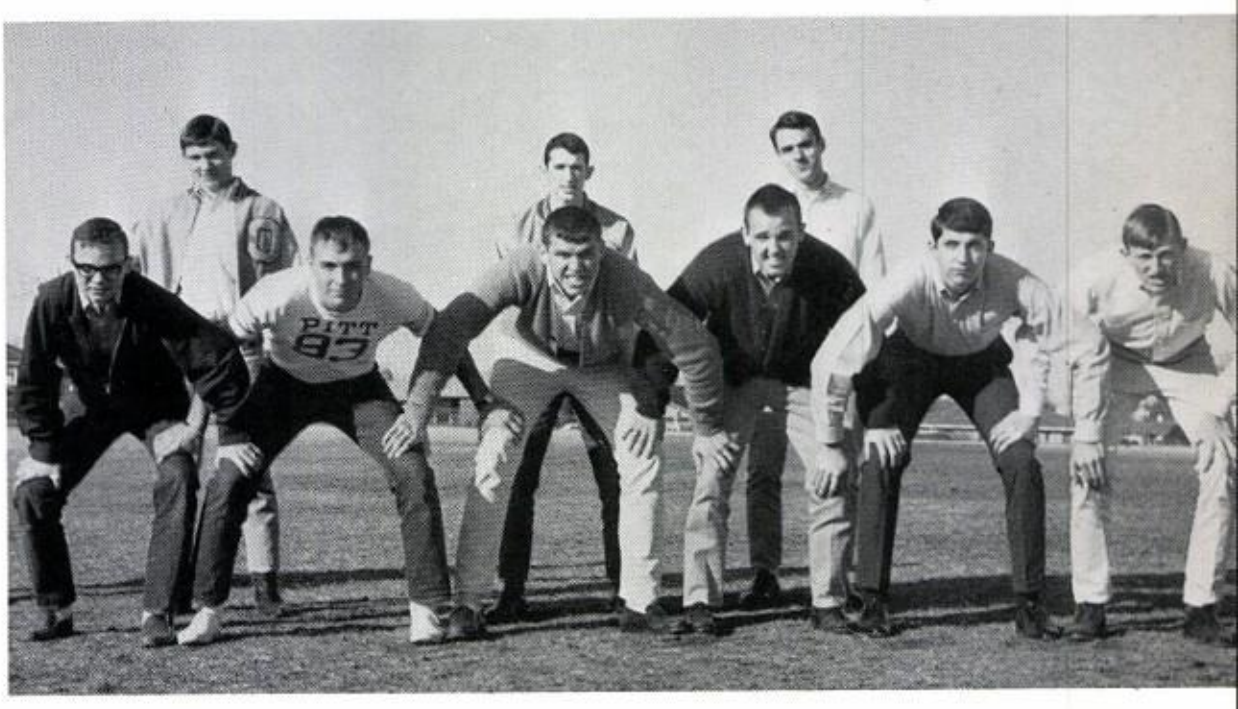
One of the most popular events, ping pong, was dominated by singles and doubles winners, Dawn Hulett, Danny Simon, and Bobby Griggs. Brothers Mark and John Harris reached the finals in chess where they were deadlocked in a stalemate which called for a split championship.

A recap of spring sports will be included in the summer supplement.



READY to take on all challengers is muscular Jack "Flex" Scudder and studious Randy Waterman.

RIDING the wild surf is Robert Holt, who won first in two of three divisions in the skateboard meet.



WINNING football intramurals were "Grangy's Terrors": Dennis Tatum, Gary Kizziar, Carl Jensen, Mike Tate, Kenny Womack, Allen Doll, Greg Crum, Merle Taylor, and John Scott.

Count 19 Wins

DEFENDING Class AA champs, Knights returned four of five starters off last year's state championship team: John Scott, Mike Tate, Jim Ikard, and Gary Kizziar.

Mid-State roundball crown was cinched February 23 when the Knights edged Shawnee 48-46, posting a 12-2 record, one game ahead of the Douglass Trojans (11-3). NW counted 19 wins in regular season play.

In the season's opener, Class A number one team, Northeast, ventured in Knightland and was subdued 81-69. John Scott set a new rebounding record, hauling in 20, and scored 14 points. Center Mike Tate was high point man with 16 points.

Another trophy was added to the basketball team's bulging trophy case when Coach Don Van Pool's cagers journeyed to Tulsa and overcame handily three northern teams: Muskogee (62-33); host Tulsa Hale (64-55); and Enid (63-49).

In the second game Tate pumped in 23 points to help place himself on the All-Tournament team along with John "Scooter" Scott and hustling guard Gary Kizziar.

In their first Mid-State encounter, Northwest escaped with a 67-64 victory over perennially tough Douglass. Once again Mike Tate poured in 21 points and snagged 14 rebounds to pace the Knights in both departments.

Victories over Harding and Grant boosted the win column to 7 for the season and 24 in a row over a two-year period.

Bombers 'Jinx' Knights; Final Games Crucial

BOMBER and Knight fans packed into Midwest City's small gym to see a fiercely competitive contest go into overtime. Midwest City upset the Knights 60-58.

Junior Larry Gatewood, appearing in his first starting role for the Knights, sank 17 points as he led his team to a 72-53 raking of Putnam City.

Ninety-four points poured in by NW January 15 against Grant established a new school scoring record. Five men tallied in double figures as senior Ikard made 21 points; Gatewood and Tate, 17 points each.

The gap was 35 points as the buzzer sounded ending the Capitol Hill game in the Knights' gym. The Redskins were outclassed 88-53. Scott and Kizziar were high point men with 17 and 14 points, respectively.

A turnaway crowd of 2,000 jammed the Pirate gym to watch Kizziar outmaneuver his defenders to score his career high of 21 points and set up other goals with productive passes to spoil homecoming for Putnam City (75-63).

Once again the Knights mastered the Enid Plainsmen, although the score (62-60) was much closer than that of their first meeting.

Never before had so many people clamored to see the Knights play as when Douglass came across town in an attempt to sidetrack the Knights' Mid-State fortunes. A decisive 90-73 triumph boosted NW to a full game ahead of the Trojans.

Shawnee's "slow down" strategy was unsuccessful as the Knights prevailed 29-21. For the sixth time in two years Enid was tripped (64-60) by the Purple and Gold.

A tension-packed game, marked by disputed plays, resulted in Northwest's heartbreaking loss (55-51) to arch rival Midwest City. Excited fans filled the Knights' gym by 6:30 p.m., a full hour before game time, and fire marshalls locked the outside doors.

Ikard was top man with 19 points and 16 rebounds as the Knights stopped Harding Eagles (66-54) for the second time this season.

Capitol Hill was eight points ahead with three minutes to play, but the determined Knights made a breathtaking comeback to escape with a 55-52 victory.

The following Tuesday NW faced a crucial test with Shawnee to gain clear-cut possession of the Mid-State conference crown. Once more the Knights were forced to come from 12 points behind with three minutes left in the game to ease past the inspired Wolves 48-46.

'B' Team Staggers Foes With 36 Wins

A SPECTACULAR 36-win streak, spanning a two-year period, was recorded by Coach Jerry Haynes' "B" team. The season's tally was 16-0.

Leading scorers were Mike Page, with 140 points; David Gibbs, 114; and Frosty Lloyd, 100. Tops in the rebound department was 6'5" Charles Ogden. Other outstanding players were sophomores Bill Cheatham, Jim Schwartzendruber, Steve Wilson, and Terry O'Toole.

Narrow victories over conference teams were posted as Northwest slipped by Douglass 73-69, Enid 49-41, and Shawnee 54-53. Northeast's Vikings came nearest to upsetting the Knights as they were beaten by only a two-point margin, 42-40.

The season's biggest victory was the 83-51 trouncing of Capitol Hill.

The C-squad, coached by Mr. Phil Harriss, finished the year with a 6-4 record. Highlights of the season were decisive wins over Capitol Hill (51-23; 56-17) and Putnam City.

High scorer was Mike Sutter whose total points were almost twice the combined efforts of the other team members. Tim Eaker and Don Greenamyer were tops in the rebound department.

Performances turned in by both "B" and "C" squads indicate that the Knights will continue for some time o occupy a top spot in state basketball circles.

Swim Team Features Newcomers, 3 Veterans

WITH ONLY THREE of last year's top ten swimmers returning, Northwest claimed Mid-State runner-up position, missing first place by only seven points, and won third in the city meet.

Team captain David Whytlaw contributed substantially to his team's standing by taking first place in both City and Mid-State meets in diving and the 400-yard free style.

Coach Charles Carpenter's inexperienced squad was beaten in the City meet by Harding and John Marshall. Both schools also outclassed the Knights in dual meets before NW met their first conference foe, Enid, overwhelming them 52-43.

Next Capitol Hill was left in the Knights' wake 74-17. A barrage of first places by NW swimmers resulted in the Douglass swimmers being the third straight conference team to be decisively defeated by the Knights.

Grant's Generals edged the Knights who promptly came back for a victory over Putnam City.

Proving stronger than previous Midwest City editions, Bomber swimmers swam past Northwest 57-38.

Knights journeyed to Ponca City where all swimmers turned in top performances before veteran Ponca swimmers slipped past them 50-45.

Since only two of the most valuable swimmers, Dave Dougall and Whytlaw, are seniors, next year's team, profiting from this year's experience, should show considerable improvement.

CLOWNING before a practice session are returning lettermen Gene Smith, Bob Pruitt, juniors; David Whytlaw and Dave Dougall, seniors.

FRESHMAN swimming star Jim Walkup displays the form that earned him a berth on the varsity swimming team. Jim was the only member of the team who qualified in the State Meet.

Wrestlers Finish Strong With 5 Straight Wins

FINISHING the season with a 7-2 record in dual meets, Knight grapplers reached their peak the latter part of their schedule with five consecutive wins.

In tournament competition, wrestlers placed third in the Edmond Invitational and City meets. Out of a field of 16 teams participating in the annual Geary tournament, Knights came in a strong fifth place, besting city champions John Marshall.

Northwest opened its dual meets with a 19-14 win over Capital conference foe Classen and a 21-18 victory over Putnam City.

In January, a traveling Japanese All-Star team attracted wide attention when they completely outclassed all Oklahoma opponents.

Although the visitors blanked their hosts in matches, they apparently left a favorable mark on their new friends. The Knights never lost another match, winning the following five consecutive meets: Midwest City 22-14; Douglass 27-11; Norman 23-9; Harding 24-11; Capitol Hill 38-0.

The top five scorers during the regular season were Van Bumpas 96; Johnny Reeves 77; David Smith 71; Ralph Rogers 58; Jerry Huddleston 50.

Six boys qualified for the state meet: Bumpas, Reeves, Mike Andrews, Smith, Kenneth Cochran, and Rogers.

SPORTSWOMEN produced a district and city championship softball team for the second straight year and the city swimming crown for the fourth consecutive year.

Coach Waynoka Lovett's softball team opened its season by overwhelming John Marshall, Harding, and Star Spencer by scores of 14-7, 8-5, 15-0, respectively.

The team's success was due mainly to exceptional pitching by Ellen Howard and leading hitters Betsy Beausang, Linda Myers, and Becky Davis.

An inexperienced volleyball team won two out of eight games, defeating Classen and Southeast. Returning letterwomen were Linda and Judy Vandennieuwenhof; outstanding players were Ann Mahan and Nelda Reyes.

With only three letterwomen reporting for basketball, the team managed just two wins. In the final game, the girls scored 40 points against Central, beating them 40-28.

Swimmers splashed to top ratings under the supervision of Coach Margie Smith. Returning letterwomen were Katie and Jeanie Thornton, Tish Ellis, Janice Carlton, Sherry Sheehan, and Pam Crotts.

Highlight of the season was the 88-78 defeat of Harding's swim team, annually NW's strongest city competition.

Girls annually sponsor candy and bake sales to help finance the club's annual weekend trip in May. This year a paper drive was added to the money-making projects.

"O" Clubs shared operation of the concession stands for home games. Boys used their part in helping to pay for the January banquet where initiation for football and cross country lettermen was held. Also formally initiated were those boys who lettered in spring sports last year. Officers were installed at this time.

Girls held their traditional Club Christmas party, entertaining orphans from a local home. Two initiations were held: January 18, first semester letterwomen were initiated at a dinner at O'Mealey's; second semester initiation was held during the weekend trip at Western Hills Lodge May 22-23.

Boys "O" Clubbers launched their year's activities by selecting five girls as candidates for All-Sports Queen. Those honored were Janis Nowlin, Cindy Patterson, Chris Reynolds, Barbara Sigmon, and Cindy Williams.

The heart of the school is its people . . .
They turn the hollow buildings into something alive . . .
something almost human.
Each of them—
all with different dreams, ambitions, and desires—searches for fulfillment of his needs.

EACH 1965 Senior class officer is outstanding in a special phase of school life. Jim Ikard, pres., is an All-State basketball star and was selected to attend the Young Christian Athletes camp in 1964. Rusty Holloway, vice pres., excels in speech and debate and has represented Northwest Classen nationally. Sammie Vinson, sec., co-edits the Shield and is Times Correspondent. Her wit and good humor proved invaluable in planning senior activities. Carol Pickens, treas., has been a majorette for three years, serving as captain her senior year. Dave Dougall is NWC's "professional sgt. at arms", serving not only the senior class, but Student Council as well.

Officers Organize Senior Activities

EVERYONE knows that seniors are very special people. But no one is more convinced of this than the upperclassman himself. Seniors have more fun, know more people, win more honors and appear to do less studying than anyone in school.

The senior is glamorous to the freshman and irritating to the junior. After four years of unforgettable experiences, he is blase and sophisticated. He knows his school and his place in it. He complains of "Senioritis" at school, but the weekend finds him ready for action.

Beneath his uninhibited antics and seemingly complete disregard for rules is a deep loyalty and pride. Here he has been both afraid and self-confident; elated and disappointed.

Most senior conversations include the phrases, "Remember back in our sophomore year when we . . ." or "Who are you rooming with next year?"

Being a senior is an ending and a beginning. Each special event is a little sad because he knows it's his last, but he looks forward to leaving behind the routine which he feels he has outgrown.

Our senior year was filled with events and things that make us smile . . . the cowboy boots no senior boy could be without, the "list", the Midwest City game, the state championship, the game signs, the "cuts", James Brown, student council debates, 007, the purple dragon, the parking lot signs, Silkies, and graduation night . . .

There is a moment during graduation when we wish we could make time stand still and never lose what we feel now. But through our goodbyes are the memories of four wonderful years at Northwest Classen and assurance that "the emblem of proud Knighthood will never leave our hearts."

Squires Take Pride in Noble Advancement

WE, THE CLASS OF '66, standing midway on the path to Knighthood, embrace the past with fond remembrance and face the future with longing. We look back with pride on our achievements and gaze forward with anticipation to the lofty heights of Knighthood as we advance toward its shining light.

Climbing the trail blazed by Knights of old, we accept eagerly their challenge to carry on the emblem of proud Knighthood as they have done with victory and honor.

Our bewilderment after taking the National Merits was soon overshadowed by the excitement over long-awaited class rings and the prom, in which we took so much pride in planning for the soon-to-graduate seniors. And then came the realization of our changing position as our friends were elected to places of leadership for the coming year—Our year.

With the passing of the sword passes not only the traditions and dreams of the past, but the responsibilities and goals of the future.

With courage and vision, inherited from our predecessors, we, the Squires of today, have grown in this tradition of Knighthood worthy to become the Knights of tomorrow.

"SEE, we don't have to plan the picnic until it starts budding again." Sophomore Rob Elder, sgt. at arms, points out to fellow officers Katie Thornton, secretary, Terry O'Toole, vice president, Elaine Claunch, treasurer, and Johnny Reeves, president, that their class picnic requires long-range planning.

PICNIC sites are considered by sophomore sponsors Miss Henrietta Von Tungeln and Mrs. Carolyn Wakely for the annual class picnic.

Sophomore Endeavors Mirror United Efforts

NORTHWEST CLASSEN Heralds approach Knighthood as did Heralds of ancient lore. They rise from humble Pages to Squires and hence to Knights.

Scholastically, Heralds ground through required subjects, including English, with its verbs, Silas Marner, infinitives, and Julius Caesar. In new math courses we tackled squares, cubes, and other figures. Frogs and insects occupied our time in biology, while gym classes centered around volleyball, cageball, and other hair-pulling, nail-breaking sports.

Sophomores learned, however, that hard work brings lasting rewards.

Always Heralds plan and look toward the future. As we approach the halfway mark at Northwest, we take stock of ourselves and our accomplishments. We feel that our class has made a substantial contribution.

As we anticipate becoming squires, we willingly face new responsibilities, new opportunities, and new challenges. When we finally attain our cherished goal and become full-fledged Knights, we shall look back with pride and satisfaction to this year.

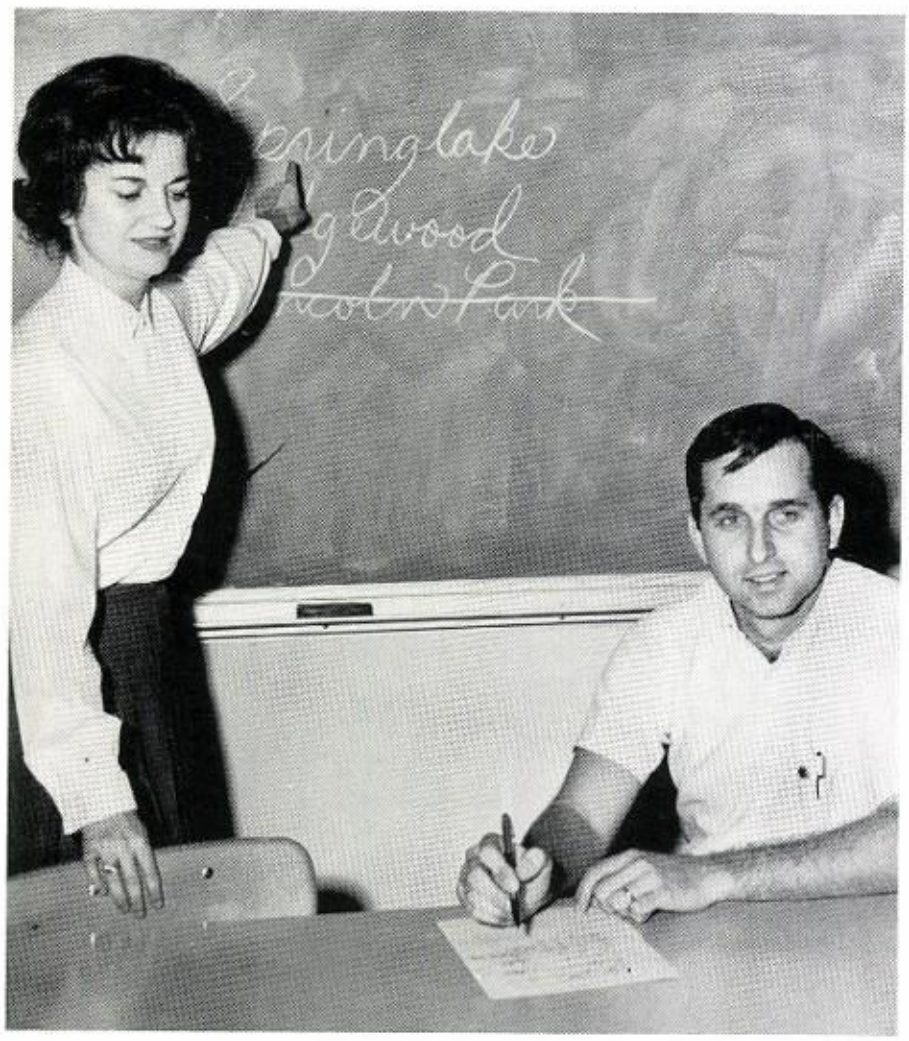
ASSISTING an elementary student in Arts and Crafts is sophomore Susan Webster, a volunteer for the Emerson Project.

POOLSIDE discussions of problems that only freshmen could have prove pleasant for class officers Linda McCullough, secretary; Mark Keim, vice president; Kent Carnahan, president; Jim Baker, sgt. at arms; and Paula Collins, treasurer.

Newcomers Make Rapid Adjustment



WHERE to have the annual freshman picnic is the question sponsors Barbara Sethney and Don Gardner are confronting.

TO ENTER the kingdom of Knightland required more than a little courage for the 840 Pages. Finding the way around this "awesome castle" was just one of the problems confronting our youngest class.

Orientation Day was the first step in our realization that we had nothing to fear. From the welcoming speeches of Mr. Malone, Dave Elder, and other school leaders, we concluded that we already "belonged."

We were eager to fit into this "big operation," where learning is fun and friendliness and challenges abound.

Our first day we read in The Shield about the people, places, and things which were to play such a big role in our life as Pages. The Howdy Mixer, planned especially for us, showed us that the password here is "Howdy" and that, plus a friendly smile, assures success at Northwest.

Attention was focused on grades because acquiring knowledge was our first mission; we found that certain standards were required before we could qualify for organizations we wanted to join. We were already anticipating college entrance requirements; making long range plans with our counselor for our curriculum was essential.

The months rolled by in rapid succession. We thrilled to the coronations; each seemed more beautiful than the last. Sports, we loved. We joined pep clubs and special interest groups. We aspired to honor organizations that would be available to us next year. We were grateful for our first year, because we had truly earned our place as Heralds and were eager to be among the Knights and Ladies who would make next year's Pages feel as we do now—a significant, important part of Northwest Classen.

IT SEEMS as if there are rules for everything as Janis Bourland encounters David Crumby in the "off limits" corridor.

HAZARDS of big-school life do not daunt Janis as she playfully demonstrates her first reaction to parking lot traffic.

Dear Friends,

The 1965 Round Table now in your hands is yours. In it we have tried to show the heritage of the past and traditions set for the future.

The first Round Table published in 1955 established a pattern of events long to be remembered. We hope that this book, ten years later, has helped to perpetuate these memorable traditions.

A twenty-page summer supplement, which will include awards, spring sports, the prom, and graduation activities, will be mailed to you by midsummer.

Without the encouragement of Mr. Malone, the faculty, and our fellow students, this book would not exist. Special thanks go to Mr. Barclay Curtis, our yearbook consultant, Wagner's Studio, class photographers, Mrs. Walter L. Sutton of Meyers Photo Shop, Mrs. Joe Fallin, and Mrs. Nathan Sherman, who provided shelter and encouragement for staff members.

To all the Knights and Ladies who have gone before us, we owe thanks for their contributions to these formative years of progress and achievement which we honor in this tenth anniversary book.

But to you the student, faculty member, or alumni who will keep these traditions glowing, we pay special tribute.

If, after viewing the preceding pages, you have developed greater appreciation of Northwest Classen's accomplishments and traditions, you will have made our efforts worthwhile.

Sincerely,

Della Filson

THE CHERISHED PAST

Gone now the pleasant strains of golden past,
A cherished part of life now left behind:
The time glides by, but still the memories last,
Fond souvenirs to grace the heart and mind.

We go but not as single separate parts,
Ours goals are set toward new unconquered heights;
A deep undying honor binds our hearts
And makes us proud to bear the name of Knights.

Behind, the fading mists of years now gone,
Cast off the colors once we proudly wore:
The Glory which we knew lives ever on,
Though through these hallowed halls we'll walk no more.

For though we leave the Emblem of the Knight,
The radiance of its love will e'er glow bright.

Craig Busey

AWARDS presented April 27 in the first of the two annual awards assemblies were contributed by civic groups, individuals and foundations in recognition of achievement in specific fields.

Scholastic excellence is stimulated by these presentations, closely guarded secrets until announced in one of the traditional awards assemblies held each spring.

Classen Awards perpetuate the memory of Anton and Ella D. Classen, Oklahoma City '89ers and early civic leaders.

When these awards were established, Mr. Classen stipulated that the awards would be given for "outstanding promise of worthy contribution to the progress of the world by reason of strength of character, record of scholarship, activities of leadership, and all-around achievement."

"KNIGHTS ARE BEST" was the slogan of "Achievement Day" which was celebrated Monday following the Knights' victory in the state basketball tournament.

"NOW you see, Gary, Dogpatch Week does have its advantages." Junior Gary Empie doesn't need convincing by his hostess, sophomore Judy Little, that the Dogpatch picnic is a great Knightland tradition.

89'ERS' DAY was celebrated in style as the Student Council sponsored "Western Day." Prizes for the best costumes were awarded Liz Herring and Dale Hall.

FIRST PLACE TROPHIES in debate and extemporaneous speaking in state and national competition earned Karl Johnson and Joe Pryor a trip to the national speech tournament in Omaha, Nebraska, this summer.

End-of-Year Activities

Combine Work, Play

AS SPRING APPROACHED, Knight fancies turned to delightfully traditional awarding and rewarding events.

Every group was keyed to the final fling: Thespian and Quill and Scroll initiations, the final issue of The Shield, club and class picnics, elections, Round Table delivery, continuing honors and scholarships awarded to Knights, finals—all pointing to May 28—vacation for all, but an end of one era, the beginning of another.

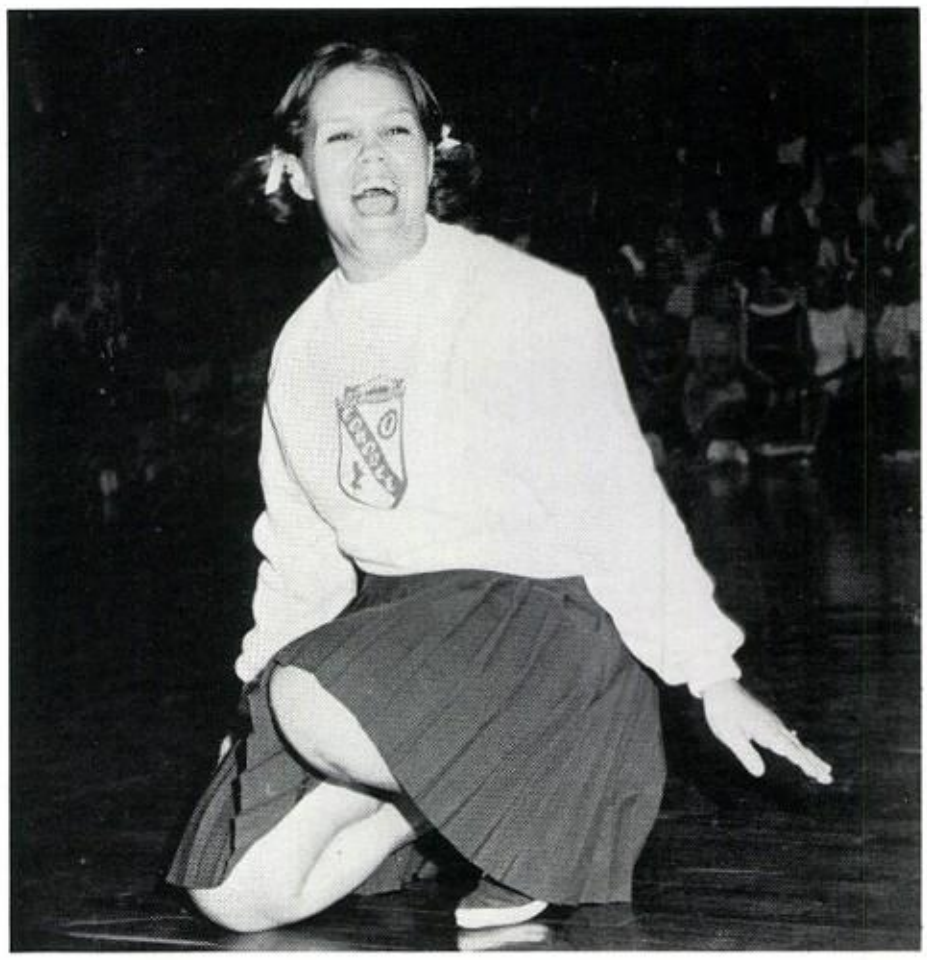
"Achievement Day" was declared March 22 after the Knights won their second straight state basketball crown. Departmental achievements were cited in assembly, followed by a victory mixer in the gym.

Dog-Patch Week, sponsored by Student Council, began April 19 when girls invited boys out for "coke night". Other events in the week's festivities included a picnic, Church and Drive-in nights, Bermuda shorts day and a mixer.

Speech students won sweepstakes in the regional contest at Central State College, while the Band and Orchestra received superior rating in district competition.

Mr. J. Frank Malone was elected chairman of the new Principals' Advisory Group at OU, formed to improve articulation between state schools and the University.

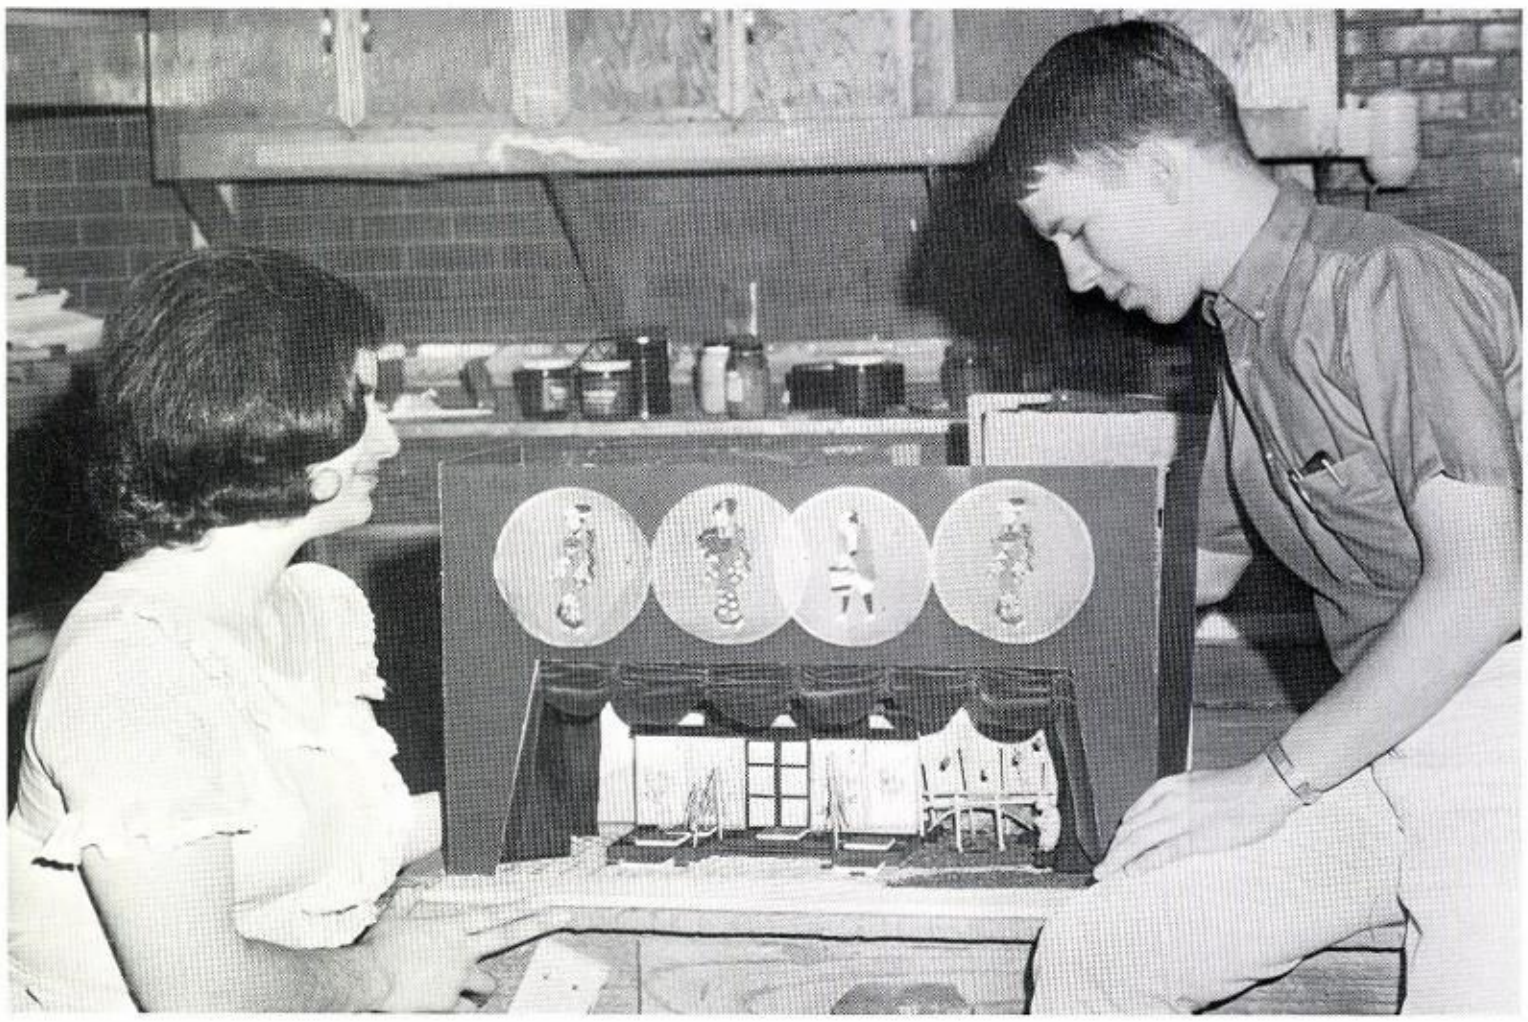
Mr. John Paden was named the state's top biology teacher before being selected Outstanding Biology Teacher of the Year in five-state regional competition.



VIVACIOUS English teacher, Mrs. Robbie Vaclaw, cheers for the losing faculty team in the annual Faculty-Varsity basketball game.

SPACE GIRLS in one of twenty dances performed by Modern Dance classes in their spring pageant are Sandra Homsey, Suzanne Luttrell, Janice Cherry, Sandy Black, and DeDe Legate.

Varied Activities, Honors Announced



A FIRST PLACE winner in the state Thespian contest was this model set of "The Teahouse of the August Moon" designed by Carolyn Samara and David Smith.

A COLLECTION of state and national awards for her achievements in Distributive Education was earned by Vicki Lout.

CONGRATULATING Bobbie Arentz for being elected Governor of Girls' State at Chickasha's Oklahoma College for Women June 1 were David Gibbs, Ray Broadfoot, and Ginger Ridgeway, who were among the Northwest representatives at the summer seminars.

BROWSING through their new Round Tables are Gary Zanovich, Gary Wilson, Debie Riddles, and Diana Lawson.

Traditions, Friendships Take on New Importance

FEELINGS were sad, warm, anxious as friendships and school traditions took on added significance during the last busy, eventful weeks of school.

THE CLASS OF 1966 proved that nothing is as enchanting or alluring as a springtime vacation to the Eternal City—Rome, when they honored the Seniors with "Three Coins in a Fountain" as the theme of the May 7 Junior-Senior prom.

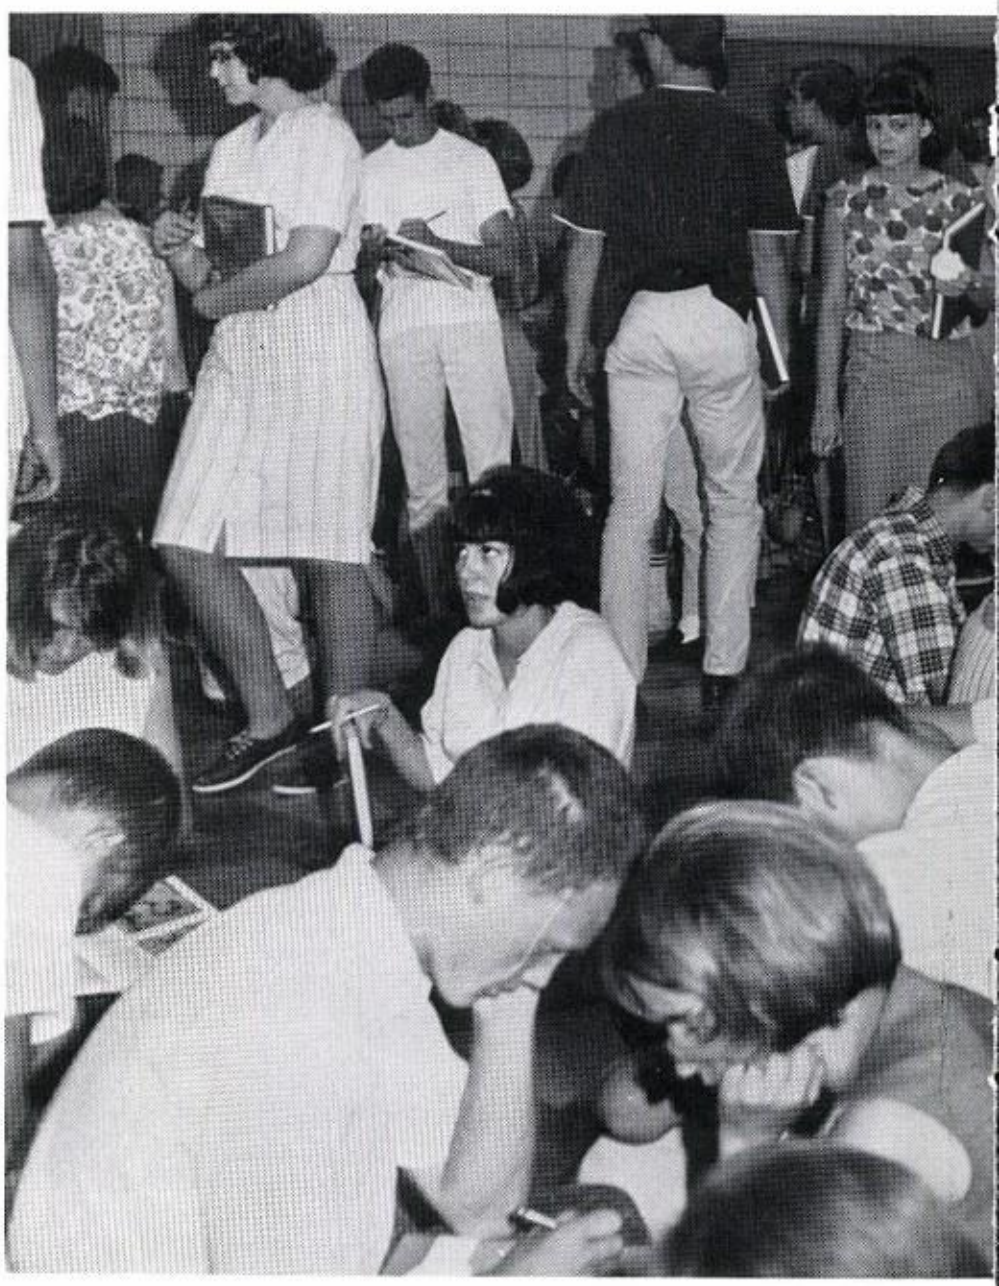
A colorful garden scene was the background for the coronation of the Round Table King and Queen and the first breathtaking glimpse of the '65 yearbook.

A "miniature musical" highlighted the Cry-slur Concert May 14. Freshman speech students were hosts to Northwest's first beginning speech tournament. Twenty-eight juniors scored above 135 on National Merit Scholarship tests. The Shield was pronounced tops in the state at the OIPA.

The week after school was out the cheerleaders traveled to Kansas City where they won the first place Grand Prize, competing with 45 other entries in the Mid-America cheerleading tournament.

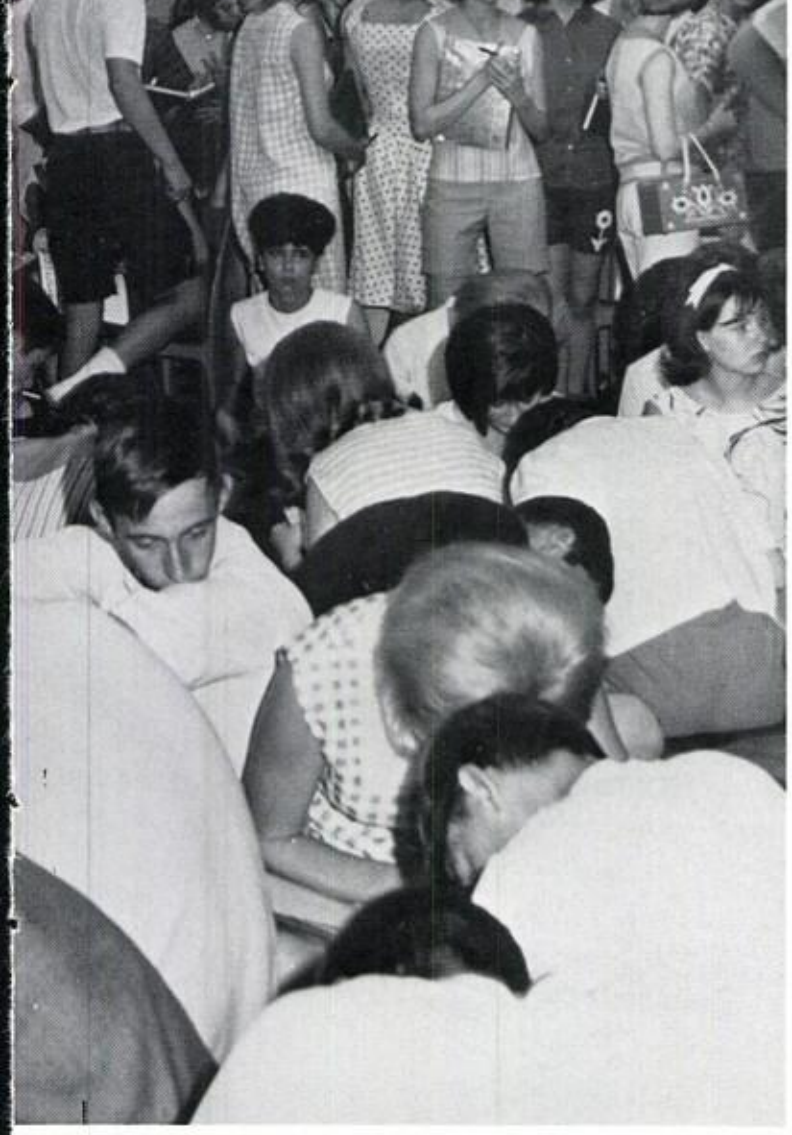
Bobbie Arentz was elected Governor of Girls State at Oklahoma College for Women as John Bado became the Sooner Party candidate for Boys State governor.

ROUND TABLE ROYALTY—Susie Meister and Jonny Foster, attended by Greg and Kristie Leach, watch assembly entertainment.



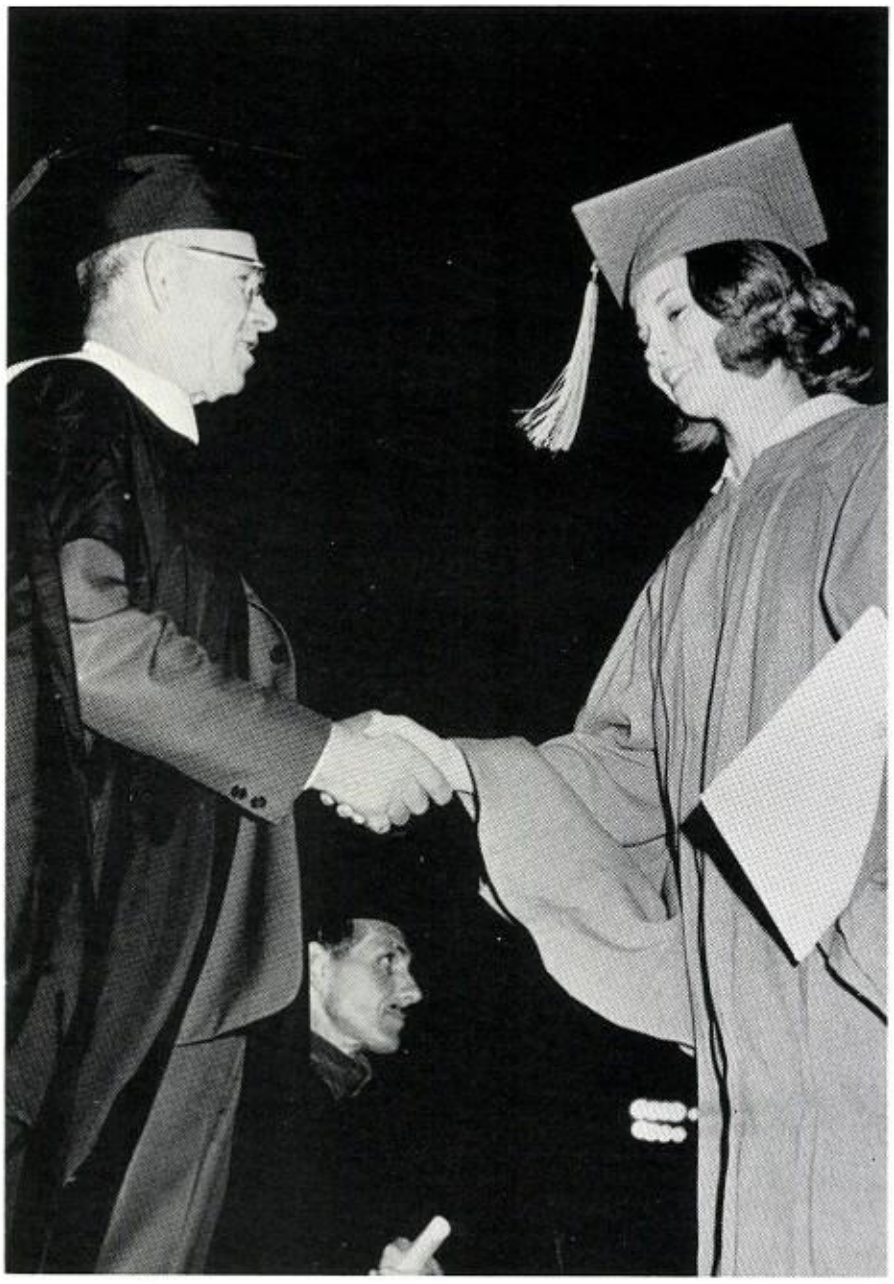
"THIS IS IT—the '65 Round Table!" The first copy of the yearbook is presented Mr. Malone by co-editor Judy Sherman.

THE GRAND FINALE of prom entertainment featured a duet by Joe Pryor and De Ann Lee.

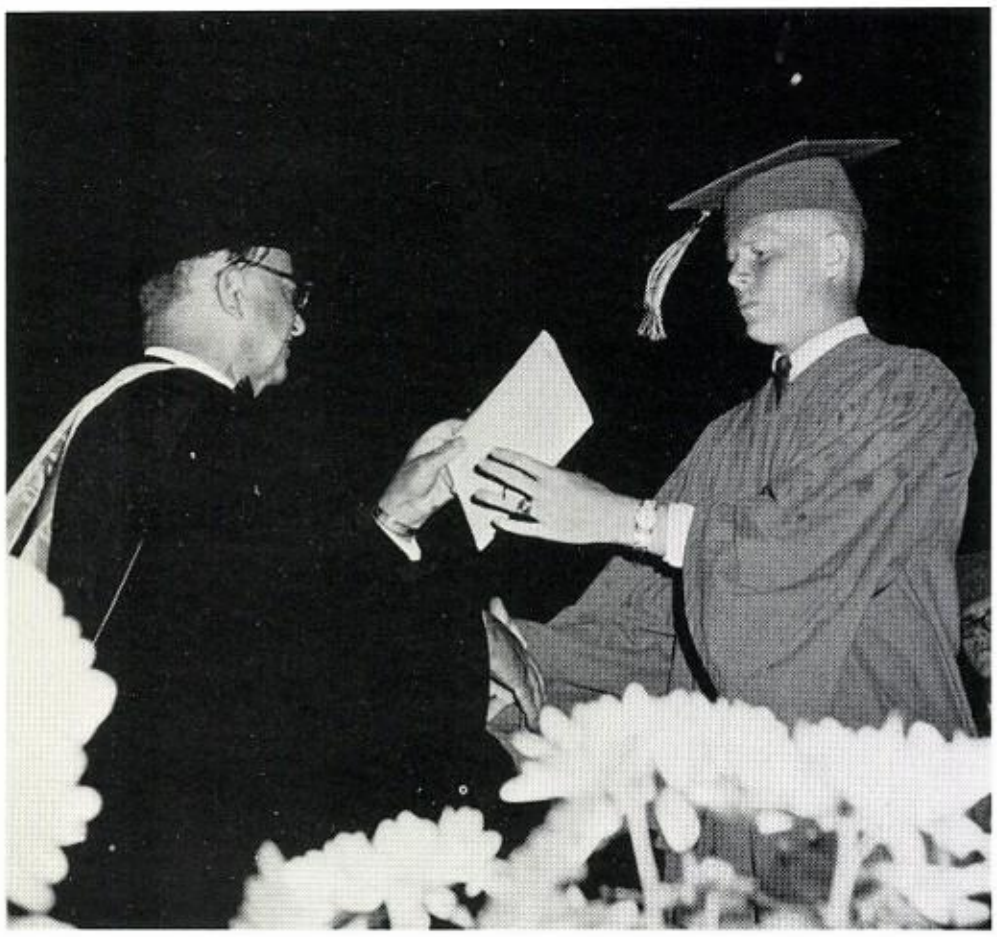


IT'S NOT A GAME of concentration, but students signing yearbooks at the Signature Swing.

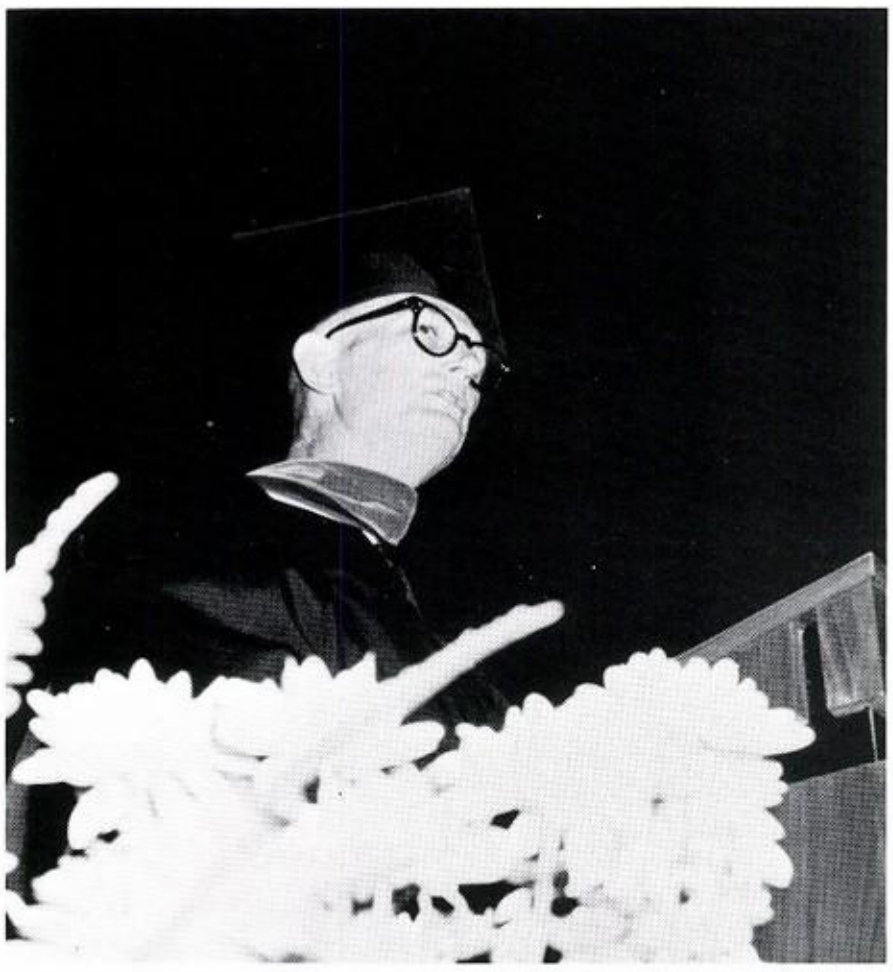
PROM-GOERS Kathy Barrett and Mark Gerhardt are greeted by the receiving line, consisting of class officers and the Malones.



"BEST WISHES!" Mr. Leon Bruner, assistant principal, congratulates Betsy Beebe.



AND THE RAINS CAME! Bob Wilson finds that his place in the alphabet is somewhat of a disadvantage as he gets caught in the downpour.



AN INSPIRING address was presented at commencement by Mr. Truett Coston, prominent city architect and civic leader.

Senior Events Climax Four Memorable Years

THE FINAL ROUND of activities for the 796 seniors began when announcements were received May 6.

Endless rehearsals and meetings took place in preparation for the senior assembly and senior breakfast.

For the first time the Senior Sermon was given in a church rather than in the school auditorium. Dr. C. Ralston Smith, taking his text from the book of Mark, presented the class sermon May 23 in the First Presbyterian Church.

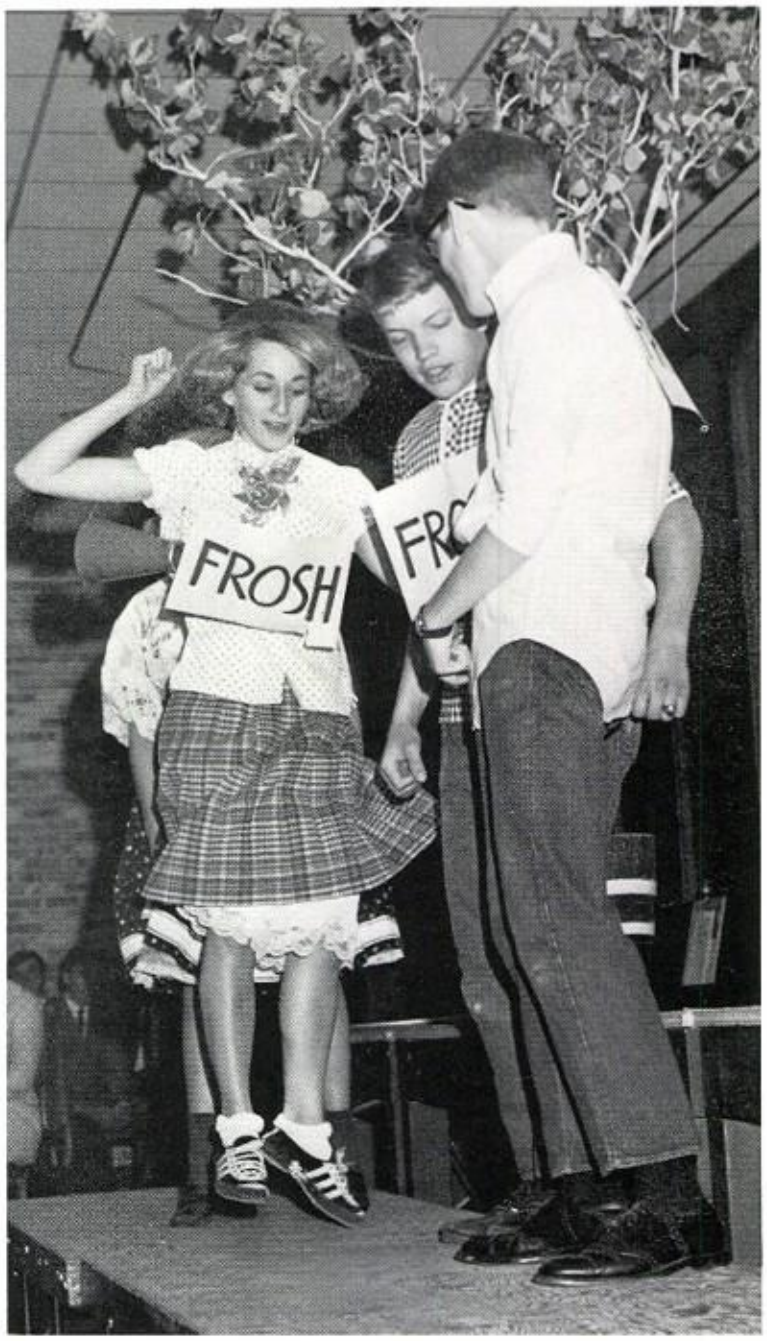
"That Was the Year That Was" served as the theme for the Senior Assembly May 21. Consisting of five scenes: Sindig, 007, Riverbottom, Bookie, and When Seniors Get Blue, the review satirized school life.

The Senior Breakfast in the ballroom at Shepherd Mall featured "Scraps from the Past" a spoof on highlights of four years at Northwest.

Seniors adjusted mortarboards, checked their tassels and smoothed their gowns one last time before marching into Taft Stadium at 8 p.m. May 28. Mr. Truett Coston, city architect, spoke on the unusual subject, "Futility of a Commencement Address".

The songs of the choir, Mr. Coston's inspiring address, the presentation of the class by Principal J. Frank Malone, the awarding of diplomas and the final singing of the Alma Mater served as a fitting climax to four years of work and play at Northwest Classen.

"THE SINDIG" SCENE, take-off on TV's Shindig program, was enacted by senior boys in the Senior Assembly.



"SCRAPS FROM THE PAST" at the Senior Breakfast revived memories of freshman days when the Twist was the rage and students were chauffeured by parents. Julie Levin, Randy Foster, Paul Robinson, Randy James, Craig Busey, and Marty McPheeters played leading roles in the four skits. .

FINAL INSTRUCTIONS for graduation exercise procedure is given seniors in a morning practice session at Taft Stadium.

A SURPRISE PACKAGE containing a color TV was presented Coach Van Pool at the Coronet banquet March 27 by Mr. Don Carreker, Booster Club president.

GOING OVER Jim Ikard's head to snatch a rebound in the state finals is Shawnee's Eddie Hinton.

Cagers Shatter Records as They Retain State Crown

CAGERS RETAINED the state basketball title won last year and became the first AA team in state history to win the crown twice in succession as they outgunned Lawton 78-71 in the finals March 20 in Municipal Auditorium.

On their way to the state finals, Knights eked out a 60-56 victory over Enid March 18 and spoiled Tulsa Washington's title hopes the next night 81-61 in regional play.

Four of the five NWC starters were named to all-tournament berths as another first was claimed for the champions.

Mike Tate, who shattered the tourney's career point total with 95, and Gary Kizziar, playmaker behind the powerful offensive machine, were named to the first team.

Picked for the second squad were Jim Ikard and John Scott. The Knights also shattered by 37 points the highest three-game state tournament total with 219 tallies.

This fitting climactic achievement concluded the high school careers, not only of the starters, but six other senior players: Wayne Austin, Keith Buchwald, Greg Crum, Stan Davis, Carl Jensen, and Kenny Phelps.

The week after the state finals Ikard and Scott were named All-Staters, with Kizziar as alternate.

COACHES Van Pool and Treat found out how tough the Knights really were in the annual Varsity-Faculty game when the Varsity triumphed 47-41.

Netmen Lob 6th Crown; Golfers Anticipate Peak

TENNIS AND GOLF teams contributed greatly to the Knights' athletic fortunes in 1965.

Coach David Hoke's tennis team captured their sixth consecutive City championship, their fifth Mid-State Conference title, and won 17 dual matches. In their only two losses, they were edged 5-4 by Lawton and Shawnee after having beaten the two teams previously.

For the first time in Mid-State tournament history, one team, Northwest, made a complete sweep in competition. All six entries won their matches.

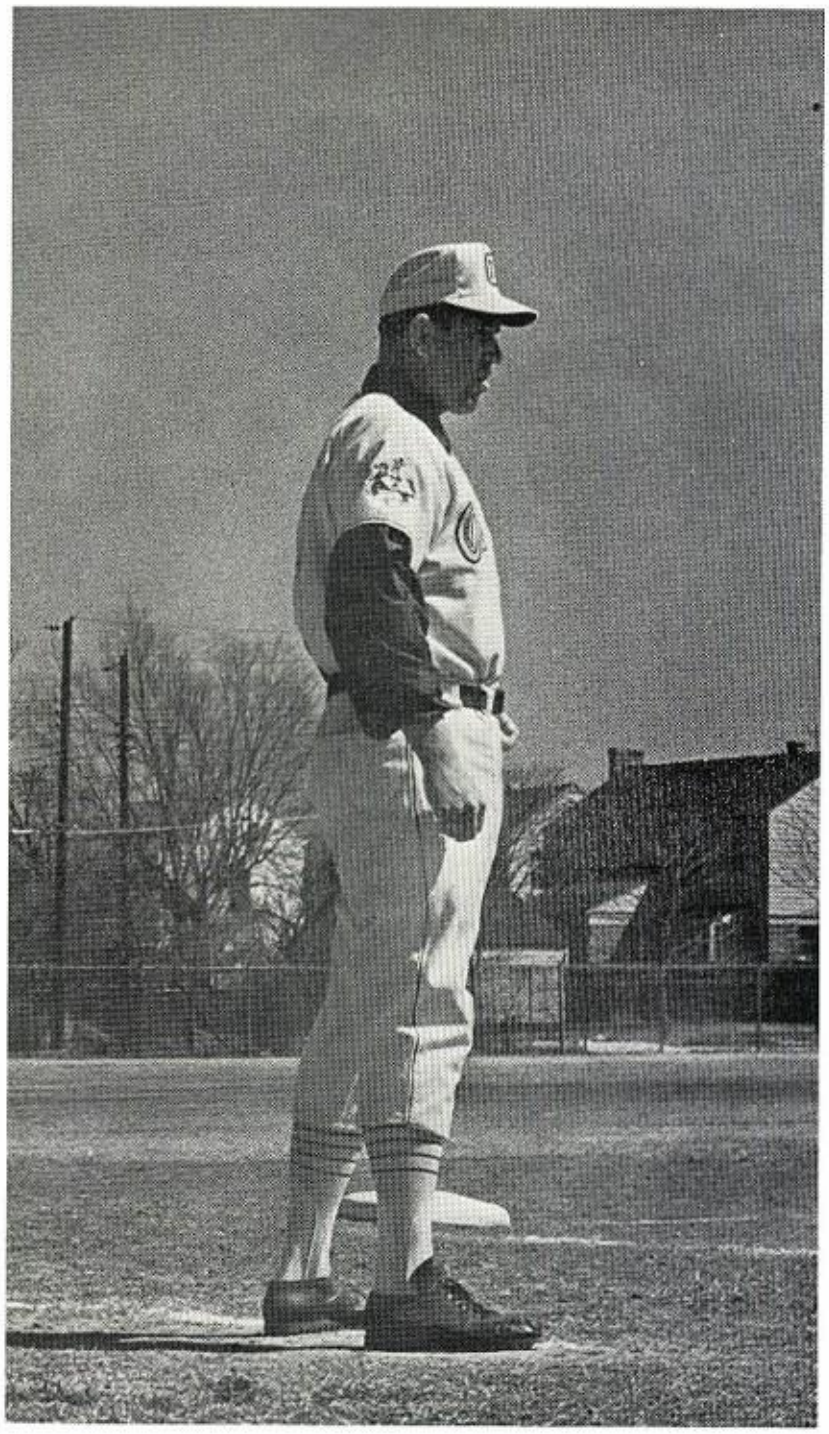
Jonny Foster and Joe Walcher reached the finals in the Wichita Falls meet. Other senior standouts were Jay Suggs, Ron Truelove, and Don Ward. Also participating were Tom Stacy, Bobby Allen, Bob McCracken, Ray Broadfoot, Alan McCarty, juniors; Dwight Nuckolls, Perry Duncan, sophomores.

"A YEAR OF IMPROVEMENT" best describes the '65 golf season. Led by juniors Mike Pulliam, Mike Fauks, and Dick Pate, golfers won 11 of 13 matches and tied one with Harding.

Linksmen won second place in the Mid-State tournament and fifth in the State Meet as Pulliam tied for low score.

The five juniors and two freshmen (Bill Powell and Mike Merchant) lettermen returning represent hope for a bright '66 season.

ADDRESSING the ball is the Knights' Number One golfer, Mike Pulliam, under the supervision of Coach Jerry Haynes. Teammates are Jack Bergman, Mike Fauks, and Dick Pate.



COACHING STRATEGY is a key factor in winning a baseball game. New Coach John Schwartz concentrates on a way to add some runs.

PROVING that executing "the split" is not only for dancers is first baseman Jim Ikard who demonstrates his elasticity.

Inexperienced Baseballers Win 10 of First 12 Games

WINNING 10 of their first 12 games, inexperienced baseballers faltered to a 17-18-1 seasonal record. They were edged in seven games by only one or two points.

For the second consecutive year, the Knights copped the Oklahoma Christian College tournament crown with wins over Southeast, Casady, and Putnam City. Also the Knights repeated as regional champions, defeating the same two teams they faced in '64, John Marshall and Grant.

A rugged schedule taxed the Varsity, which could field only four regular senior starters and two pitchers.

Led by pitchers Jim Cheatham and Bill Grimes, hitters Jim Blackburn and sophomore Frank Kellert were standouts, along with second baseman Gary Kizziar.

Cheatham and Grimes were named to the second All-City team and Grimes was an alternate All-State choice.

For the first time, three school teams in addition to the Varsity played complete schedules, posting spectacular win records.

Two "B" teams, White and Gray, and the freshman team, were coached by Mr. Treat. The Whites ended their season with 10 wins and 3 losses, climaxing their season by winning the Putnam City Invitational Tourney.

The Grays posted a 9-1 record, while the frosh finished with 7 wins and 1 loss.

TEAMMATES congratulate each other following their win over McGuinness.

TRACK TEAM—Front Row: M. Overby, B. Welch, M. Harris, L. Govin, A. Lukehart, J. Scudder, M. Mitchell, J. Bado, J. Anderson, B. Griggs, T. Payne, R. Edwards, L. Tucker, S. Competition Challenging As Track Team Rebuilds

IN ONE of the strongest years in state track history, Knight thinclads finished fifth in regional competition and sixth at the Mid-State meet. With only nine of the fourteen returning lettermen competing, support came almost entirely from sophomores and juniors.

The nine monogram winners: John Anderson, John Bado, Larry Govin, Bob Griggs, Mark Harris, Alan Lukehart, Marvin Mitchell, Jack Scudder, and Bob Welch carried the bulk of the load for Coach Rex Irwin's harriers.

Highlight of the season was the team's finish at the Lawton regional May 1, with seven cindermen qualifying for the state showdown a week later. Senior Mitchell led the assault as he placed in the 440 and mile relays.

The quarter-mile baton team of Mitchell, Anderson, Bado, and Harris finished third as did the mile-relay quartet of Mitchell, Anderson, Lukehart, and Mike Overby. Ralph Edwards also garnered a third-place medal in the grueling 880-yard run.

With twenty-seven lettermen returning for next spring's campaign, prospects look bright.

CLEARING the hurdle is junior Larry Govin, Northwest's number one low and high hurdler.
